

TODAY'S PRICES.

Wheat, No. 2, 1.10; No. 3, 1.05; No. 4, 1.00; No. 5, 95c; No. 6, 90c; No. 7, 85c; No. 8, 80c; No. 9, 75c; No. 10, 70c; No. 11, 65c; No. 12, 60c; No. 13, 55c; No. 14, 50c; No. 15, 45c; No. 16, 40c; No. 17, 35c; No. 18, 30c; No. 19, 25c; No. 20, 20c; No. 21, 15c; No. 22, 10c; No. 23, 5c; No. 24, 0c.

LATEST NEWS BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

SINGLE COPY, FIVE CENTS

EL PASO, TEXAS, TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 3, 1920.

DELIVERED ANYWHERE, THE MONTH

14 PAGES TODAY

HOME EDITION

WEATHER FORECAST: 22 to 28; and 28 to 32; New Mexico, fair with light to moderate; Arizona, partly cloudy; temperature moderate.

ECONOMIC CRISIS
FARMERS SAY
FARMERS SAY

Crash Due as Inevitable
Result of Inflated
Living Costs.

FARMS UNABLE TO GET LABOR

Ex-Service Men Swarm to the Cities to Obtain Higher Wages.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—An economic crash is coming as an inevitable result of the high cost of living, increased demand for more wages and less hours of labor, scarcity of farm labor and diminished production of foodstuffs.

City folk need to be more concerned than farmers. There is no "mirac" remedy for the agricultural citizenry of the United States. The word was used in analyzing the 40,000 answers given last week to the questionnaire of the department of agriculture, but there is widespread dissatisfaction and growing distress over the economic situation in which the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals Big Part.
T. C. Altkisson, Washington representative of the National Grange and secretary of the National Grange conference, analyzes the present state of city and rural interests and his explanation is all the more interesting because he believes congress can prevent an economic crisis because of blame the city workmen for refusing to sell his services for less than he can get in the city.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Reveals, incidentally, a big fact, namely that the United States has not established its economic equilibrium since the war. The fact is that the labor market is rapidly changing. It is not going to be a "mirac" remedy for the economic of these reconstruction days is traveling.

Sons Of Ex-Kaiser
Demanded For Trial

Former Crown Prince Heads List Whose Extradition Allies Will Ask for War Crimes; Others Include Von Bethmann-Hollweg, Von Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Von Mackensen and Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

PARIS, France, Feb. 3.—The list of Germans accused by the allies of war crimes and whose extradition is to be demanded is headed by former crown prince, Frederick William and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

Included in the list are Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German imperial chancellor, and Field Marshal Erich Ludendorff, formerly first quartermaster general, field marshal and commander in chief of the German army, and Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria; the duke of Wurtemberg and a number of other princes and nobles.

The draft of the note to be sent to Germany with the list of persons whose extradition is to be demanded by the allies was approved by the council of ambassadors today. The note also demands the extradition of the crown prince, Frederick William, and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

The terms of the proposed response were considered last night and will be further taken up at the next meeting of the council on Friday. It is expected, however, that a decision will be reached on that day as the different governments interested must be consulted.

The request of Poland for arms and supplies was under consideration for some time today by the council. It was not decided whether or not the help of this kind would be supplied to the Polish government.

The council also discussed the refusal of Holland to accede to the allied demand for the extradition of former crown prince, Frederick William, and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

The council also discussed the refusal of Holland to accede to the allied demand for the extradition of former crown prince, Frederick William, and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

The council also discussed the refusal of Holland to accede to the allied demand for the extradition of former crown prince, Frederick William, and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

The council also discussed the refusal of Holland to accede to the allied demand for the extradition of former crown prince, Frederick William, and several other sons of the former German emperor. The list will be handed to baron Kurt von Lersner, the German representative here, this afternoon.

Woman, Helpless Cripple, Blessed
By 'Miracle Man,' Arises From Altar
Unassisted And Walks Down Aisle

A WOMAN, helplessly crippled, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

The woman, who is helpless and unable to walk, was carried to the altar last night at St. Clement's Episcopal church Tuesday morning by her stalwart son to receive the blessing and healing touch of the "miracle man" who has been making a name for himself in the city.

SECY. DANIELS DENIES REVEALS SINS
AS PARTIAL

Claims Admiral Failed To Recognize Merits Of Wilson

DEMANDS TEST
OF SEAMANSHIP

Says Service In Facing Peril, Not Rank, Deserves Glory

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Personal differences developing between rear admiral William S. Sims and admiral Henry B. Wilson, former commander of American naval forces off the French coast, were followed by the resignation of admiral Wilson's name from the list of officers recommended for medals by the admiralty, according to a dispatch received here today by secretary Daniels.

Admiral Wilson's resignation was in minor posts for distinguished service medals and other fine officers under his command for the same honor, said Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

When the history of the war is written, admiral Wilson's service will stand out as that of a hero, says Mr. Daniels. He omitted that distinguished admiral who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, rear admiral Wilson, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

MEXICO TO RELEASE
FORT BLISS AVIATORS
CAPTURED IN SONORA

Two Officers Forced to Land Far South of the Border.

Details of American Harships Told by Fall Hearing Witnesses.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 3.—Lieut. G. L. Usher and L. M. Wolf, of the Twelfth aero squadron, of El Paso, who yesterday afternoon made a forced landing 15 miles south of Nogales, Sonora, which town is 75 miles south of Douglas, this morning were at the hearing of the Mexican authorities at Nogales. However, their imprisonment is merely technical and they are being treated with the greatest courtesy.

The two aviators spent last night in the office of Francisco M. Peraza, graduate municipal of Nogales, where a bed was provided for them. This morning governor Adolfo de la Huerta, who is in the city, ordered the two aviators to proceed with the plane being guarded 15 miles south of Nogales, and make a further report on the entire matter.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

When the two American aviators landed in Mexico yesterday afternoon they were on route from El Paso to Nogales. According to their statement made after the landing, their compass had failed and they were practically blind when they took the air. They were seen first in Mexico at Fort Bliss, where they were captured by Mexican soldiers.

Pershing's Vist Made As A
A Think More n erms of Americanism