

AUTO SMASHUP KILLS GIRL

Fire Chief's Auto Overtakes Roterund Family, Seriously Injuring Four.

One child was killed and four persons were seriously injured Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock, when a Ford car driven by Mrs. W. J. Roterund, of 416 Stewart place, collided with the automobile of assistant fire chief John T. Sullivan, at Virginia and Wyoming streets. The accident occurred while chief Sullivan was en route to Dallas and Wyoming streets, where a fire had been reported. Mrs. Roterund was en route north on Virginia street and apparently did not see the fire car until after she had stopped her automobile across the street intersection, making it impossible for chief Sullivan to pass.

Kills Girl, Injures Four. The dead: Anna Roterund, aged five years. The injured: Mrs. W. J. Roterund, fractured right leg and hip and numerous bruises; Ola Roterund, aged 12 years, fractured right leg; fireman John Drew, bruised and possible internal injuries; assistant chief Sullivan, bruises about legs and body.

Overturned Car Pins Victims. The Ford car was completely overturned by the collision. Roterund and her daughter, Ola, beneath it. They were rescued by the members of pumper company No. 1, of the Central fire department, who were following chief Sullivan's car to the fire. Anna Roterund and fireman Drew were placed in a passing automobile by chief Sullivan and hurried to hospital, while Mrs. Roterund and her daughter, Ola, were being taken in another car to the Roterund hospital.

One Girl Jumps to Safety. Evelyn Roterund, aged 10 years, who escaped with only slight bruises, called to her mother that the fire car was coming, and jumped from the Ford car. It is said that the girl was picked up about ten feet from where she had fallen. Assistant chief Sullivan, who was driving the fire car, was thrown violently against the front seat, but escaped injury by clinging to the automobile. Fireman Drew, who was pressed in tightly between the steering wheel, which bent backwards, and the seat, and was unconscious for some time following the accident.

Mrs. Roterund's Car Stops. According to chief Sullivan, it appeared as if Mrs. Roterund was endeavoring to drive ahead of the fire car prior to the accident, but she stopped in the center of the street. Fireman Drew did not slow up his machine, and chief Sullivan, who was driving the fire car, was thrown violently against the front end of the Ford machine, which was practically demolished.

Sullivan Makes Statement. Chief Sullivan's statement is as follows: "I do not remember being thrown out of the seat. One of the boys later found my cap in the street. I saw fireman Drew jump from the steering wheel, after he had been pressed against the seat. I jumped out of my car and running to the street picked up the little child, Anna Roterund, and noticed that blood was coming from her nose. I halted a passing machine, and placed the child and fireman Drew in it. I told them to drive to the hospital as rapidly as possible.

Had Pumper Extricate Family. Pumper company No. 1, which was also en route to the fire, was coming down Wyoming street and stopping at I had them yull the Ford car up, releasing Mrs. Roterund and her daughter. They were placed in the automobile and sent to hospital. It seemed when we were coming down the street as if Mrs. Roterund was going to go up Virginia street, and then she stopped directly in the street, the collision coming a second later."

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affliction," says Dr. J. W. Ray, of Houston, Ala. "Continuing he says, Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy but also to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain once the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose anti-kamnia tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours give comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia, and particularly the headaches of women.

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Obtainable at druggists in any quantity desired."

TAFT ASSERTS FEARS BASELESS

Declares Peace League Not Contrary To Spirit of Monroe Doctrine.

New York, Jan. 22.—In defense of the idea of the League to Enforce Peace, former president William Howard Taft addressed the chamber of commerce of the borough of Queens Saturday night in reply to criticisms leveled at the league by Col. Theodore Roosevelt and senator William Borah. He said: "Mr. Roosevelt objects to the league with great emphasis. It would have added to the usefulness of his criticism if he had read carefully the proposals of the league. He assumes that the league proposes that the judgments and recommendations of compromise reached shall be enforced by the league. This is a fundamental error. We may therefore dismiss further consideration of Mr. Roosevelt's objections."

Taking up the objections of senator Borah, Mr. Taft said: "He objects to the league because he says it will involve the United States in a surrender of the Monroe doctrine and in momentous obligations. I quite agree that the league will involve momentous consequences, and I also quite agree that the people of the United States ought to understand exactly what those consequences are and the burdens that they would assume."

Three Presumptive Danagers. "Senator Borah supposes three cases to show its dangers. In the first Russia and Japan, being members of the league with all the other great nations of the world, have a controversy over a matter in Manchuria. Russia refuses submission to a court of arbitration, and begins hostile attacks upon Japan. Under the league, England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and the United States would unite forces with Japan to defeat Russia's attack. The United States would have to contribute men and vessels according to some equitable proportion, and the burden of the war would be upon the United States. This is the extreme responsibility which the United States might have. But this is improbable."

With a knowledge of this union of tremendous forces against her, Russia would not be likely to violate her pledged faith. The moral effect of the league which the United States must fight the United States not be willing to run the risk of being called upon to contribute her quota in such a remote contingency in order that the power of the world may become effective without actual use of force to stop war."

The second case suggested by senator Borah is this: Mexico transfers part of her territory to Japan, and Japan takes it. Thus the Monroe doctrine is violated. The United States protests and Japan demands a submission under the league. The question is a political one. The Monroe doctrine does not involve of rest on principles of international law. It would be admitted to the commission of conciliation which would after needed time recommend a compromise. The United States, if it did not subscribe to the compromise, might honorably refuse to accept it and begin hostilities against Japan. Under the 30 treaties against the United States which are not in the 29, the United States could not even now begin such hostilities within a year. In what respect in the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine, therefore, is the United States at a disadvantage?"

No Shelter Against Punishment. "The third case suggested by senator Borah is that Argentina and a European government have a dispute and Argentina refuses to submit. If Argentina begins war against the European country, then the powers of the league must be used against her, and European forces jointly with our own will punish her for violating her pledged faith and treaty obligations. This is said to involve an abandonment of the Monroe doctrine. Why? Mr. Seward in 1856, and Mr. Roosevelt in his administration said most emphatically that the doctrine can not be used to shelter

PLANNING FOR PEORIA EXHIBIT

Commerce Chamber to Canvas Valley Formers for Fall's Products Show.

Within a few days a complete and careful canvass of the farmers, fruit growers and gardeners of the irrigated valleys in this district will be made with a view toward securing their cooperation in the matter of contributing to the exhibits of valley grown produce which will be made by El Paso county at the International Soil Products exposition at Peoria, Ill., next fall. It is being planned by the chamber of commerce of this city to make a determined effort to have an elaborate showing among the exhibits at the exposition in order to show the many farmers and others who are expected to visit the fair, just what can be and is being done in the way of produce and fruit growing in the El Paso southwest.

Letter to For Exhibit. George E. Lehman, director of the local chamber of commerce and who represents the southwest on the board of governors of the International Farm Congress and Soil Products exposition, states that the coming exposition at Peoria will be the greatest opportunity ever given El Paso to advertise what can be done here.

Commissioners May Cooperate. Inasmuch as the community as a whole will benefit from the display at Peoria, if one is made, it may be that the county commissioners will be asked to join hands with the chamber of commerce and the Water Users' associations of El Paso and Dona Ana counties in meeting the expense.

It has been roughly estimated that an exhibit, such as would be a credit to the valleys, would cost in the neighborhood of $2500. This would cover the cost of the preliminary work of causing the exhibit stuff to be grown, the gathering of it, packing and shipping, installation at Peoria, final dismantling and reshipping and the cost of expressing, daily, supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables and other perishables to replace the original stuff which naturally will grow stale.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS HAVE FORMED A NEW CLUB

Students of the high school, with literary tendencies, have organized themselves into a club and adopted the appropriate name of The Scribblers. The membership is limited to students whose work in literary composition has been accepted and printed in the Tatler, and to a few of the teachers, who are particularly interested in this line of work. The meetings will be held monthly and will be devoted to reading and criticism of stories, final essays, poems, prepared by the members. Eugene Thurston is the president of the club; Harry Ferguson is vice president, and Annie Magoffin, secretary treasurer.

CRONES IS AGAIN REPORTED SEEN; POLICE SEARCHING

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 22.—Police today were investigating a rumor attributed to friends of Jean Crones, that he attended a masquerade ball given under the auspices of the Workers' Institute of Chicago, Saturday night. Crones, a cook, is charged with poisoning the soup at a dinner given to Archbishop George W. Mundelein about a year ago, resulting in the serious illness of more than 100 guests. He has been the object of a nationwide search since.

REPUBLICANS GO OUT FOR VOTERS

Precinct Leaders Report Efforts Made To Get Poll Taxes Paid.

Reports of the work being done by precinct leaders, which were made to the Republican club at its meeting Saturday night, show that every effort is being made by local Republicans to get out the Republican vote in the coming municipal election. A personal canvass of Republicans is being made to induce them to secure poll tax receipts in order that they will not be disfranchised at the election.

Hazard Reports on His Precinct. In the checking up of precinct work P. A. Hazard, county chairman, reported that in his precinct, No. 13, he had solicited 319 Republicans to pay their poll taxes. Of this number 217 have already purchased their receipts and the remainder will do so before Feb. 1, he said. Other workers reported that they were making a house to house canvass in order to induce Republicans to pay their poll taxes.

To Meet Again Wednesday Night. At the Saturday night meeting, was purely for organization purposes, the Republicans did not take up the matter of nominating a ticket. No time has been set for the naming of candidates. Another meeting of the Republicans will be called Wednesday night to check up the work being done by the precinct committees.

Smile! and the World Smiles With You!

An Old Saying That Has Been Proved by Every One of These Triangle Stars

They Are: Upper Row, Louise Fazenda, Bessie Love, Seena Owen; Lower Row, Alice Lake, Dorothy Dalton, Clara Williams. There's a reason for every smile in the picture. Louise Fazenda has just signed a new Keystone contract. Bessie Love has heard that folks like her newest play, "The Heiress at Coffee Dan's." Seena Owen—well, Seena just smiles all day long. She's Mrs. George Walsh off the screen, and there's a very recent little addition to the Walsh family that would make any mother proud and happy. Alice Lake is getting some roles in Triangle comedies that would please an even more aspiring young comedienne than she. Dorothy Dalton and Clara Williams have been picked out by Thomas H. Ince for stellar roles in some of the biggest plays that will be produced under his supervision during the year to come. So, as anybody can see, they are six very happy girls, and young Mr. 1917 looks good to them as they welcome him to an open page in their books of achievement.
