BOSSSES RULE; DELEGATES ONLY DUMMIES

STAND-PAT MACHINE IN FULL CONTROL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 3.—A sudden activity on the part of the Springfield grand jury today is believed here to foreshadow sensational investigation of alleged legislative bribery in connection with child labor, "loan sharks" and slot machine bills.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 3.—Driven by the intense heat of the desert to seek refuge near a pile of ice on a freight car at Maricopa station, 800 miles west of here, an unknown Mexican was found frozen to death.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3.—That Portland will have another new theater ready for occupancy by August 1, 1911, is an assured fact today.

The seating capacity of all the churches in the country is about 60,000,000.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 3.—Back to nature, is the slogan of the Photographers' Association of the Pacific Northwest, especially in their choice of a meeting place next season.

The month just past was the driest July in the history of the city.

Little four-year-old Georgy was "helping" in the kitchen and was allowed to open a package of macaroni.

"Look, mamma," he shouted, "here's a lot of holes with sticks around 'em."

SEATTLE, Aug. 3.—J. J. Rogers and W. J. Crawford were arrested yesterday with their pockets full of $10 confederate money.

"Yes, my boy got tired o' country life, doin' nothin' but pullin' weeds," said Farmer Sasafra.

Letters From a Gentleman to His Wife in the Country

BY FRED SCHAEFER.

THE FIFTH LETTER.

Sweet little Honeybunches: What a naughty little tease you are to send me orders to brace up in my letter writing!

I send you kisses galore, And then a million kisses more. Your almost contented P. S.—Now isn't this a swell letter?

Sweeping Victory for Insurgents in Kansas

WOODS AND LAWSON SLAP LIBRARY BOARD Notwithstanding the endorsement of the library board of Bishop Keator for re-appointment on the board, Commissioners Lawson and Woods this morning voted to confirm the mayor's appointment of Judge J. C. Stallcup for that position.

"There is one insurgent delegation in the convention," said D. D. Olds of Cheyenne county. "We have 16 delegates and 10 are insurgent. We could have had a complete delegation but allowed the other fellows six just out of courtesy. They tried to work us with their snap caucuses like they did other counties but we went in and made a fight and whipped them out. The insurgents absolutely controlled our county convention."

Three Girls at Pantages Who Knew Crippens in London Throw New Light Upon Tragedy; They Blame Miss Leneve

ETHEL LENEVE, THE WOMAN IN CRIPPEN MURDER CASE

Clare Leneve is the woman in the case in the Crippen murder. She was Dr. Crippen's stenographer. She is in the early thirties and was born in England. Her right name is Leneve, but she frequently visits to Paris, she became Frenchified and thereafter spelled her name La Neve. Her mother was highly esteemed by her acquaintances. The girl has a complex character. She was extremely winsome when not crossed. Her method of winning Dr. Crippen was worthy of a drama plot.

SENDS THREE ATTORNEYS TO JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Three attorneys in the defense of Patrick Calhoun, charged with bribery in connection with the trolley permits granted by the Ruef-Schmitz board of supervisors in 1906 were sent to jail today by Judge William F. Lawler of the superior court for contempt. The attorneys were sentenced to five days' imprisonment and were remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

ARMY DESERTERS NUMBER THOUSANDS; WHY MEN QUIT

The army deserters are becoming more and more numerous. Citizens looking at the big statistics show last week where the soldiers of Uncle Sam were showing their holiday stunts were inclined to be enamored of soldier life. It looked interesting. The display of skill indicated training that should be sufficient to keep the bodies and minds of the soldiers active and some people might wonder why army desertions.

"When Dr. Crippen told us many weeks after his wife's sudden disappearance that she had died in Los Angeles, we just didn't believe him, and then we got our evidence which finally started the Scotland Yard detectives on the case. So said Miss Cecelia Macarthy of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild of London, who with her two sisters, the Misses Julia and Rosie, is appearing at the Pantages this week.

"We knew Mrs. Crippen well," said Miss Cecelia today. "She was the honorary treasurer of the guild. She was a very amiable person, and refused any salary for the arduous work as treasurer. The guild, which is composed of music hall artists, numbers several hundred members. The active committee of the guild, of which Mrs. Crippen and myself were members, used to meet every Thursday in the office of the organization, which was two doors adjoining that of Dr. Crippen at the Albion house, 61 New Oxford street, London. Mrs. Crippen attended these meetings very regularly. On the 3rd of February the committee received a note purporting to come from Mrs. Crippen, in which it was stated that she had received a cablegram and was compelled to leave at once for America and that the guild had better elect a new treasurer, as she would stay away for a long while.

"At that time we could not have suspected anything wrong, yet everyone felt as though she had received an awful shock. It was not at all like Mrs. Crippen to go away so suddenly. "And Mrs. Crippen used to correspond so diligently," Miss Julia looked up the thread of the story, at this point, while Cecelia went to look for something she said might prove interesting, "but none of us ever heard from her, and that wasn't at all natural. We use to talk of her silence often. Then Dr. Crippen finally told us she had died in Los Angeles. We just simply couldn't believe it. Then in the early part of April Dr. Crippen attended a dance given by the Benevolent Fund, which is a male charity organization, composed of actors in the British Isles, as the guild is composed of actresses, and he took Miss Leneve to that dance. My sisters and I each had one dance with him—but it wasn't our fault. Who could have known? The Crippens used to get along so amiably together."

BAKER WANTS MORE MONEY

A petition was presented to the city commission this morning by Assistant City Attorney Frank Baker for an increase in salary to $250 per month in the office of the first assistant city attorney.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Commercial organizations throughout the country are preparing to engage in a finish fight with the express companies with a view to securing greatly reduced rates.

GUS SAYS TODAY

People who ain't got automobiles is always havin' about 'em bein' dangerous. I guess that's why. Look for it to be fair to night and tomorrow.

DO YOU KNOW

That George P. Wright twenty years ago was a farmer near Dayton, in Adams county. In '97 he was appointed grain commissioner, and in 1904 he became mayor of Tacoma?

That A. U. Mills, democrat and president of the Northwestern Bridge company, was elected sheriff of Pierce county in '96 as a populist?

THEN IT HAPPENED

Angus Sachetdag was fastidious, but he was not superstitious. He laughed at the old lore of omens—tee-hee, like that. Inmaculate dressed, Angus tripped down street to visit his Angella.
