SKINNER'S DRESS SUIT AT GRECIAN

Modern Society Play Shows How 'Wife' Aids 'Hubby' Win Fame.

"Skinner's Dress Suit," one of the most delightfully entertaining society comedy dramas ever produced, will be shown at the Grecian theater three days, beginning today.

The following criticism from the New York Telegraph will be found interesting. It might be added that without exception, every critic now reviewing motion pictures, expressed the same views as will be found in this criticism.

"If an examiner takes to an audience that prefers elegant, bright pictures with no suggestion of the eternal triangle of the sex problem, he will do well to look 'Skinner's Dress Suit.' This production is an adaptation of the story by Henry Irving Dodge, which appeared recently in the Saturday Evening Post, and has been admirably told on the screen. It is comedy of the best variety, well pitched and without a discordant note of burlesque throughout its entire length. Moreover, the cast is first class from star to supernumerary, and the historical direction coupled with fine action, has wrought a refreshingly diverting film.

"Skinner, a young man of pleasing presence, is the hero of the piece, but at the office he is known as 'the worm,' because of his humbleness and lack of self-confidence. Urged on by Jacky, who believes him to be a great success in the world, he asks for a raise in salary, which is promptly refused. Rather than confess his failure to his wife, Skinner tells her that he has been successful, supplying from his own small bank account the raise he is supposed to be getting from his employers. Honey now insists upon new dresses for herself, dress suit for Skinner and an attach upon society. With their new prosperous front they are gladly received, their success being so noticeable that Skinner's employers begin to wonder where his money is coming from.

"There lives in Chicago a former customer of theirs who has without all attempts to lure him back into the fold in order to get Skinner out of the way while his books are being examined for deficits, they send him out after Jackson, filled with a new self-respect brought on by the new clothes, Skinner begins to assert his ability, hitherto obscured by his lack of confidence. He skillfully playing upon Jackson's social aspirations, he succeeds in winning him back, and as a result gets his raise. With this his confidence increases, and at the end of the picture he takes the place he has long deserved, as partner in the business.

"Bryant Washburn's acting in the role of Skinner's aid that could be desired, and in Hazel Daly he has a most attractive leading woman."—Adv.

IN ROCKER CHAIR AND BED 2 YEARS

Mrs. Wilson gave up all hope—gains 25 pounds on Tanlac and is well and happy.

"For two years I spent all my time in the hospital, in bed or in a rocking chair, and during that time I was given up to die, and I don't guess I would be here now if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said Mrs. G. Wilson.

"I was a great sufferer from chronic indigestion," continued Mrs. Wilson, "and don't guess anybody would go through with what I did. I was very weak and nervous, and at times had those dreadful smothering sensations to the point of fainting. I had dreadful headaches, severe pains in my back and over my kidneys and my joints ached all the time. For two weeks I had to live entirely on boiled milk, toast and soft boiled eggs, and when that diet failed, I was taken to a sanitarium on my stomach. I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. I took one kind of medicine after another until our house was almost filled with empty bottles, but instead of improving I was getting worse all the time. Finally they took me to the hospital for treatment, and I lay there for five long months, but even that didn't make me well. It was taking nearly every cent of my husband's wages to pay my doctor and drug bills—our drug bill alone amounted to $100 a month, and one doctor bill amounted to $105.

"I looked nice everything had failed to help me, and I had about given up all hope. One day my husband brought a bottle of Tanlac home with him and asked me to take it. He said he had been reading and hearing a lot of good things about it, and didn't see any reason why it shouldn't help me. I was confined to my rocking chair when I began taking it.

"The day I look like an invalid now," I certainly don't feel like one, and have actually gained twenty-five (25) pounds on eleven bottles of Tanlac, and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I can eat anything I want—such things as meat, turkeys, hard-boiled eggs don't hurt me a particle, and I sleep as good as I ever did. I can go out in my tennis shoes, and I can't get about as well as anybody and just the other day I walked down town, and I am running around the neighborhood, and my friends nearly all the time now. I haven't a pain about me. I believe in the happiest woman in Atlanta, and I think I have a right to be, and think my recovery is almost a miracle, and everybody in our neighborhood thinks the same.

IMPERSONATES A RICH AUNT

Fritz Fields Makes Hit For Teal; Little Paige Girl Real Actress.

While Spud Wilson (Fritz Fields) may not possess the voice or figure of Julius Erlings, his impersonation of a rich aunt Sunday night at the Crawford theater was sufficient to create one continuous laugh for several hundred theatergoers. "My Aunt Kitty," this week's offering at the Crawford by the Raymond Teal company, is typically a Teal comedy.

Impersonates Torrono Aunt. Fields is a college yell leader, who has volunteered to play a female role in a play, when he is met by his friend, Charley Chase (Tommy Long) and asked to impersonate his rich aunt, Mrs. Kitty Alvarez, of Torrono, Mex., who failed to arrive on time. Fields agrees, and the audience is kept in continuous laughter by his clever impersonation and "humbugging" of Hiram Granger (Roy Kinnison), who is the guardian of Amy Sprague (Hazel Lake) whom Long wants to marry.

The genuine Mrs. Alvarez (Corinne Clarke) eventually appears, and a number of explanations result. Many Good Musical Numbers. The musical numbers were many and good. Miss Pansy DeLacour and the chorus received repeated applause for the second number, "Could You Love a Little Boy Like Me," while Miss Walsh and the chorus also made a decided hit in "Could You Hold a Million Girls." "On Lake Champlain," sung by a sextet consisting of Long, Hazzia and Erlings, and Misses Mammy, Bar-Roe and Vandervort, was well received. Miss Hazel Lake had two good numbers, "I Never Knew" and "Ragtime Baby."

The scenery was painted by Art Phillips, assisted by E. F. Tipton. R. R.

presented by the Andra Alden players of the Texas Grand theater Sunday night. "The Prince Chap" is a story of the artist's quarter life in London. It is capably handled by the troupe and Miss Alden. The portrayal of Claudia, the artist's ward, is especially well done. William Winterhoff as "William Ferguson" and George Burdick's character part of the English butler did most deserving work in the play. Miss Alden is well supported by her company. J. B. R.
