The Celebrated

Lorain Range

We now have the wireless telephone and many other marvelous inventions and last but not least is the LORAIN RANGE. All steel body, polished steel top, six-holes, with or without hot water heater, built like a locomotive for wear but light and beautiful. The great secret of the LORAIN is the construction. It is built so that the entire heating and baking departments are surrounded by dead air space. This not only requires a very small amount of fuel, but produces the same effect in baking that is given by the brick oven. This is not a high priced range, but is within the reach of all who are in need of a good range. Come in and let us show it to you.

HERE AND THERE ON THE CURB

I. L. Stoner of Okanogan, was among the arrivals Friday last.

M. Lauber, the Loomis capitalist, was in Oroville Tuesday.

Geo. A. Blackwell, of Riverside, was in town for the week end.

H. B. Smalley, of Ciesaw, was a visitor in town Friday last.

Jas. E. Forde came in from Spokane Saturday on a business trip.

More people are hunting for houses this week with no houses to find.

Ty Bromlow and wife, of Tonasket, were registered in town Friday last.

Considerable grain is being hauled into town and delivered at the warehouses.

School opened again Monday after a vacation of a week with a full attendance.

N. E. Whitworth, banker of Okanogan, was in Oroville over Monday on business.

Judge C. H. Neal, of Oroville, was in town on business Tuesday.—Tonasket Times.

W. B. Brassfield and daughter, Elaine, went to Oroville Saturday. Molson Leader.

J. M. Mills, one of the early birds who settled in Loomis, was a visitor in Oroville Tuesday.

Dr. D. H. Lewis is off on a short vacation into British Columbia, mingling business with pleasure.

H. W. Silke, the contractor, came over from Colville Monday, returning home Tuesday morning.

Dick Buttler and C. C. Hedger have the thanks of the editor's family for recent presents of game.

Mrs. A. Wickersham, of Oroville, was the guest of Mrs. Ed Bennett Wednesday.—Molson Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hamisch left for Seattle Saturday on a business trip to be absent several days.

Geo. H. Ellis and Jas. E. Forde are in town from Spokane looking after their landed interests in this locality.

Do not overlook the Halloween dance to be given by the Altar society next Friday evening, October 29.

The band is back of a dance to be given in the Orpheum this Friday evening. It will be joy unconfined, etc.

E. P. Wheeler, the old time Conconully mining man, arrived in Oroville Tuesday evening on his way to the outside.

W. C. Gresham, at Okanogan attorney, spent two or three days in Oroville during the past week on legal business.

E. N. Grubb, proprietor of the Hotel de Grubb, left for Spokane on a business trip Wednesday, to be gone a few days.

Henry Armstrong, of Spokane, traveling for the reliable old house of Holley, Mason & Co., spent Sunday in Oroville.

Let all the business men get out this afternoon and attend the football game, thus encouraging the boys to do their best.

Frank M. Dallam, Jr., who of late has been trying his hand at the life insurance game, came in Monday to visit his parents, and may spend the winter in Oroville.

Geo. H. Keith, architect of the improvements being made in the Covert block, came up from Okanogan Friday last, and remained a few days watching construction.

Many strangers are coming into Oroville, and while there is not much movement in real estate, all who look over the valley are very much pleased with the country and people are bound to come in and settle as they come to learn of the fertility of the soil and the possible future of the country.

The Omak and Oroville football teams go together on the local grounds this afternoon. As the teams are pretty well matched as to weight the game ought to be interesting.

Only a combination smoker and passenger car is now being run over the line from Spokane, travel on that route not being great enough to justify an extra passenger car.

Lee Rhoden, of Loomis brought his wife over to the Oroville hospital Tuesday for medical treatment. Mrs. Rhoden is not seriously ill, and will soon be well enough to return to her home.

The Hamisch removal sale will continue on for a short time longer until the stock is removed to the new brick block. The wise buyer will make the best of the opportunity presented while this sale is on.

Messrs. McMahan and Mallory returned from their deer hunt Friday last. They had plenty of experience hunting, but very little luck getting game. The expedition was so barren that they did not even see a deer track.

Bob Abbott left Wednesday for Oroville where he has accepted a position as night clerk at the Hotel de Grubb. Bob's many friends regret to see him leave Molson, but wish him success in his new location.—Molson Leader.

The dance this Friday evening at the Orpheum is for the benefit of the band. The music will be an attraction in itself, and as the proceeds go to a very worthy object the attendance should be limited only to the capacity of the hall.

An exchange has been boasting of a 17 pound cabbage. The Oroville Commercial Company's store window is decorated with a number of cabbages that weigh from 18 to 23 pounds, and the cabbages of the valley have not yet reached their full growth.

Dr. O. C. Nelson has about completed the installation of his dental equipments in his quarters on the ground floor of the Hotel de Grubb, in a room fronting on Main street. The doctor has one of the best and most modern appointed offices in the northwest.

W. E. Grant, the Loomis attorney, came over to Oroville Tuesday, returning home Wednesday. Mr. Grant has lived in Loomis for a number of years, where he has enjoyed a very good practice. He thinks that Oroville has a splendid future, and we should not be surprised if he decided to settle here some day.

The smiling face of C. J. McKinzie is again seen behind the register of the Hotel de Grubb, and the traveling public is glad to greet Mack in his old position. He has been so long connected with the Peerless hotel and the Hotel de Grubb that things seem out of joint when he is not around the premises of the big house of entertainment.

Several people have been inquiring for houses at this office during the past week. The supply of habitations is far short of the demand, and there seems to be no prospect of any one putting up dwellings to meet the growing demand. There cannot be much more growth to the town unless there are buildings to accommodate new comers.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hill, of Minneapolis, arrived in Oroville Monday to spend a fortnight with the family of ye editor. Mrs. Hill is a sister of the writer, and brother and sister have only met twice in forty years. Mr. Hill was connected with his father and brothers in the lumbering and banking business in Minneapolis for a great many years. This is the first visit of Mr. and Mrs. Hill to this part of the west, and they are very much interested in the country.

As showing what the local football boys bumped up against at Okanogan an Oroville lad was informed by a member of the Okanogan team that the average weight of the Okanogan eleven is 168 pounds. The average weight of the Oroville team was some 140 pounds. No wonder the up river players were hammered to a pulp, and took the short end of the score.

J. H. Arnold, who spent last winter in Oroville and vicinity, but who is now living at Loon Lake, in Stevens county, is in town on a visit of a few days. Mr. Arnold was surprised to note the great improvements that have taken place in Oroville since he left here only a few months ago, and predicts that the next few years will witness still greater changes for the better.

Bartell & Co., announced in this issue in space that cannot be overlooked a great sacrifice closing out sale, to begin next week. The firm has been contemplating retiring from the mercantile business for months, and at last has decided to take the step. The public will reap large benefit from this going out of business sale, as the knife has been applied to prices and many bargains are offered.

J. C. Stevens, engineer in charge of the Oroville irrigation district was in the city last Thursday. Mr. Stevens says progress is being made in the construction of the ditch, and that water will be flowing in the canal in the spring of next year. Mr. Stevens was down to interview C. E. Chase regarding the waterproofing of the flume, as Mr. Chase has had considerable experience along this line.—Brewster Herald.

A BIG DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

Thief Cunningly Robs the Jewellery

Store of E. A. McMahan

Takes Five $5.50 Watches

Last Monday, while Mr. McMahan was repairing a fine split second stop watch for Mr. ———, two men came into his store and asked to see the watches he carries in stock. They selected the $5.50 Elgin as the best movement for the money and told Mr. McMahan they would come in again, and while his back was turned to answer another customer in regard to some silver ware, the watches were taken.

Now we know just who the robbers are. They live right here in the city, and, unless the watches are returned immediately, they will be prosecuted.

However, if the watches are brought back in good condition, nothing will be said.

E. A. McMahan.
