Reply to Mr. Maxey.

NORTH YAKIMA, Jan. 15, '02. EDITOR DAWN:—I would like the privilege of answering Mr. S. W. Maxey's letter of Dec. 25th, 1901, through your paper.

In the first place, I was asked by Mr. Bartholet to do the work. I did it, as he had an offer for his apples, provided they were first-class and free from pests. Now, I think it would have been very unkind for me to refuse an old friend and neighbor such a small favor, which I did gratis, and I hereby extend Mr. Maxey an invitation to come to Yakima county and inspect all his friends' and neighbors' fruit on the condition that I inspected fruit in Kittitas county. But I saw an orchard on the west side of the river that needed somebody to inspect it, but it was none of my business and I am not in the habit of attending to other people's duties, as I am kept busy with my own. But if any horticultural inspector in the state of Washington has any new ideas or methods for obnoxious pests, I would gladly give them a fair trial and thank the sender. I have only one design and that is to promote the welfare and general good of the orchardists of the whole state, regardless of section.

ORLANDO BECK.

Mining.

The U. S. Co-operative Mining Syndicate met in City Clerk Sayles' office Wednesday evening and transacted business. Those present threw energy and enterprise into the work and evinced a desire to demonstrate their faith in the proposition in hand. The following officers were re-elected: M. Bartholet, president; F. D. Schneble, vice-president; Geo. Sayles, secretary-treasurer; M. F. Mayer, general agent, and J. B. Davidson, attorney.

An advisory board consisting of the following stockholders was elected: Peter Garvey, J. G. Boyle, S. P. Whipple, John Bartholet, Dr. Otto Klug, Sam Pearson, J. B. Davidson, F. A. Home, R. A. Turner, Wm. Smith, D. J. Patterson, R. Lee Purdin, Fred Hawn, W. M. Kenney and M. J. Fogarty.

Seven hundred new blocks of stock to constitute series "B" are to be placed on the market as soon as series "A" has been exhausted. This new series "B" is to be sold at $25 per block in shares of four per block. The syndicate has sold over 100 blocks at $25 per block, the present price 24 shares at $25 and only 200 blocks remain to be disposed of and they will go like hot cakes. Those who desire stock should not delay, but get in on the ground floor and help develop a mining industry in our midst that all will feel proud of. Ask for circulars describing object and plan of action.

For Sale.

I have eighty acres of land for sale, eight miles east of town; land nearly all in hay. For particulars enquire at this office, or of Louie Larson.

Came to my place, 4 miles southeast of Ellensburg, about three months ago, one bay gelding about three years old, unbroken, branded with a laying H on both hind legs. Owner will call prove property, pay charges and remove same, or it will be sold.

G. A. SHALLENGER.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

A Valuable Work.
The Ellensburg DAWN last week published its annual souvenir, an elegant and exceedingly well printed and valuable showing of the prosperous county of Kittitas. Judging by the amount of advertising displayed in its pages, Bro. Turner's constituency must appreciate a good thing, and our esteemed contemporary has something left to pay the cost of his splendid illustrated edition.—Chelan Leader.

Will Be Preserved.
The Ellensburg DAWN essayed the unusual in its holiday offering, and with marked success. Instead of the ordinary form it was printed on fine paper in magazine shape. The ink used was blue, seeming to bring out the cuts and matter clearly. The magazine consists of fifty-six pages, between covers of delicate green. It is a valuable compendium of industry, while its biographical element is very interesting. The advertising speaks well for the public-spiritedness of the DAWN'S constituents. This copy will be preserved as a souvenir in many a Kittitas home.—Tacoma Daily Ledger.

Neat and Complete.
We are in receipt of the New Year Souvenir of the Ellensburg DAWN, which is a very neat and complete history of Kittitas valley and Ellensburg.—Prosser Record.

Special Edition.
A special souvenir edition of the Ellensburg DAWN appeared last week, and was something in which the citizens of that town may justly take pride.—Walla Walla Argus.

Highly Appreciated.
The annual souvenir of the Ellensburg DAWN is at hand, in the shape of a pamphlet giving valuable information on the industries and resources of Ellensburg and Kittitas valley. Aside from this feature of the book it contains valuable historical data, and will doubtless be highly appreciated by the residents of Ellensburg.—Yakima Herald.

Interesting History.
We have received the Ellensburg DAWN SOUVENIR of 1901, and it is an interesting history of Ellensburg and Kittitas county, Washington. It is gotten out by in the finest style of the art preservative. Evidently Robt. A. Turner, the author and publisher, is entitled to great credit. We are glad to note the evidence of Bob's ability and prosperity, for we have always maintained that Bob Turner was a good man and deserved success.—Butler (Mo.) Republican-Press.

To Fight Pests.
Orlando Beck, the fruit inspector of Yakima county has strict orders from the state inspector to put in at least nine months during this year fighting pests. Surely the fruit pests must be very bad in Yakima county. The farmers and fruit growers of the Kittitas valley ought to feel very proud of the fact that their orchards are not infected and take especial precaution to see they do not become so.

Blown to Atoms.
