State Republican Platform.

Four years ago, the Republicans of Washington met to mourn over universal calamity and despair under democratic rule. Today we meet to rejoice over universal prosperity and happiness under Republican rule. Democratic theories became dangerous when coupled with political power; and they are not improved by a mongrel mixture of free silver and populist vagaries. They can be rendered harmless only by maintaining Republican rule in the nation, state, and county; and to such maintenance we pledge our strongest effort.

We are proud of President McKinley and endorse his able, fearless and patriotic administration. We rejoice that he is again our standard bearer and will continue to be the honored chief of a prosperous and happy people. He has fully redeemed the ante-election pledges of his party. Under his leadership protection and reciprocity have again been restored to their proper place in a public law; the Hawaiian Islands have become part of the Union; Spain has been compelled to lift her heavy hand from off the Western hemisphere; Cuba has been made free; Puerto Rico is happy under our flag; the Philippines are rapidly learning to appreciate and accept that kind of liberty which is known and understood only by the American people; our army and navy have been ably sustained; the honor of our flag has been sustained at home and abroad; the Democratic heresy of free silver has been put to sleep by a Republican congress, and the gold standard has been reaffirmed in the most positive and satisfactory manner; our country has been made better than ever before, and better than that of any other nation on earth; the annals of prosperity have driven away the clouds of despair and the civilized world acknowledges and applauds the glory and honor which have crowned the nation. This record ought to be satisfactory to every patriotic American.

We congratulate the country upon the nomination of Gov. Roosevelt for vice president. He has contributed much to the success and glory of the first term of President McKinley, and will add both strength and honor to the next.

We endorse the Republican national platform adopted at Philadelphia, and commend it to the voters of this state as an able exposition of Republican doctrine and of correct public policy. We unreservedly endorse and approve the work of Senator Addison G. Foster and Congressman W. L. Jones and F. W. Cushman, who, by their indefatigable efforts in behalf of the state, have proven themselves more

Wrinkles Come

To many a face which should still be smooth and fair. Worry doesn't bring them. There are no cares and uncertainties to furrow the face. They are the result of physical suffering, graven by the of Pain. It is the saddest result of the diseases which affect the womanly organs that they write plainly the sad record of suffering on the face and form. The skin becomes sallow, the cheeks are sunken, the eyes look dull, the body falls away. No woman who values her health or good looks should neglect to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the womanly organs. It cures irregularity, inflammation, ulceration, and female weakness. It lights up the eye, brightens the complexion, and rounds out the sunken curves of the body.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weakness," writes Mrs. Susannah Permenter, of Paula Store, Shelby Co., Texas. "I was troubled with bearing down in my back and hips six years, and I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. I tried his 'Favorite Prescription' and six bottles cured me. I feel like a new person, and I thank Dr. Pierce for my health. Life is a burden to any one without health. I have told a great many of my friends about the great medicines I took."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 31 cents for cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The North Carolina Amendments.
In reply to an inquiry regarding the amendments in several of the Southern states, the Tacoma News prints the section which disfranchises the negro vote. Section 4 of the North Carolina imposes certain educational qualifications with which no believer in the dignity of the electoral franchise can find any fault. Republican criticism is directed against section 5 which reads as follows:

"Section 5.—No male person, who was on January 1, 1867, or at any time prior thereto, entitled to vote, under the laws of any state in the United States wherein he then resided and no lineal descendant of any such person, shall be denied the right to register and vote at any election in this state by reason of his failure to possess the educational qualifications prescribed in section 4 of this article."

This is what is known as the "grand father clause," and is borrowed from Louisiana. Its purpose is obvious. The negroes of the South were not entitled to vote on the 1st day of January, 1867, or at any time prior to that date. The whites of the Southern states who had been in rebellion were at that date in the enjoyment of their restored citizenship and exercise of the franchise. The fifteenth amendment was not proclaimed until January 5, 1860, which reads:

"The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

The right to vote is not an incident of citizenship and was not conferred upon the former slave by his emancipation, or by the thirteenth or fourteenth amendments to the constitution. Section 5 of the North Carolina amendment therefore exempts from the educational restrictions of section 4 all white men who had a vote or whose lineal ancestors had a vote in any state of the Union on January 1, 1867 while it fails to save the vote of any illiterate negro. Accordingly the amendment "hits" the illiterate white, and therefore is repugnant to the constitution of the United States and to the expressed view that the law should treat all men alike, both black and white.

Enduring Death's Agonies.
Only a roaring fire enabled J. M. Garretson, of San Antonio, Tex., to lie down when attacked by Asthma, from which he suffered for years. He writes his misery was often so great that it seemed he endured the agonies of death; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption wholly cured him. This marvelous medicine is the only known cure for Asthma as well as Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. V. Study Of The Democratic Ticket.

There has been opportunity to study the make-up of the fusion ticket nominated by the Seattle convention, and the only conclusion to be reached is that as a whole it represents very mediocre ability. For the most part the candidates are men with little or no experience in public life, and chosen as they were after the usual unseemly dicker between three organizations, each anxious for place, it is not surprising that the selections are not the best that could have been made.

As for the governor, it is enough to say that his administration has not met with the favor of the parties which placed him in power, and prior to the convention he was distinctly repudiated by the voters of both organizations to which he owed elevation to his present position. His renomination did not come as a reward for public duty faithfully performed, but appears to have been the result of skillful and unscrupulous convention maneuvering and a recourse to methods that are offensive to all people who believe in clean politics.

Mr. Ronald, one of the nominees for congress is an estimable gentleman in many respects, but it is doubtful if nature ever intended that he should essay to grace the national halls of legislation. He has held office in the past, but as yet no one has been accused of asserting that he was a success as a public servant. His career as mayor of Seattle fills a page in a book that many do not care to have opened. Aside from the wretched dishonesty during his administration, in which, however, he was not personally involved, he was unequal to the tasks imposed upon him. No one thought for a moment of assailing his personal qualities of heart, but in the majority of his fellow citizens minds it was demonstrated that, however high his character might be, he was not cut out for the public service.

As for Mr. Robertson, who was also nominated for congressional honors, the state cannot afford to have him represent them. Above all else the people of this commonwealth believe in the supremacy of the law, and it might as well be known here and now that they will not tolerate the suggestion of sending to Washington a man who has enlisted in the cause of dynamite, riot and outlawry. No one may care to criticize Mr. Robertson for his professional connection with the Coeur d'Alene miners trials, but the people of this state will take good care to see that one, who has a private citizen, preaches lawlessness and disrespect for the authority of the government is repudiated at the polls.

The nominations for the supreme bench are weak. It is hardly possible that the people have reached the conclusion that the state court should be made up of justices with the peculiarities that distinguish Judge Winsor. Whatever his early legal training may have been, his later habits of thought have been such as to unfit him for the duties of a just and important judge. He is embittered of spirit, steeped in prejudices and biased in his notions of property rights.

The gentlemen named for the other offices are for the most part unknown throughout the state. A few have served the state in some capacity. Mr. Runner, candidate for treasurer, has been a member of the state senate and it is not out of the order to credit him with the honor of being the only reform member of that body in '97, who voted in favor of the measures promised in the fusion platform.

The nomination of Gov. Rogers seems to have been a deeply purchased victory for those who procured it by means so shady that even the convention denounced them formally. Indeed those extraordinary resolutions of censure were but a feeble expression of the anger and disgust that prevailed among the delegates when they left Seattle. A large number of them departed not only declaring they would never support the ticket but openly wearing Frink badges. A dispatch from Olympia tells of the utter disgust of Thurston county people over the slap that was administered to them. There was no demonstration, no welcome, not even a cheer to celebrate the return of the governor. There is open revolt all along the line, against the man and the methods he represents.

The above from the P. I. is so true that it is published for the benefit of our readers.—Centralia News (Dem.)

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Washington Letter.
(From our regular correspondent.)
Washington D. C., Sept. 9, 1900
President McKinley's letter of acceptance of the republican nomination for President is a masterly statement of what has been accomplished by the republican party under his administration. There is not a weak or halting sentence in the letter. It meets every issue of the campaign and demolishes every argument that has been put forward by the Bryanites in opposition to any policy of the administration, including that of expansion, which the Bryanites are trying so hard to persuade the country in the face of absolute knowledge to the contrary to accept as imperialism. If that letter were the only state paper written by President McKinley, it would alone give him the right to a place in the front rank of America's greatest statesmen. If any intelligent American has any doubt of how he should vote, a careful perusal of that letter will convince him that there is only one way to vote to insure a continuance of our present prosperity, and that is for McKinley and Roosevelt.

Hon. G. E. Roberts, Director of the Mint, who has just returned from a trip to the Middle West said: West of the Mississippi river, the drift is decidedly to the republicans. Democratic talk of carrying Minnesota is entitled to no weight. They will not come within fifty thousand votes of it. The Dakotas are both republican and Kansas is considered safe. I have confidence that this drift our way, which is so apparent in all the West, will be found to be prevalent in Nebraska also, although that is a state in which populism is well seated. It is hardly to be expected that Illinois will give as large a republican majority as it did four years ago.

There is a likelihood that it will settle back toward the ordinary republican majority, but there is no reason to doubt that it will be ample for practical purposes.

Senator Daniel, of Va., is one of the few men who doesn't let his partisan wishes destroy his private judgment. Publicly he talks as confidently of Mr. Bryan's election as any of the rainbow chasers, but he is quoted as having said privately in Washington: "I can not see that Bryan has more than a fighting chance, but of course, we are bound to make the most of that. The probabilities seem to me largely favorable to McKinley's election."

The democrats are making many ridiculous claims, none more so than their alleged exception of carrying Minnesota. Capt. Henry A. Castle, Auditor for the Post Office Department, who has been active in every campaign in that state for the last thirty-four years, and who was connected with the republican state Central Committee, as Chairman or Secretary for more than ten years, has recently from a visit to the state. He said of political conditions there: "Minnesota is as likely to go for Bryan this year as Vermont is, and not a particle more so. It would be just as responsible for us to claim Mississippi as it is for the democrats to claim Minn. There is not the slightest indication of any land slide or political upheaval this year in Minnesota. The republicans have thorough precinct organization, and are advised every day at the central headquarters of all local movements. The reports up to last week, when I left there, were constantly more encouraging. The several republican Congressmen from Minnesota have all been renominated, and each of them will be elected without any question. There can be no trouble about the state ticket or the legislature, which will re-elect Senator Knute Nelson, next winter. Minnesota has had but one democratic governor in forty years, and that is sufficient. It has never cast a single democratic electoral vote since the state was admitted to the Union, and it is not likely to commence that folly now."

A fraud order has been issued by the Post Office Department against L. D. Bass, and two alleged concerns conducted by him in Washington-The American Teacher's agency and the American Civil Service College, one used to collect fees for securing school teachers places, and the other for securing government positions.

Gen. Chaffee has made new admirers by his unselfishness in recommending that Col. A. S. Daggett, be appointed to the vacant Brigadier Generalship in the regular army, caused by the retirement today of Gen. Joe Wheeler, for good judgment and gallantry in the Chinese campaign. It had been understood that that this vacancy would be given to Gen. Chaffee, but his own recommendations may get it for Daggett, who may then be retired, which would give the President an opportunity to promote Chaffee also. Gen. Chaffee has been ordered to hold his troops in readiness to leave Pekin at any time.

After Ten Years.
After ten years the populist party in the State and nation has been swallowed up by the democracy. Just a little less than ten years ago at Ocala, Fla., the farmers alliance was instituted. At first the membership could include only farmers or farm laborers, mechanics, country preachers, country teachers, country doctors, and editors of strictly agricultural papers. They demanded abolition of national banks, establishment of sub-treasures where money was to be loaned by the government at 2 per cent on farm products, etc.; the increase of the per capita to not less than $50; no trading in "futures" and penalties for such trading; free and unlimited coinage of silver; no alien ownership of means of communication and transportation, and the popular election of United States senators.

At that time the alliance was composed of a few farmers, labor agitators and some lawyers. The leaders said that the only salvation of the nation was by organizing a new political party. At Omaha, July 4th, '92 they instituted that party. The same year it got over a million votes. That was a good start, but today the populist party lies so low that none remain to do it reverence.

As a national institution it forestalled the action of the democratic party by nominating the democratic candidate for president. It nominated Towne for vice president under the hope that the democrats might also name him, and with an understanding that if the latter didn't happen Towne would withdraw. This has been carried out, and the populist vote is to go for the candidates of the democratic party both in state and nation.

In our own state the populists were threshed off the earth by the democrats in the union convention of the futurists. Fully two-thirds of the nominees of the democrats are democrats. The democrats took the party name. They took the governor by renominating Rogers, who announced his stand for the democracy some six months ago. The democrats nominated both congressmen by putting up Ronald and Robertson. They took everything else in sight that was worth the having.

How do the men in the late lamented peoples' party who used to be sincere republicans and who joined the peoples' party with high and lofty purposes like the way in which their organization has been loaded at last into the democratic band wagon? The whole plan of campaign covered but ten years of time and was instituted and carried out in such a coarse way that any man ought to be able to see that it was a put up job from start to finish to wean away a lot of republican strength from the grand old party and finally herd it into the democratic camp.

This being the case is it any wonder that thousands of populists are coming back this fall? They refuse to be delivered by the crafty politicians and will line up for McKinley and Roosevelt.—Bee-Nugget.

A Word to Mothers.
Mothers of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The greatest success that has attended its use in the treatment of colds and croup has won for it the approval and praise it has received throughout the United States and in many foreign lands. For sale by C. V. Dunbar.

As usually treated a sprain will disable the injured person for three or four weeks, but if Chamberlain's Pain Balm is freely applied a complete cure may be effected in a very few days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by C. V. Dunbar.
