

Bedtime Stories For The Little Ones

UNCLE WIGGLEY LONGHAIR, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was out in his garden. It was some weeks after he had planted the seeds and the flowers and vegetables were growing nicely.

As the rabbit gentleman hopped here and there, pulling a weed now and then and digging in the dirt to make it nice and soft around the cabbage, lettuce and carrots, he heard a voice saying a song like this:

"Uncle Wiggley! Uncle Wiggley! How does your garden grow? With beans on top On the cabbage head. And kidneys out in the snow? 'Ha! Who's there?' asked the bunny rabbit gentleman as he looked over the fence.

"It is I, Grandpa Goosey Gander," was the answer. "I heard you had a new garden and I thought I'd like to see it. I could help you with your work."

"That is very kind of you," said the bunny. "I do need help to pull up the weeds. They grow almost as fast as the flowers or my beans and peas and lettuce."

"Oh, I can help you weed all right," said Grandpa Goosey Gander. "With my strong yellow hat I can pull up the weeds."

"But please be careful not to pull up any flowers or cabbage plants," begged the bunny. "First thing in a garden, it is hard to tell which are the weeds and which are the good vegetables, so be careful."

"I will," promised Grandpa Goosey. So the bunny gentleman and Uncle Wiggley went pulling up the weeds in the bunny rabbit's garden, and as they did this they talked of old times, and how they had been when they were boys on a farm.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggley was pulling up a big weed that was trying to eat the tops of the lettuce, a stone came flying over the fence and landed with a thud right on Mr. Longhaire and Grandpa Goosey.

"Ha! Who threw that?" asked the bunny, looking over the top of his pink, twinkling nose. "Perhaps it was Johnnie or Billie Brackley, one of the queerest boys," said Grandpa Goosey.

"I hardly think they would do anything like that," Uncle Wiggley said, blinking his eyes. "They are fond of playing jokes, but throwing stones isn't any fun. They wouldn't do that."

"I wonder who did it," said Grandpa Goosey, and just then a harsh and unpleasant voice cried: "You know I was coming!"

"And who are you, if I may ask?" inquired Uncle Wiggley, sort of polite like, and at the same time a bit sarcastic.

"I'm the crocodile—second cousin to the alligator," said the voice. "I came for my dinner. And with that came crawling into the garden a long-necked scaly creature, with big claws and a larger mouth, just like the alligator."

"You—your name for your dinner?" asked Grandpa Goosey, looking at the flowers and vegetables. "Why, your dinner isn't here?"

"Oh, but yes, it is," laughed the crocodile, most unpleasantly. "I can see my dinner now," and he looked very hard at Uncle Wiggley's ears. "Some in my dinner," cried the crocodile. "Some I want, and some I must have!"

"Oh, don't," shrieked Uncle Wiggley. "Who will save me from the crocodile?"

"Hush!" whispered Grandpa Goosey. "I'll play a trick on him. Leave it to me." Then turning to the crocodile, the grandfather said: "Wouldn't you like a little relish to go with your some dinner? Something green, for instance?"

"I certainly would," said the crocodile. "Yes, indeed, it is." Then pulling up those green stalks, said Grandpa Goosey, pointing to some, and the crocodile, with his claws, began pulling. But he had not pulled many green stalks before his eyes were so many tears that he began to cry! Great big drops of water came in his eyes and splashed down into the garden like rain.

HAD TO QUIT WORK ON HIS DAD'S FARM

Kept going down hill—takes Tanlac and begins to pick right up.

"I never saw anyone pick up so fast as my son John has since he started taking Tanlac," said A. McGraw, a prominent and successful farmer of Dawson, Okla., recently.

"He suffered awfully from indigestion and a general rundown condition of his system for the past six months," McGraw said. "He was going down hill all the time. He had a healthy appetite but right after eating his food would feel like a lump of lead in his stomach and it gave him as much trouble as if he had a cold. He would lose weight and he would hardly be able to do a thing. He worried a lot about his kidneys and complained of having severe pains in his side and back and sometimes he would hurt so bad he could hardly get up out of a chair."

"I read so much in the papers about the good Tanlac was doing so many people that I got some for him and started him on it. He is still on his second bottle, but he has come him a world of good and he is looking much better than he has for a long time. His kidneys don't trouble him any more and he hasn't had a pain in his side or back in some time. He has gained in weight and is stronger now, and is able to get around and do anything he wants. The indigestion don't trouble him any more and he can eat a square without any pain afterward. Tanlac is the only medicine I have bought that has been of any benefit to my son and he is so pleased with what it has done for him that he is telling all his friends about it."

Tanlac is sold in El Paso by Kelly & Pollard and by the leading druggists in practically every city, town and village in America.—Adv.

QUESTION!

If some companies have been fortunate enough to pay good dividends on single tracts of small acreage what have you a RIGHT to EXPECT from RANGER BURK?

You, of course, have a RIGHT to EXPECT a square DEAL and you KNOW that the MEN who have charge of RANGER BURK'S affairs will see that you GET IT.

You have a RIGHT to EXPECT that RANGER BURK'S DRILLING will be PROPERLY and PROMPTLY DONE because L. E. LOCKHART, himself, who has spent the greater part of his life in the OIL BUSINESS and who is a SUCCESS, will PERSONALLY supervise the work to begin in a few days.

You have a right to EXPECT a clean cut business administration because RANGER BURK'S officers are BUSINESS MEN who FINISH WHAT THEY START.

And with HOLDINGS which TOTAL 1,092 acres in FOUR OIL FIELDS—holdings that would justify a capitalization of a MILLION and a HALF instead of the $300,000.00 for which RANGER BURK is capitalized—you have a right to EXPECT BIG DIVIDENDS.

The GREAT POSSIBILITIES of RANGER BURK make it one company in a THOUSAND. The STOCK selling period GROWS SHORT—YOUR TIME IS LIMITED—RANGER BURK INVITES you NOW to buy its stock at $1.00 a share, with the proviso that the invitation may be withdrawn without NOTICE.

HEALTH AND BEST DEVELOPMENT. A READER recently wrote and asked me for some directions for chest and hand development, and I am very glad to give them. The two materials being together, for the same reasons that develop a high firm chest, will help make a firm well rounded bust.

Of course the exercise is deep breathing in some form. You can stand before an open window or out of doors and take a certain number of deep breaths every day. If you can take the deep breathing exercise in an even better way. This is to fill the lungs with as much fresh air as you can get, and then to hold them full for a certain number of seconds before exhaling. The length of time you hold the air to be held should be about 10 to 15 seconds. About half a minute is a good average.

Then there is the deep breathing and arm exercise combined. When this is for chest development, you should start by holding the arms in front of you, and as you breathe in slowly, bring the arms around to the sides and a far to the back as you can get them. I think this is really the most effective way, you can feel the pull on the muscles of the chest. It is good for round shoulders, by the way.

As you grow fatter your bust will also develop. This is not a healthy rate, you cannot become perfectly proportioned even when you weigh just what you should. Many women are naturally small framed and will stay so all their lives—but this need not worry them. You simply do not want to be both fat and of bust. Swimming is excellent for developing bust.

Questions and Answers. Nat.—Barna stamps is made by mixing one part of powdered Egyptian henna and three parts powdered castile soap. This gives enough for several shampoos. Take a large heaped teaspoonful of this and mix in a pint of very hot water. Let this mixture all over the head and let the henna stay on for ten or 15 minutes. Rinse off through three or four waters; when possible, dry in the sun.

La Belle.—You find your red and sily nose will cure itself once you have dieted down to normal weight. You see you are taking too much, and probably too much fat besides, and the stomach trouble you are having would make the nose red. Eat lightly, lots of fruit and salads and green things. This will clear up the digestive trouble. Use that cleansing powder on the nose and spray with lemon vinegar or water twice a day.

MOTHER ALL RUN-DOWN

Had to Have Health to Keep House for Four Children. Margaret Pier, R. I.—I was all run-down, back ached and tired all the time. I kept house for my husband and four children. I could hardly keep around. Finally I tried Vinol and it has restored my health and helped me to enjoy life. I recommend it to others who are in this condition.—Mrs. Hannah Bant.

There is no secret about Vinol—it owes its success to beef and cod liver oil and stercorin, the richest and most famous body-building and strength creating tonics. Kelly & Pollard, druggists and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

HOW TO GROW EARLY CABBAGE.

WHILE cabbages does not rank very high in food value, a few plants of an extremely early variety are desirable for the home garden. The seeds should be sown indoors and the plants moved to the garden about the time that danger of frost is past. Cabbage requires a rich soil, and the plants of the smaller early sorts should be set 15 inches apart in each direction for hand cultivation, or 30 inches between rows and 12 inches in the row for horse cultivation. It is a good plan to pour a little water around the roots of each plant as it is being set in the garden.

If there is danger of plants being destroyed by worms, a mass of stiff paper should be placed around the stems of each plant. Early cabbages will mature in about 60 to 75 days after setting in the garden.—United States Department of Agriculture.

"I'm Ringing Them" Is Substituted By Bell

St. Louis, Mo., April 24.—"I'm ringing them." This familiar statement of the telephone girl a moment after getting the number the party wants will no longer be heard. Instead the person calling a number will hear a ringing sound which will be a signal that the operator is ringing the party called. It will have much time for the operators, it is said.

HANDICUFFS FOR AUTOS.

Holyoke, Mass., April 24.—Chief of Police Gully has a new method of protecting automobiles from thieves. If the owner would lock half a hand-cuff around the spark and gas levers and one of the spokes of the steering wheel, he says, the car would never be stolen. It would be impossible for a thief to crack the handcuff and fitting would be too long a job.

MURDER THEORY EXPLODED.

Milford, Mass., April 24.—This city was thrown into a frenzy of excitement by the finding of a bag containing a derby hat and certain vital organs under the steps of the Milford straw shop. Medical examiner William J. Clark was summoned, and with his verdict that the bag contained the heart and liver of a dog, the folks breathed easier once more.

MAN LIVED IN TREE.

New Philadelphia, Ohio, April 23.—John Peterson, 55, known as the "tree man" because for several years he lived in a hollow tree, died at the county infirmary here recently.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Owner's Service Department.

Q. What is white gold? A. H. V. A. White gold is an alloy of gold in which silver predominates. The ratio is about 20 parts of silver to four of gold. It is used a great deal in jewelry manufacture as a substitute for platinum.

Q. Are there any detachments of the American expeditionary force composed of negro troops? W. B. A. Two divisions of negro troops were organized: the 28th and 88th Central Postal Directory, the United States and demobilized.

Q. Who first used the expression, "It's not what you eat, it's what you eat it?" E. F. A. The originator of the motto, "It's not what you eat, it's what you eat it," was probably John Dickinson (1725-1812) in his "Liberty Bells" written in 1775. The phrase was freely quoted during the Revolution, and was used by Gen. R. Morris in his speech "The Flag of Our Union."

Q. How long after discharge or release may soldiers be worn by men who were in the army? E. J. P. A. The rule is the same as that in the army. Uniforms may be worn three months after the date of discharge. The rule is the same for naval reserves. In all services uniforms may be worn at ceremonies, parades, meetings of service organization and such gatherings, even after the three months period has expired, so long as the former service man lives.

Q. What is the meaning of the word "Protestant"? S. A. "Protestant" is the name given to anti-Catholic riots in Russia. They first took place in 1811 and were organized by government officials. They originated and governmental character was partially proved by investigations and publication of secret government documents. The riots have been the direct cause of the emigration of large numbers of Jews to the United States. The word "protestant" is derived from "pro" meaning "protestant" and "testament" meaning "to protest or overture."

Q. What is an Anzio Phobia? A. V. V. A. Anyone who is violently opposed to England and everything English is called Anzio-Phobic.

Q. With whom should a person communicate concerning the personal effects of a soldier, who was killed in the recent war? J. T. H. A. Persons interested in the personal effects of soldiers should communicate with the quartermaster depot, pier No. 2, Hoboken, N. J.

Q. When are the days that are called "dog days" and how long do they last? E. E. L. A. "Dog days" is the name given to the period of from four to six weeks, variously placed between the early part of July and the early part of September. This is the hottest season of the year and is so called because it was recognized in ancient times from the rising of the dog star, "Sirius."

Q. In washing clothes, how can I prevent blue from streaking the clothes? A. L. D. A. To prevent the blue from streaking the clothes mix one dessert spoonful of soda in the bluing water.

Q. Has the United States loaned any money to Czechoslovakia? J. M. A. The United States has advanced $100,000,000 to Czechoslovakia, merely for arms, ammunition and food for the Czechoslovak forces in Siberia.

Q. Has France adopted prohibition? N. E. N. A. Only so far as alcohol is concerned. This is totally forbidden by law for all times; but distilled spirits may be sold to all except the army, while beer and high wines are only slightly restricted.

And You Wake Up With Beautiful Curly Hair!

(Turn Tattler) This is a secret that will, I know, be appreciated by my lady who dislikes the tedious and "laborious" task of twisting her locks around a heated iron, perhaps clapping the hair, heating of the ends, and distended fingers or scalp in the operation. From any dry agent procure a few ounces of pure liquid vasoline and at night pass this down the full length of the hair. A simple thing to do, but remarkably effective. The hair will have a spontaneously soft, fluffy texture, much more natural looking, smoother and looser in appearance than when a wadding iron has been used. Sometimes doesn't make the hair sticky or greasy, and there will be no trouble doing it up in any style desired.—Olga Ormsbee—447.

"The sovereign drink of pleasure and of health" COFFEE

Whether or not prohibition prevail, we shall always want—coffee

Coffee has become the most popular beverage in the world, simply because it appeals to a natural taste rather than to an acquired appetite. It serves both as food and drink.

Public opinion is now, ever was, and ever shall be strongly and emphatically in favor of coffee. It is approved by men and women everywhere—by all classes—by all America.

Coffee is the comfort and solace of the millions. It is cheering, soothing, sustaining and satisfying. Who will deny its rare charm and rich flavor? Who can resist the aroma, the "bouquet" of a fragrant cup of good coffee?

Coffee is a man's drink. A comfy, chummy, clubby drink—a social, convivial, "good-fellow" drink. Whenever men meet to dine or deliberate—there is coffee.

So, naturally, coffee is enthroned. The good old-fashioned coffee-houses are already being revived, the meeting place of the millions; where men and women, too, may find rest, refreshment, relaxation and—good company.
