

CRANE NOW GLAD HE WAS OUSTED

SAYS NO SELF-RESPECTING MAN COULD HOLD MINISTERSHIP IN CHINA ANYWAY—TAFT FORMALLY GIVES HIM WALKING PAPERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—Secretary Carpenter, who is at the white house, received the following message from President Taft, dated Prescott, Ariz., yesterday:

"Convey to Mr. Crane the following: I concur in the letter under the date of October 12, which the secretary of state addressed to you, and greatly regret that circumstances have been found to exist by him which makes it necessary for me to accept your resignation."

"As soon as he had been informed of the contents of the telegram, Crane issued a statement in which he declared that he was greatly relieved, as he contemplated the continuance of official relations with the deepest repugnance ever since he learned of the attitude of the state department. He said, nevertheless, that he felt that his obligation to the president was to permit him to decide the issue."

He said: "I have also realized the impossibility of his securing complete information at this time. He has chosen to base his decision upon circumstances found by the secretary of state."

Crane said that he accepted the Chinese post with the understanding that he would be permitted to be of great service to the country by pursuing a constructive policy in the Orient. He declared that it has been made perfectly clear to him now that conditions here are not such as to make this possible.

"To demonstrate this involved a personal humiliation such as no self-respecting man drafted into public service should be called upon to endure, but I am grateful to have had the test of official confidence and support here rather than at some real crisis involving the honor or interest of this nation."

"I think that I should state at this time that until I arrived Saturday I had never seen the news article which is made the excuse for my recall."

MONEY BACK OF THE ATTACK ON DR. COOK SAYS THE EXPLORER

(By United Press Leased Wire.) ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—"It is positively untrue," said Dr. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, today, in answer to an affidavit of Edwin N. Barrell, published in the New York Globe yesterday, to the effect that Dr. Cook never reached the top of Mt. McKinley.

"It appears to me that there was money behind his statement. He was perhaps annoyed that he had not been paid his wages, but that was not my fault, and I remedied the matter as soon as I got back from the pole.

"I cannot understand why Barrell should have made such a statement," continued the explorer.

"If we were always the best of friends, and until I understood under what conditions the affidavit was sworn to, I will make no specific reply to it."

The affidavit referred to was sworn to by Barrell in Tacoma October 4, and says in effect that Barrell was the only person present with Cook at the time he claims to have reached the top of Mt. McKinley, and that he did not, in fact, reach the summit. He further declared that the nearest point reached was at least 14 miles distant from the top of the mountain, and that at no time did they reach an elevation greater than 10,000 feet.

APE MUSCLES ARE FOUND IN MAN

Jefferson Medical School Laboratory Turns Up Strange Signs of Human Evolution.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 15.—Curious evidence of the persistence with which aurores ape-like muscles creep every now and then into the modern human anatomy have been gathered by Prof. H. E. Radash, associate in histology and embryology in the Jefferson Medical college. The "variations" have all come under the personal observation of Dr. Spitzka and Dr. Radish in the laboratory of anatomy of the college.

In a colored man's body there has been found a breast muscle, the tail part of which is totally unlike the normal caudal part in man, but is precisely identical with the pectoral minor muscles in apes. In the case under observation the caudal portion of the muscle rose from the fourth and fifth ribs. It was thin and tapered rapidly, passing upward and outward.

Other peculiarities have been found in the muscles of the arms and shoulders, legs and feet, which show reversals to ancestral monkey types, when those limbs were used differently from now in climbing trees and in walking on all fours.

The variations from the normal in the toe, sole and foot muscles are especially significant, as illustrating the evolution from the lowest forms.

HOW OLD IS JOHNNY JONES

SOME ANSWERS

"When I was born my sister was one-quarter the age of mother. Sister is now one-third as old as father and I am one-quarter of mother's age. In four years I shall be one-quarter as old as father."

That's what Johnny Jones said when his teacher asked him for his age. You might know the age of Ann, but can you figure out the number of years that little Johnny had in mind when he answered his teacher's question.

How old is Johnny Jones? The puzzle editor asked that question on Wednesday and the answers that are coming in show that Times readers have different ideas about it. Some figure it at 2 years, some at 20. Here are a few of the answers received today:

Puzzle Editor: Johnny is now 12 years, six months old. That is easy. MRS. H. L. K.

Times Puzzle Editor: I find that Johnny Jones is 2 years and a few days old. Am I right? ELMA M. H. (No Elma you are not right.)

Times Puzzle Editor: I feel quite sure I have the age of Johnny Jones. He is 12 years old. Respectfully, A. B. CRANE.

Dear Editor: I here enclose the answer for the puzzle stated: Johnny Jones is 8 years old; his sister is 16 years old; his mother is 32 years old; his father is 48 years old. Worked in arithmetic. Yours truly, RUDOLPH MORTENSEN.

Here it is in French. Monsieur l'Editeur: Rapres mes caleuls Johnny Jones a le meme age que sa soeur (the same age than his sister). Bien a Couis. PHILIPPIE. South Tacoma.

The correct answer will be printed tomorrow with the names of those who solved the puzzle.
