High Talk

Mr. Root's Idea That the Supreme Court is Right Even When Wrong. If the supreme court is wrong, it must be, and forever remain, SUPREMELY wrong. Such is the doctrine of the junior senator from New York. Hear him set it forth himself. Senator Root (congressional record, page 4097): "We have had much acute, very able and persuasive argument here to the effect that the decision of the supreme court was wrong."

INTIMATE CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, D. C., July 7. Dear Dad: It is quite true that the beef trust is far on its way to the control of the boot and shoe-making industry. How the trust already controls the tanning industry was fully disclosed in the tariff debate. The next step is the control of the patented machinery by which shoes are made. You may or may not know that this machinery is now all installed on leases. It is not sold. So the persons or corporations who control the machinery control the business. It is reported today that the beef trust has secured this control. Up to this time the control has been in the hands of a corporation named the American Shoe Machinery Company.

HERE'S THE ANSWER TO GURLYGUE PULZLE NO. 1

(This is the answer to the problem published last Saturday) No, no, kids and kiddies, it wasn't a rhinoceros that Hans Krant was feeding. It was an elephant. See, Hans is putting the nut into the old fellow's trunk. A whole lot of Times' boys and girls sent in their answers—guess there must have been a bushel of letters. Lots of them were wrong, lots were pretty good, and some were remarkably fine. The boys and girls who came nearest to the elephant were: Hans LeMay, 2502 Pacific avenue, Wanda Travis, Frank Downs 1925 Jefferson avenue, Hilda Koenig of Buckley, Anna J. Pederson 1304 1/2 So. D street, Elmer Johnson 518 So. 25th street, and Robert Friedman 1018 So. J street.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GIRL GRADUATES MADE OWN DRESSES AT $3.47 EACH

TWO OF THE GIRL GRADUATES, SHOWING FRONT AND BACK OF THE $3.47 DRESS

Chicago has a grammar school principal, by name Wm. Campbell, who objects to the elaborate commencement exercises in which the girl who wears the most expensive gown is the cause of an epidemic of heartaches among her less fortunate classmates. He believes in practical education, so weeks before commencement he told the teacher of sewing that his girl graduates must make their own dresses. Thus the girls should have a chance to show how much they really have learned, and the uncomfortable heartaches would be averted.

Daily Short Story

THE WIZARD GERM. "I see," answered Miss Newton. Then, after a pause: "Can the bacillus feel?" Marsden shrugged his shoulders. "I should say yes, in his blind, blunt way." "Can he think and ponder and crave that which cannot be obtained? Can he long and patiently desire? Can he love?" The professor took a deep breath. "You open up a wonderfully interesting field of research," he declared. "Now, I should say, with Lassalle and Dempster, that the nerve functions of the Lapaz are by no means utterly negative. But I should hesitate to endow the bacillus with a well-defined sense of craving such as—"

TACOMA GAINING AT RATE OF 625 A MONTH. The population of Tacoma is increasing at the rate of 625 people a month, according to the estimate of C. P. Coates, manager of the Polk Directory company, who has just issued preliminary estimates. The population of the city, he says, is now 115,000, giving a gain of 7,500 over the population of last year. At this rate Tacoma will be a city of 300,000 people in 19 years, a growth, Coates says, far in excess of the normal growing western and middle western cities. Cities of the Atlantic coast have a still less percentage of gain.

SOCIETY AND PERSONAL

Mrs. William McCreery entertained at cards yesterday afternoon for Miss Elizabeth Savage whose wedding to Mr. Edwin Gregory is to take place this month. The guests were young lady friends of Miss Savage. The Ladies' Christian circle, No. 1, will hold an ice cream social, Wednesday evening, at the home of O. M. Chessman, Sixty-third street and Pacific avenue. Tacoma club women are greatly interested in the convention of the National Council of Women, which holds its first session tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the fine arts building on the A.-Y.-P. exposition grounds. A number of Tacoma's most prominent women will attend.

AIMING AT NET RESULTS. Man from Town: What do you charge for board? Farmer: A dollar a day, or $3 a week in advance. Man from Town: But you lose money when you're paid by the week, don't you? Farmer: Naw, I make money. Nobody ever stays after the first day.

Hubby, Home and Baby Are Woman's Best Joy!

YOUNG GRANDMOTHER AGED 33 SAYS SO, AND SHE KNOWS. "Being a grandmother doesn't make one a day-older. I am in favor of early marriages. Both my daughter and myself married our first beau. There were never any quarrels about previous sweethearts, which so often make trouble. "We grow alike in tastes and ambitions when we marry young. And especially when there are children—as there ought to be—the family sort of grows together.

Money Saved Through Anty Drudge.

Mrs. Youngwife (on telephone)—"Hello Harry, you don't need to order those new tablecloths and napkins at Blashman's after all. Anty Drudge came in this morning and showed me how Fels-Naptha soap would take the stains out of the old ones. They're as clean and white as new now." Anty Drudge—"You just keep on using Fels-Naptha, Deary, and it'll save you buying lots of things—everything you wash will wear so much longer. It'll save your health and beauty, too."

Stains are the great trial of a woman who does the family wash in the old way.

Coffee stains, fruit stains, egg stains, occasionally blood stains, and many others which defy all ordinary soaps and hard rubbing as well. In despair, the housewife boils the clothes until their fibre is softened and weakened, but even then the shadows of the stains remain. Such stains are easy for Fels-Naptha soap. They are but minute particles of colored matter clinging to threads of the cloth. The Fels-Naptha dissolves them into tiny atoms which can't cling to anything. A rinsing separates them from the clothes entirely. The stain is gone, leaving the clothes clean, white and pure. And mind you, all this is done in cold or lukewarm water, without boiling or hard rubbing. Fels-Naptha does not in the slightest degree harm the fibre of the cloth as boiling does. No other soap, no matter what it is called, will take out stains without boiling. Be sure to get the genuine Fels-Naptha. It comes in the red and green wrapper.
