LOOMIS ITEMS.

The play given by the pupils of the high school Saturday evening was one of the best things ever pulled off in Loomis. Each pupil rendered his and her part well, and the selections given between acts were good. Great credit is due Miss Maude Hill for the painstaking drilling which must have been necessary to stage a local play in the manner in which "The Little Politician" was presented. About 200 people attended. Mrs. Mildred Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eastman, died Monday afternoon. Funeral services were held Wednesday. W. E. Grant is in Okanogan this week on legal business. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Long were visitors in Oroville Saturday. Father Sherman came over from Tonasket Saturday to remain permanently. He is comfortably located in the Thompson residence. And tomorrow is Christmas. Rev. W. W. Strite, of the Methodist church, is on the sick list. John Wentworth, the old time Loomis hotel man, was in town Monday. Owing to a lack of attendance there was no meeting of the council Monday night. Christmas tree and entertainment at the Methodist church this Friday evening. Episcopal Sunday school Christmas tree and entertainment next Tuesday evening. J. C. Stevens, engineer on the irrigation system, left this week for Portland to spend the holidays with his family. W. H. Thomas, who is interested in the Golden Chariot mine, on Kruger mountain, came in Monday night from Penawawa, Wash., and will commence at once doing the annual representation work on the mine. Mr. Thomas may not stop content with doing the assessment work on the property, but is in hopes of continuing development indefinitely, in which case he would become a permanent resident of Oroville. As Mr. Thomas is the right kind of people those who know him trust that he may become a fixture in this place. The Golden Chariot is a claim of merit, upon which much work has been done in the past, exposing a large quantity of first class ore. It is in the midst of other excellent claims, so the ore showing is not an isolated case of mineral. A respected old friend living in the county, who has read the papers that the editor of the Gazette has published in this state even so far back as in the days of the old Spokane Falls Review, writes to this office: "I have read a paper that you have published for so many years that when I look back to the beginning of our acquaintance the distance is so great that it is lost in the haze of time. Are we growing old? No. We are yet only boys, and put us out on the turf together we could show the world we are very lively boys at that." That's pleasant reading from an optimist who has never yet been downed by adversity. He could give Mark Tapley pointers on "coming out strong" under difficulties, as he wrote the above at a time when he had lost about all of his possessions by fire. Oroville whisky supplies its victims with happy hallucinations. Tuesday a poor wretch, thoroughly stewed, stretched himself out on the snow in the west part of town, and attempted to pull a sage brush over himself, thinking it was a blanket. He imagined that he was in the bridal chamber at the Davenport Hotel. Deputy Marshal Kruger broke in on his rosy dreams, and improvising a patrol out of Mr. Gray's express wagon hauled him to the lock up, where he had a bunk at least more comfortable than a snow drift.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

Christmas eve, the Methodist Sunday school will hold its big Christmas entertainment. The committee in charge is doing faithful work and the children have been practicing for several weeks. Special music will be a feature of the evening. There will be the customary Christmas tree and special decorations to say nothing of the candy and nuts. Everybody invited to come and enjoy themselves. NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP. Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between Geo. J. Major and G. D. Macy, civil and mining engineers and surveyors, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. GEORGE J. MAJOR, D. M. MACY. Dated at Oroville, Wash. Dec. 1, 1915. 12-10 5t
