

MABEL NORMAND GREGIAN TODAY

With Herbert Rawlinson in Goldwyn Play, "Back to the Woods."

"Back to the Woods," in which Mabel Normand and Herbert Rawlinson will be seen at the Gregian today and tomorrow, is as breezy as the title sounds. It is chock full of laughs and thrills and the kind of romance that makes the blood tingle. It is also full of surprises, both of a sensational and humorous nature, so those who attend today will get their full measure of genuine entertainment.

Mabel Normand is herself a star of the first magnitude, and when you consider that she is supported by a player who is a big star on his own account—Herbert Rawlinson—it can be easily understood that this is not an ordinary attraction.

"Back to the Woods" will be shown just two days, today and tomorrow.—Adv.

NOTED LAWYER OUT WITH FACTS

Hon. R. W. Damon feels it duty to tell public his experience.

Business men, professional men, farmers, artisans, in fact people in all walks of life, including unfortunates who are being taken in by the "snake-oil" salesmen, are being warned by the Hon. R. W. Damon, a well-known attorney, who resides at 2712 Yakima street, South El Paso, Texas. Mr. Damon practiced his profession in the state of Ohio for thirty-five years, and has been engaged in it throughout the West. In relating his experience with snake-oil recently, Mr. Damon said:

"I feel it my duty to do whatever I can to help suffering humanity, and I am more than glad for the sake of others, to give this statement about my wonderful improvement since I began the use of Phopus. I have suffered a great deal during the past two years from indigestion and stomach trouble. I have been unable to eat, and my weight has dropped to such an extent that I could hardly breathe, and had intense pains all through my chest. Twice I was in such a bad way that I fell to the floor in an unconscious condition, and the second attack put me in such a bad shape that I had to be carried to the hospital, where I lay for thirty days. I would go for two or three nights in succession with only two or three hours' sleep, and the following day I would feel entirely worn out. I seemed to receive no benefit from my food, and was inclined to be constipated and felt unfit for anything. I, of course, doctor, and took medicines of different kinds, but got very little, if any result.

"While reading the Tacoma paper one day I came across a Tonic advertisement, given by a Denver lady, and her case was exactly like mine. So I bought the Tonic, and after taking it for about ten days, I began to feel better. I had already been almost entirely relieved of the gas and bloating, my appetite was so enormous, and everything I ate tasted so good. I have gained more than I should have gained, eleven pounds in weight already, and am still picking up. I sleep soundly every night and get up in the morning rested and refreshed. So it is Tonic has proven to be just the right thing in my case, and I gladly give others the benefit of my own experience with it." Tonic is sold in El Paso by Kelly & Ballard Co., Inc., and Postoffice Drug Store.—Adv.

Mothering The U. S. Boys

Beautiful women are really a hobby with Miss Virginia Pearson, who is now appearing in William Fox's photoplay, "Stolen Honor," at the Bijou today.

The display excited even those at the studio. It was the most beautiful ever seen there and outnumbered anything of the kind.

Motion picture followers, especially women folks, will certainly see a beautiful woman exquisitely dressed in "Stolen Honor." The picture is a very interesting one. It tells the story of a woman who is captured by the enemy and taken to a concentration camp. She is treated with great cruelty and is forced to work in the fields. Her only comfort is the love of a young man who is also a prisoner of war.

WHEN the war began The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company was ready to render instant service to the Government. It at once, on its own initiative, made the needs of the Government paramount, giving them precedence over general economic requirements, and adopted a policy of strict conservation of all its resources.

To meet all the wartime telephone needs of our territory the Mountain States System has restricted to war purposes new construction and the limited supply of material and labor, as far as possible without impairing the general service. Every bit of plant equipment has been utilized and new methods of handling traffic devised.

Each telephone user is an essential part of the system upon whose cooperation the conservation of its resources and the maintenance of good service depend.
