Four straight games and three shutouts is the record made by the pennant-hunting Tigers since they commenced the job of showing the Oakland bunch what good baseball is. Saturday afternoon, with St. Vrain in the box, the score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. In the first inning Oakland got a look in at the game by one man getting to second on a wild pitch. A couple of them had passes that read "First base only," but the majority didn't get that far.

Yesterday was another record breaker. At the morning game the attendance was good and a fast game was put up. Oakland couldn't make connections more than three times and the Tigers piled up the runs about as fast as they wanted to. Overall pitched.

In the afternoon the attendance was equal to, if not larger than, that of the opening day. Keefe made his first appearance in the box and did business from the start. It was another whitewash for Oakland. In the ninth inning, Oakland had a glimpse of a score, but Schafley overran the plate and was caught out. The scores:

Chief Maloney stated that the first of May would see a strict enforcement of the rules of the police department and certain ordinances that have been dead letters. He states that, among other things, the officers have been instructed that boys under 18 years of age must not be allowed in saloons. The rigid enforcement of that provision will meet with the approval of all good citizens, and will undoubtedly result in a curtailment of profits in certain well known resorts.

Dr. Park Holland, of Billings, Mont., has written to Sheriff Denholm in regard to his son, Richard Holland, who was with Barnes when he was killed a few days ago. Dr. Holland says that he gave his son permission to come West. He says that the boy is truthful and that he can be depended upon to appear when wanted, if he should care to liberate him until the time of the trial.

Sheriff Denholm is improving, but by the order of his physicians no one is permitted to see him.

Grotto at Lourdes May Not be Closed

THE ROAD TO THE GROTTTO. GROTTTO OF OUR LADY.

LOURDES, France, May 2.—It is not likely the grotto of Lourdes will be closed, although it is said the government had decided to do so. However, it is improbable, in the face of representations made by business men of Lourdes, that such action will be taken.

The anti-clerical party now in control of France has consented to at least a partial reopening of the grotto. The residents of Lourdes live almost entirely off of the tourists who throng here to visit the shrine where so many miracles are said to have been performed.

Were it not for them the peasants and residents of the city would have a hard time. When this statement of facts was presented to M. Combes, action was postponed. It was pointed out that the closing of the famous grotto would prejudice the entire district against the government, who just now desires to weld the sections of the country more firmly together.

12,000 tons. She was built by the Union Iron Works, the firm that constructed the cruiser Tacoma. The Alaskan will be here several days loading. In the cargo will be 42 head of cattle for Honolulu. This is the Alaskan's fourth trip to Tacoma.

The steamer Ning Chow came into port yesterday afternoon from Liverpool via Hongkong and other Asiatic points. Her cargo contains, among other things, pineapples and peanuts.

The steamer Senator is loading 500 tons of wheat at the Northwestern dock for San Francisco. She will finish loading about tomorrow noon.

The steamer Tremont is loading 2,000 sacks of oats at the Balfour dock on a government contract. The forage goes to the Philippines. Besides the railroad engines which she will take to Kobe, there are about 30 pairs of freight car trucks consigned to that place.

After being laid up at Quartermaster harbor for about a year, the steamer Garonne will go into commission again. The vessel left here today for Seattle and, after an overhauling, will be placed on the Nome run.

Charles Siver, a South Tacoma capitalist, will make a trip to Eastern cities soon.

THE UNFORTUNATE TENANTS KICKED IN VAIN. They could get no other houses any cheaper. So, purely in self-defense, they raised their rates. They followed the gougers' advice to "get it out of the visitors."

Salaried Men Suffer. Salaried people suffered most. Organized labor secured increases. Carpenters at the fair get $6 and $8 per day and common laborers $2.50. But the army of clerks, stenographers and professional men are the sufferers. Those who rent are unable to pay the price demanded in many cases out of their earnings. Those who board were notified by their landlords that they would have to pay transient rates after April 15 or move.

These salaried people were liberal contributors to the fund of $5,000,000 raised in St. Louis for the fair. They would contribute as much again to get rid of it.

In an effort to make it pay well, the exposition company set a bad example. It is estimated that there are 13,000 carloads of exhibits here, of which only about 4,000 cars have been unloaded. One firm has this concession, and cars must be consigned to it. If an exhibitor hires another man to team in his goods, the fair people not a guide on his wagon at 50 cents an hour and charge him for the use of the unloading platform at each building. The blockade of wagons is big and the charges soon mount up.

The railway into the grounds is called the Taylor City railroad. It takes charge of the cars at East St. Louis, three or four miles away, and charges from $14 to $16 per car for getting them into the grounds. Local people are suffering as much or more than visitors. For the residents must bear the extortion until December and the visitor rarely remains longer than two weeks. But the local people believe these conditions cannot obtain long and they are praying for relief.

MURDERER IS MOROSE

Stolid and indifferent to all mankind, Bob Taylor, the murderer, sits in his cell and stares blankly at the floor in front of him. He is growing morose and does not talk as much as he did at first.

The pistol with which he committed his dastardly crimes and the dagger, made of a file, are in the sheriff's hands. The diary in which he had kept a record of his doings from day to day for several months is in the care of someone at Puyallup.

Sheriff Denholm is improving, but by the order of his physicians no one is permitted to see him.

TROUBLE IN FREE CHURCH

Rev. J. W. Roberts of the First Free Church has resigned. Yesterday, Rev. Martin appeared to preach for him, and at the conclusion of his sermon he read Mr. Roberts' resignation. To some of the members the resignation came as a thunderbolt from a clear sky, but others were expecting it.

The substance of the letter was that "under the existing conditions" Mr. Roberts felt compelled to resign, although he regretted exceedingly to do so.

The "conditions" which made the resignation advisable are said to have arisen as the result of several little disagreements that have occurred from time to time. Financial difficulties are also said to have figured in the affair.

Samuel Collier, one of the trustees, was seen by The Times, and said: "This is just a little matter between ourselves. There is nothing that the public would be interested in."

THE BOARD WILL FIGHT

County Treasurer Reed has been notified by the school board that he will be responsible for the interest on the Tourist hotel site school warrants, on which he has withheld payment.

Members of the board claim that in purchasing the Tourist hotel property they were acting strictly within the law, and that there was nothing illegal in the issue of the warrants. The board will fight the matter to a finish.

PUMPS STARTED AT CITY WELLS

Like this afternoon an official test of the Folsom air lift wells in South Tacoma was commenced. William Welles, commissioner of public works, will continue the test for the next 48 hours, and if the wells will furnish as much water as they have done in previous tests they will be accepted.

HOW THEY ARE "GOUGING" THE GUILTESS AT THE ST. LOUIS FAIR

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 2.—If you are coming to the world's fair without having made arrangements previously for rooms—don't.

The guileless citizen who neglects this precaution will be classed as a "Rube." "Gouging" is the term the local victims apply to the system of exorbitant charges now prevailing in St. Louis. Everyone is not gouging, but the gougers are in evidence everywhere.

When Rube comes to town his first act is to get a shave. If he isn't careful the barber puts some stuff he calls "dye" on Rube's hair and whiskers and suavely presents a check for about $13.90.

Of course, Rube kicks. It has been testified in court that the barber's next move is to flourish a razor and "collect" the money. The courts, however, have punished the gouging barber, whenever the victim complained, and it's only fair to say that there are few shops not conducted honestly.

When Rube emerges from the barber shop the hackman gets him. This pirate inquires where he wishes to go and when he says to Jones' hotel, Rube is likely to be seized, hauled into a carriage which he doesn't want to enter, and driven to the hotel. The cabman charges $5. If Rube resists, there is a fight in which Rube gets the worst of it. Then Rube compromises with the cabman—on $8.

But the hotels remain—if there is anything remaining in Rube's purse. Even the inferior hotels are demanding $10 per day per room. And this does not include meals. That is, there are two beds in the rooms and the hotel man puts four men in a room at $2.50 per day each. If you want a room alone, you must pay for yourself and three others. Then the hotel man will not insist on the other three occupying it with you.

The first-class hotels have rates away up. The new Jefferson hotel, owned and operated by men who are directors in the world's fair, has decided to charge $15 per day. The others are nearly as bad. Even in private homes rooms are $1.50 and $2 per day.

The first-class restaurants and cafes have made but little advance in the prices of food. But the smaller ones have. Out near the fair grounds especially the rates are high and the food poor. One man paid 60 cents for a bottle of beer and a cheese sandwich that needed the services of a sanitary patrolman or a formaldehyde brigade.

How to Get Cheap Rates. The exposition bureau of information has compiled a list of places where visitors may secure lodging. The list has the prices attached and anyone contemplating coming to St. Louis would do well to get this list and arrange in advance. Then he can secure reasonable rates.

It must not be imagined that everyone in St. Louis is in a conspiracy to rob visitors. There are many places where a cool, pleasant clean room may be secured for $1.50 or $2 a day, and some even where $1 is the rate. But beware of alleged "hotels," which contract to lodge visitors for
