A New Ruling of the Post Office Department.

The postal officials at Washington, D. C., have just ruled that a subscription to any publication MUST BE DISCONTINUED when the time for which it is PAID IN ADVANCE expires.

Subscribers who are in arrears must pay up to date and in advance within the next few days or we shall be forced by this ruling to strike from our books the names of all who are in arrears.

This matter is entirely beyond our control. The postal authorities have us at their mercy for a time, and we must obey their mandates or be excluded from the mails, which means to us a very severe loss.

Pay up your arrearage, if behind, and pay in advance and THE DAWN will be delivered to you if we have to employ a carrier.

To Change the Board.

"While I have nothing one way or the other to say at present," said Gov. McBride on Thursday, "concerning the heads of the different departments, I am free to admit that a change in the political complexion of the board of control is necessary in order that I act without embarrassment. While the law makes it necessary that the board be non-partisan, with at least one democrat on it, the present political makeup of two democrats would seriously embarrass me. The governor of the state is held responsible by his party for the manner in which he conducts the state institutions. To conduct them to my party's best interests with a board of the present political complexion would be absurd."

Struck Oil.

WHATCOM, Jan. 5.—A Ledger correspondent visited the oil well of the Pacific Oil Wells company at Happy Valley this afternoon and investigated the reported oil strike. The driller was interviewed and stated: "At 3:30 yesterday afternoon the drill broke through shale and stuck. It took twenty minutes to free the drill. The drill was brought out, the bailer run down and the hole bailed out, large quantities of oil being brought up. We became convinced we were so close to a large body of oil that we decided it would not be safe to drill further until preparations could be made for taking care of the oil when it should come."

This afternoon Mr. Spike had the drill inserted and drilled a few minutes. The drill was then withdrawn and the bailer run down. Large quantities of oil were brought up. The odor of gas was very pronounced.

The company is so convinced that a large body of oil is close at hand that drilling will be suspended until preparations can be made for taking care of the flow.

In spite of the stormy weather hundreds of people visited the well this afternoon and witnessed the operations.—Tacoma Ledger.
