

T. P. RAILROAD WILL BURN OIL

Will Erect Storage Tanks at El Paso and Other Points on Line.

Plans are under way for the early erection of a large oil storage tank by the Texas & Pacific railway on its reservation here.

The Cow Helps to Make the Best Soft Drink

Lots of new-fangled drinks are being made these days.

But no one has yet invented a beverage that beats the one which our old friend, the cow, helps to make—BUTTER-MILK.

It is more satisfying than all the new patented beverages on the market.

Why take chances with drinks. Be good to your stomach and drink cold, delicious EL PASO DAIRY BUTTER-MILK.

Forest Fires Cause of Haze Around Sun

Weather Observer Also Gives Volcanic Eruptions as Cause.

Forest fires or volcanic eruptions are blamed by H. M. Shaver, United States weather observer for El Paso, for the haze that has spread over this city and the surrounding territory the past two days.

Mr. Shaver is inclined to the belief that the forest fires in the northwest are the cause, rather than volcanoes, but the latter, he said Friday, cause a haze similar to this.

A dispatch from Santa Fe, N. M., quotes observer Charles E. Lindsey, of that station, as attributing the haze to forest fires.

Reports from east of the Mississippi river say the haze is spreading eastward. The haze is so dense around Santa Fe that the nearby mountains are only dimly visible.

over the entire road. J. F. Madden, general plumbing contractor, of Dallas, visited in El Paso Friday and Saturday and said that he had contracted with the Texas & Pacific to install necessary boilers, pumps and pipe lines, and that he will start the work of erection at New Orleans, La., and work westward.

A. J. Chester, service supervisor of the Texas & Pacific, with headquarters in Dallas, is also in El Paso looking over the properties of the Texas & Pacific railway here. He is preparing data and securing information concerning the road's operation prior to consolidation with the G. H. & S. A. under federal control.

Other shows scheduled for the Crawford for October include "China Girl," "Watch Your Step," Margaret Livingston and "Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Robson will be here with her usual good humor for three days in November, and "Friendly Enemies" are also booked for that month.

Miss Hatos is booked for the Christmas holidays and "The Bird of Paradise" and "Maytime" are scheduled for December.

The January attractions so far booked are "Oh Baby," "So Long Letter," "Seven Days' Leave," and "Fio Fio."

February will bring Chauncey O'Neil, "Oh Boy," the moving picture version of which was recently seen here; "Mutt and Jeff," "Tartar, Bedroom and Bath," and "Bringing Up Father."

Other bookings are expected during the season. These only include the advance bookings. Manager Maxwell believes he will have quite a few other attractions to add later. He may also put a stock company in the house to fill in the open time. He is now considering such a move.

NEW MEXICO BANK EXAMINER DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS. Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 23.—George H. Van Hook, New Mexico state bank examiner, died here today, after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made. Mr. Van Hook came to Santa Fe nearly 25 years ago from Toledo, where he had been a bank teller. He came west for his health and, after spending some time in tabacco, engaged in mercantile business.

He was appointed state bank examiner by governor Lindsey in January, 1917, and reappointed by governor O. A. Larrazolo.

Maxwell Cleans Up Show House For New Season

Julian Eltinge Opens the Crawford on October 1, He Says.

E. F. Maxwell and his son, Edwin, are working all day every day and part of the night every night getting the Crawford theater into shape for the new season.

Mr. Maxwell is an interior decorator by trade, so is doing the work himself.

The Texas Grand having been turned into a picture house, all shows have been booked for the Crawford for this season.

While the regular season will not open until Oct. 1, Mr. Maxwell has booked in an attraction—the Hawaiian Troubadour—for all next week. He will not have the interior decorations completed for this attraction, but there will be new carpets down in all the aisles and boxes and much of the interior decorations will have been completed. The floors have been scrubbed and repaired, and the drop curtain has been completed by Benjamin Tipton and generally the place will look much better and cleaner.

By the time the regular season opens the first of October, Mr. Maxwell will have completed his work of decorating and will have had the draperies placed about the boxes and the house generally will be transferred to the average individual will scarcely recognize it.

Unless there is a change in the booking dates, Julian Eltinge will open the season on October 1 and 2. He is now on the coast, where, as usual, he is making a big hit.

Other shows scheduled for the Crawford for October include "China Girl," "Watch Your Step," Margaret Livingston and "Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Robson will be here with her usual good humor for three days in November, and "Friendly Enemies" are also booked for that month.

FILM OFFERINGS WILL BE GOOD

This Week's Program in the "Movies" Promises Good Shows.

A fine selection of features is offered at the motion picture theaters for the coming week. The programs as submitted by the various managers follows:

At the Eltinge. Saturday and Sunday—J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Best Man." Starting Monday—Hale Hamilton in "After His Own Heart." Starting Thursday—Viola Dana in "The Microbe."

Alhambra Attractions. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—"The Undercurrent," featuring Guy Emery. Wednesday and Thursday—"The Ghost of Slumber Mountain," showing prehistoric animals moving and fighting on the screen; "Dorcas for Two," featuring Carlyle Blackwell. Friday and Saturday—"A Clouded Name," featuring John Lowell, Corone Uzal and Edward Keller.

At the Bijou. Sunday—"Redhead," Alice Brady's remarkable feature, will be the headliner at the Bijou theater today and tomorrow. This is the best picture Miss Brady has appeared in for a long time. A "Fox" Sunshine comedy, "A Tight Squeeze," will be the "kick-tickler" today.

The Universal "Current Events" reel will be shown also. All mill-mill men should see this one. It's extra good.

KERRIGAN, "THE BEST MAN." The Unique will show J. Warren Kerrigan again today and tomorrow in "The Best Man," a play in which mystery, adventure and romance are woven together in a most entertaining way. "The Best Man" is a comedy-drama and throughout the entire five reels tense scenes and situations are counterbalanced with unique humor, humorous interludes which contrast, of course, gives the picture an excellent balance.

Not Poor if You Wear Silk Hose, Court Decides

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 23.—A woman who wears silk hose should not expect to avoid court costs by suing as a poor person. If she can afford silk stockings she can pay court costs. This is the opinion of circuit judge Landwehr, who says he is making an effort to see that those who can afford to pay costs in his court do so.

The silk hose decision was made recently in the $7500 damage suit of Miss Alice Montague against Frank Kierch. The woman attempted to evade paying court costs, pleading that she was poor, although she wore silk stockings in court.

BRITAIN REQUIRES LICENSES ON MANY IMPORTS SEPT. 1. London, Eng., Aug. 23.—The board of trade has issued a long list of articles under the term "unusable key industries," the importation of which after September 1, will be permitted only by license. This list includes car tires, car accessories, optical instruments, scientific and optical instruments, hosiery, magnets and gages.

UNKNOWN MOTORIST KILLS MAN. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 23.—Lee Coplen, aged about 30 years of Colorado Springs, Colo., died today after a pistol wound inflicted, the sheriff's office says, by an unknown automobilist late last night.

MAY HOLD EXTRA SESSION TO RATIFY AMENDMENT. Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 23.—Talk of an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of ratifying the woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution is being revived.

Letters have been received at the governor's office from representatives and senators expressing their willingness to pay their own railroad fare and expenses of a one day session to be called for the purpose of ratifying the essential woman's suffrage amendment.

The average woman office clerk in London gets a salary of from $5 to $7 a week, while girls running elevators earn on an average of $3 a week.

Breakfast Food Aids In His Campaign. Steubenville, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Notice candidates.

Here is the way a Steubenville candidate for office did it and here is how he figured: He purchased enough packages of breakfast food to go around and then had his card placed thereon. They were passed from door to door. He figured that when the family ate the corn flakes, they would at least feel kindly toward him.
