

KILLS ONE MAN AND WOUNDS TWO

DESPITE TRAGEDY CORONER'S JURY REFUSES TO BRING IN VERDICT AGAINST PERPETRATOR.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 20.—Although Albert Ryan, connected with the Western Federation of Miners, shot and killed Harry E. Snyder and wounded two other men, a coroner's jury refused to bring in a verdict against him late yesterday afternoon and today Ryan faces only a formal charge of murder brought by the state's officers.

The coroner's jury declared that Snyder came to his death from a gun shot wound inflicted by one Albert Ryan, but refused to pass upon the question of self-defense. Ryan was arraigned before Judge Frederickson and his preliminary hearing set for July 26. Otto Miller, one of Ryan's victims, who was the object of Ryan's attack and who received three bullets, is in a local hospital and has slight chance for recovery. Miguel Lopez, the third human target for Ryan, was shot in the leg and is now out of danger.

TELLS AN INCRIMINATING STORY OF FIGHT WHICH ENDED IN SUTTON'S DEATH

toward the scene of the trouble. When he arrived at the place where Sutton, Adams and Roelker were, he said, he saw Roelker lying on one side of the road, and Sutton lying on the other side. Adams and Bevan were standing over Sutton. He explained that someone said "Sutton shot Roelker and then shot himself."

Adams visibly perturbed. While denying that he made admissions to Mrs. Parker involving himself in the tragedy, Lieut. Adams became very much excited. His denials were vehement and he was flushed a deep red.

Attorney Davis, representing Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Parker, held a memorandum of the alleged interview, and fired questions at Adams with merciless rapidity. Adams showed discomfiture for the first time since he went on the stand.

Adams said that he had not told anything to Mrs. Parker except that he would go into the records of the case.

"What is the use of all these little details when I told you that I made no admissions at all?" vehemently queried the lieutenant.

Everybody laughed. When Adams said that when Mrs. Parker came to Annapolis on the detective mission, following her brother's death, that he was warned to be on his guard as she looked like the Sherwood woman, everybody laughed. For the first time since the hearing began, a smile crept over the faces of Mrs. Sutton and her daughter.

Adams said that when Mrs. Parker, at the outset of their interview, asked him to tell the truth about everything he referred her to the records of the case.

"Did you not tell Mrs. Parker you were so infuriated that you did not know what you were doing and did not care, and that someone had to pull you off his (Sutton's) prostrate body, and you were beating him and had one hand on his throat?" asked Davis.

Adams replied that he did not remember.

May Throw Light on Mystery.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 20.—Harry B. Thomas was today summoned as a witness in the Annapolis inquiry into the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton. The officers of the court of inquiry hope that he will be able to throw some light on the present whereabouts of Edward P. Roelker, a lieutenant dismissed from the navy, who is supposed to have worked here recently under an assumed name. Roelker is wanted as a witness in the Sutton hearing, he having been wounded by Sutton during the fight which preceded the marine lieutenant's death.

CHRISTEN THREE DOZEN BABIES AT THE FAIR

SEATTLE, July 20.—An even three dozen crowing, pink-toed June babies were christened in the Auditorium at the exposition grounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Of the babies christened, twenty are boys, and their names, as signified in the notices from their parents, range all the way from the good old-fashioned Samuel, Martin Luther and plain John, to the more modern one of William Howard, while Susan, Samantha Ann, Alexandra, Dora, Mary Jane and Marjorie, in the girl contingent, are not without admirers. The majority are from Seattle, but Snohomish, South Park, Tacoma and Brownsville are represented. A contest to decide which is the prettiest girl and which the handsomest boy will follow the christening. A special prize will go to the winners.

FAMINE REIGNS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE

GOVERNMENT FORCED TO DISTRIBUTE NECESSITIES OF LIFE TO HER STARVING PEOPLE.

PARIS, July 20.—Famine reigns in rural districts of southern France, and food, clothes and other necessities are today being distributed, the gifts of the government. The wine frauds of two years ago started the trouble, the falling off in wine sales almost ruining the farmers. Floods and heavy frosts have added to their woe, and the recent earthquake completed the devastation of the countryside.

SKIN FROM AMPUTATED LEG GRAFTED ON FACE

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 20.—George A. Stockder, a traveling salesman who was frightfully burned about his face and body in a gas explosion May 24, and whose condition had been critical until a few days ago, is on the road to swift recovery, all because Charles Hazerty, a logger of La Grande, suffered an accident that necessitated the amputation of his right leg. The attending surgeons skillfully cut the skin from Hazerty's amputated limb and placed it on Stockder's face and body in places where his own flesh had been burned and refused to heal. Thus will the traveling salesman soon be able to go about his business, while the La Grande logger will stump about, finding some compensation for his loss in the fact that the leg, useless to him, was the means of saving another's life.

THE CRY "UNCLEAN!" HAS LOST ITS TERROR

NEW ERA OF HOPE DAWNS FOR MOLOKAI WITH RELEASE OF 11 CONDEMNED LEPERS, AGITATION STARTED BY ONE MAN DRIVEN FROM HAWAII AS QUACK, ENDS IN EFFORTS TO CURE AND NEW LAWS ENFORCING YEARLY RE-EXAMINATIONS.

HONOLULU, Hawaii, July 20.—Have the biblical accounts of miraculous cures of leprosy been duplicated in the world famous Molokai Settlement? Or have men and women and even children in the past been consigned to a living death though untouched by the dread disease?

Eleven lepers, eight men, one woman and two boys, or at least eleven persons formally declared lepers at different times by the medical authorities of the board of health, have as formally and officially been declared not lepers and released from exile in the leper settlement in Molokai. With their release has come a new era of hope for Molokai.

Some of these eleven had been in exile in the Molokai Settlement for 20 years or more, some for only a year. In the case of those sent a score of years ago, they were condemned as lepers on the purely clinical manifestations of the disease, before the microscopic test showing the actual presence of the bacillus of leprosy had come into general use. But in all the latter cases the microscopic test, which is considered infallible, has been used.

The test now fails to declare not lepers. Did the settlement and which mystery quire and oldest world is one of its ori- wa. Eleven been found ed, no one fians at the settlement do not claim the credit. In fact, in 5 of the 11 cases no treatment was given and the others have not all taken the same treatment, yet they are no longer lepers.

The result of the re-examination of the eleven marks a new era in the policy of the Molokai settlement. In the past, boards of health seem to have grown callous in the belief that the disease is incurable, and requests for re-examination received scant attention. The eleven were re-examined only because the legislature adopted a joint resolution asking that they be.

It is doubtful if this resolution could have been passed if public sentiment on the subject had not been aroused by the agitation of J. Lor Wallach. Wallach claimed to be able to cure leprosy. Naturally such claims aroused hope and inquiry among the Hawaiians who are the great sufferers from the dreadful disease. They asked that he be allowed to go to the settlement and treat some of the lepers with his remedies. His claims were scouted by the boards of health. Promises made to the natives were broken, and finally Wallach was railroaded to prison on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. He is terror.

was released from prison on his promise to leave Hawaii. He went, but the effect of the agitation he had precipitated remained.

As a result an entire change of policy was forced on the board, and when Senator Frank Harvey offered the joint resolution requesting the re-examination of certain lepers, it was readily accepted.

Now, from the least important, efforts to cure have come suddenly to be the most important elements in the policy of segregation. More than this, any leper or suspected leper in Molokai can secure a re-examination at least once a year. Deportation to Malokai is no longer looked upon as a sentence to living death. The leper settlement is no longer a living tomb. The cry of "unclean!" has lost its terrors.

OLD DEPOT DISAPPEARS

There was activity around the N. P. passenger terminals yesterday. The old office building was razed to the ground and the debris sorted and carried off. The Harmon block was also taken down and the wreckage disposed of. Last night the last of the old depot that has disgraced the city for twenty years was burned.

The ground now is practically clear, ready for the new work. Excavating is going steadily on and bids have been sent on to St. Paul to the office of Reed & Stem, the architects, who will go over them.

Several Tacoma bidders submitted figures on the work. It is expected the contract for the new depot will be let within the next couple of weeks.

OVERTURNED BOAT TELLS OF TRAGEDY

MARSHVILLE, Ore., July 20.—The life-saving crew here and fishermen are today searching for an overturned boat which has been reported four miles off the mouth of the Coquille river by the captain of the Nan Smith.

The captain sent a wireless message here telling of the wreck, but said he could not make out the name. It appeared to be the hull of a barge or gasoline boat. There is little doubt among the old "salts" here that some lives have been lost.

Str. Flyer will make special expedition trips DAILY, leaving Seattle 9:30 p. m., leaving Tacoma 11:15 p. m.
