

STRIKERS ARE STANDING PAT

(By United Press Leased Wire.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 14.—It is possible that a conflict of authority between local and national labor leaders may result from the order of the Central Labor union here to all union men of Philadelphia to quit work, under penalty of not being considered unionists. In most of the trades the international organizations have ordered their men to remain at work, thereby advising them to ignore the orders of the Central Labor body. As a result it is expected here that few of the union men who are now at work will obey the Central union's order.

The city was quiet during the early hours today. A canvass indicates that most of the men who quit work last week are still out.

I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT MY NEW POSITION--CALHOUN

(By United Press Leased Wire.) SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Pleading ignorance of the various features of his new post and of everything Chinese, William J. Calhoun of Chicago, the recently appointed United States minister to China, who arrived here last night, refused to talk when seen at the St. Francis hotel this morning.

"I do not know anything about my new position," said Calhoun. "And I don't intend to learn anything until I arrive in China. Of course, there are many questions that I will have to take up when I become accustomed to the official routine of the post, but I know so little of those at present that I would not be warranted in uttering a syllable."

SENTENCED FOR DENOUNCING ZEPPELIN

(By United Press Leased Wire.) STUTTGART, Germany, March 14.—Herman Lange, an inventor, was sentenced today to serve five months' imprisonment for calling Count Zeppelin, the aviator, the "greatest humbug in the country."

Lange's troubles grew out of his claims to the invention of the rigid type of dirigible balloon.

MRS. MAYBRAY BREAKING DOWN

(By United Press Leased Wire.) COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 14.—Mrs. May Maybray, the wife of John C. Maybray, the alleged leader of the Maybray gang of swindlers, on trial here charged with wholesale swindles in connection with fixed contests, showed today that she is breaking down under the strain of her husband's trial.

Yesterday as she sat in the courtroom and listened to the testimony she appeared calm and unconcerned. Her demeanor underwent a noticeable change today, however, and she appeared to be nervous and worried. She sat wringing her handkerchief with her fingers, and her face looked drawn.

KENWORTHY MAY BE RELEASED

It is possible that S. J. Kenworthy, returned to Tacoma last night from Oakland, Cal., under extradition, by Deputy Sheriff Doten, to face a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from Thomas Carstens, will be discharged. It was intimated by the prosecutor that there was no criminal case against Kenworthy, but merely a civil one. Kenworthy had secured the endorsement of Carstens to a check for $6,500 while representing the globe manufacturing company. Justice Card fixed Kenworthy's bail at $2,000 and no date has been set for the trial. On arriving in Tacoma Doten took Kenworthy to his own home and the man has not yet been placed in jail or his name entered on the blotter.

There are four and a half times as many murders in the United States for every million of population today than there were twenty years ago. In the state of Georgia the average is greater a year than in the entire British empire.

YOU'LL HAVE TO PAY YOUR LIGHT BILL, SO REGISTER

There are two things that Tacoma ought to do at the city hall today and tomorrow—register and pay light and water bills.

It will be the last day for both. All who do not register before the books close tomorrow night will be ineligible to vote at the coming election. All who neglect to pay water and light bills will be socked with a penalty of 50 cents on each bill.

There was a little activity around the registration booth this morning, but no grand rush. It looks as if the voters would not get the registration up to the 15,000 mark. When the books were closed Saturday night the number was 14,054.

RUSSIAN BEAR GROWLING

LONDON, March 14.—Russia has decided upon a military course in the Far East, according to dispatches received here today from St. Petersburg.

This movement, according to military experts can mean but one thing—the immense of another war.

In view of the apparent agreement of Russia and Japan on a Manchurian policy, it is believed Russia intends to make war upon China.

CUPID ROUNDS IN THREE COUPLES

Cupid was busy this morning. Before noon he steered three couples to the auditor's office and did not even let them get out of the court house before rendering each couple as one. Rev. Stover was in waiting and tied the knot for George Marsh and Beatrice Coudley of Ladd, Wash., in Auditor Stewart's office, and Judge Graham married Wm. S. Pickard and Lena La Bounty. Both are of Buckley. But a few minutes later he united Luolise Henstone and Harry Peter Hansen, both of Tacoma.

SENATE TO REJECT NOMINATION OF R.T. DELVIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—The senate committee on judiciary voted today to recommend that the senate reject the nomination of Robert T. Delvin to be assistant United States attorney at San Francisco.

It is said here that the result of this action will be withdrawal of the nomination by the president.

TAFT ATTENDS FUNERAL OF SUICIDE

(By United Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—President Taft returned here today from attending the funeral of Thomas McK. Laughlin, brother-in-law of Mrs. Taft. Laughlin ended his life Friday by shooting himself after a period of illness.

GOD'S LIGHT TO CURE PRISON SINNERS

Remarkable Experiment in This New Kind of Workhouse, Where Unruly Men Are Placed in "Thinking Rooms" Flooded With Light, Instead of Dark, Noisome Dungeons.

Here is the latest word in the treatment of crime—LIGHT! Here is the newest weapon for reforming men who break the law—God's wonderful light.

"And God said: 'Let there be light.'"

There was light, but presently sin and darkness came. Then men took to punishing their sinning brethren and they punished them with the torture of darkness. They devised black dungeons and dripping cells and they shut their transgressing brethren up in them.

And though the sinners' hearts broke with despair, shut up in the darkness that way, and though the sinners wept and shrieked and plotted vengeance against society, and though the sinners' reason fled in the awful gloom, the custom has been maintained to this day.

But never a sinner has been reformed that way. He always came from the darkness more hardened and embittered than when he went in.

At Warrensville, O., a suburb of Cleveland, there are just opening up the new Cleveland workhouse, a great sweeping building in the white, Spanish mission style, with four dominating towers at the corners.

The towers are thick with windows.

The building embodies the ideas of that leader in penology, Dr. Harris R. Cooley, of Cleveland, and it was his idea that the prison "dungeons" he situated in the tower.

This has been done. The "dungeons" are flooded with light the day long. The broad windows look out upon miles of smiling country—40 miles out over the blue Lake Erie to the north, 30 miles over a glorious valley to the south.

Up there in the dungeon the sky is all about, and yet the spot seems held warm against the bosom of earth—if the building were indeed a Spanish mission, the "dungeon" might be the room picked by some devout Franciscan for his close walks with God.

When one of the workhouse prisoners has seriously offended the light filled "dungeon" for "punishment." And the "punishment" there routs the evil spirit out of his mind much more effectively than any water cure or nout or prison cruelty ever devised.

The outcast looks out upon the friendly stars by night and the inspiring land by day, and if it is spring or summer he sees the ground starred with flowers.

"And flowers have been known to heal a common man's despair."

At the workhouse they do not call the tower rooms dungeons but "thinking rooms." And there is no word in use that has the local color of the prison. The workhouse is known simply as "The Farm." The prisoners are men, not numbers—they go by their names.

The light cure is only one of Cooley's ideas. There are no guards or bars or walls at The Farm. There isn't a gun on the place. The men might escape any time if they chose. They don't choose.

They do not pull the hemp until their fingers are torn and bleeding. About the building lies a magnificent municipal farm of 2000 acres. Salaried, scientific farmers are in charge and the workhouse men are the hands. The farmers know most of the men by their first names.

And you see no stripes or cropped heads. The men's plain clothing bears the honest stain and smell of clay. The farm isn't punishment for Cleveland's "unfortunates; it's a school to turn them to better things.

Mosquitoes Demoralize Business In Woodland, Wash.

(By United Press Leased Wire.) WOODLAND, Wash., March 14.—Millions of mosquitoes, the origin of which is unknown, today threaten to demoralize the social and commercial activities of this town. The insect visitation arrived immediately after the abatement of a recent period of severe weather and no explanation of their early appearance has been found. Never before have the unwelcome little visitors arrived before June.

Many citizens are complaining of loss of sleep and merchants declare that the presence of the mosquitoes are seriously interfering with business.

Louis Heinz yesterday caught a 42-pound devil fish in the Narrows and the day before hooked two others at the same place. The two caught Saturday weighed 32 and 25 pounds. The 42-pounder is on exhibition at the Bay City market. Heinz makes a specialty of catching devil fish for local consumption.

KILLING OF MEXICAN MAY CAUSE RACE WAR IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 14.—State troops have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness, Pass Ramon is prepared to run a special train out of Falfurias, Tex., to carry American women and children to San Antonio if an attack is made on them by Mexicans. The Mexicans are greatly excited at Falfurias over the killing of Baltazar Garcia, a Mexican, by Dave Dolan, an American, Saturday. Dolan is under arrest.

Garcia was shot by Dolan in a revolver scrape at the railroad station, and was killed almost instantly after he had attempted to shoot down the American.

As soon as the Mexican saw Dolan he drew his revolver. Dolan saved himself by grabbing the upraised revolver. He then turned the weapon on the Mexican, fired one shot and killed Garcia. The Mexicans are armed and threaten to kill the prisoner, who is in the county jail.

Famous Murder Trial Opens

Neighbors say that there were many harsh words between them, but no open rupture until the evening of July 11. It is stated that early on this evening Saylor and his wife had a prolonged argument which ended by Saylor leaving the house for several hours. When he returned, Dr. Miller, John and Ira Grunden, father and brother of Mrs. Saylor, were at the banker's home. Saylor seated himself in the front yard and at about 11 o'clock, so testimony at the inquest showed, he was called into the house to join in a game of cards.

What actually transpired after he entered that room was not made clear. It was established that Saylor was found dead some time later and Dr. Miller admitted he shot him, saying he acted in self-defense.

On the night of the murder Mrs. Saylor stated that her husband was to blame for the tragedy. She stood by Dr. Miller at every point. She telephoned to Watecka for a physician to come and dress his wounds.

When arrested she was in bed feigning sleep. She told a disconnected story at that time, but the next day said that Miller was compelled to kill her husband to save his own life. She has not contradicted this story since.

Goldie Saylor, 16-year-old daughter of the murdered man, came to the rescue of her mother. She told of the threats which had been made by her father against both Miller and her mother and said she was glad he was dead. Later she said she would help the prosecution and endeavor to secure a conviction of her father's slayer.

A special grand jury was called to investigate the case two weeks after the murder. Mrs. Saylor and John Grunden were held to the criminal court without bail, charged with murder in the first degree. Ira Grunden was dismissed and it has been rumored since he will be used as a witness by the prosecution.

The battle to save the lives of the accused will be hard fought. Mrs. Saylor has some property in her own right and her relatives are wealthy. They have announced they will spend every dollar they have to secure her

SLASHES MAN WITH KNIFE

One man lies at Kapowsin with his throat cut and another is in the county jail here and may have to answer for murder, as a result of a stabbing scrape at Kapowsin Saturday evening.

Worton Brotton, a logger, was standing on the bridge over the railway track at Kapowsin when G. A. Helderbrand, another logger, stepped up and gave him a slash with a penknife across the neck, cutting a gash half a foot long. Brotton fell over the bridge and was picked up by his friends. Dr. Keller and Dr. Stewart attended him. Today it is reported he has a chance to recover but the nerves of his neck and arm are severed and he will probably never be sound if he does get well.

Helderbrand was immediately placed under arrest by the deputy sheriff who removed him to an isolated cabin for fear of violence. He said he was glad of the deed and would kill Brotton later if this did not do it. He was drunk at the time of the deed. At first it was thought the men were entire strangers, and no one could find any reason for the attack. After sobering up Helderbrand said they had been out drinking together and Brotton had become ugly and had struck him several times and he finally drew his knife and cut him.

ANOTHER CITY AUTO IS HERE

The council has been running things for several years largely on "hot air," but now the municipality is to be run by gas—regular benzene gas. The new automobile roadster for the commissioner's office has been delivered, and Commissioner Sheller is trying to solve the problem of operation.

Another auto for high speed is on the way for Fire Chief McAlevy. Several pieces of auto fire apparatus are coming, and the city electrician is to have an auto wagon for the construction crew and meter setters.

The whole town will be run by machinery pretty soon, rather than by a "machine," as has been the case heretofore.

SHOT AND KILLED BY BURGLAR

(By United Press Leased Wire.) SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 14.—George Wybank was shot and killed by a supposed burglar here today. The shooting occurred in a summer garden in the rear of Leibe's saloon. The watchman and the intruder exchanged half a dozen shots before Wybank fell. Two men who witnessed the shooting were unable to interfere, and the watchman's assailant escaped. His identity is not known.
