JAP SIDE OF MARRIAGES

JAPANESE MINISTER WHO PERFORMED CEREMONY TELLS ORIENTAL VIEWS.

While the American public becomes riled at the wedding of a Japanese man and a white girl, and curse the day that Japan happened on the map, there is another side of the question—the Japanese point of view—and it has remained until now for the Times to present that phase of the situation, with Rev. K. Takahashi, pastor of the Tacoma Japanese Mission as authority:

In an interview with a Times reporter this morning, Rev. Takahashi said: "No, such marriages are not favored by the Japanese, and for my part I would rather not marry such a couple. The ways of living of the two nations are too different to allow a belief that a happy union can result. "These opinions are my personal ones, but are shared by practically all the educated Japanese in my country and here. However, when a couple comes to me I cannot refuse to marry them for it is my duty to do so.

Big Japs Oppose. "All Japanese statesmen oppose such a marriage, or any marriage outside the Japanese nation, excepted on Page Six.)

URGES STOP TO SHORT WEIGHT

"We need a sealer of weights and measures in Tacoma. All the time we have complaint about short weights and small measures. You put a city sealer on the job and you will have to add another board to the coal bin, and that cord of wood will look bigger than now."—Mayor A. V. Fawcett.

City Attorney Stiles was this morning asked by the mayor to prepare an ordinance to provide for a city sealer of weights and measures. At present no provision is made to chastise the unscrupulous dealer who emulates the example of the sugar trust and has little springs in his scales, or who saws off a few cubic feet from every cord of wood.

The county has appliances for testing scales, but little attention has been paid to the department, and dealers generally have been allowed to do as they please, give what they like to customers and pocket the results of false weights and measures.

It is possible when the new ordinance is framed that the city sealer's job may be combined with that of license inspector. A couple of years ago there was talk of doing this, and J. W. Martens, who was then license inspector, admitted that he had plenty of time to attend to both jobs and was willing to do it.

The license inspector gets $100 a month, and it is conceded that he could do the additional work for this salary.

SEATTLE MAN SHOT BY NEW YORK THUG

(By United Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—John McDaide, a miner, was shot and killed early today by members of a gang known as the Forty Thieves. "Kid" Seery has been arrested. He admitted the shooting. Papers found in McDaide's pocket show him to have been prominent in Seattle. A photograph of a girl taken by a Seattle photographer was among his effects.

To Open Theater Just For Children

ELSIE CRAVEN, London's Favorite Child Actress.

A "children's theater" will be opened in London next month, in which all of the performers will be under fourteen years old. One of the large theaters will be used. Only afternoon performances will be given, so that the little tots who perform or see the plays will not have to stay up late.

"The plays will contain only situations in which children might naturally find themselves. The love element will never be much developed, for instance," said Miss Lila Field, who will present the plays.

"Since they will thoroughly understand the situations, the children will be able to play these perfectly naturally, the children in the audience will be in sympathy, and grown-up people looking on will find their interest in noticing the working of a child's mind and a child's point of view."

"The Goldfish" will be the first play given.

Among the patrons are the Princess Dolgorouki, Princess Hatzfeldt, the duchess of Norfolk, the duchess of Marlborough, and the Marquis de Soveral.

It is time to pay water and light bills for September.

The treasurer started the collection today and he has $52,731.40 to get in in the next 15 days. The water bills amount to $24,742.15 and the light to 27,989.25.

John W. Lund got soaked the traditional $250 in police court yesterday for beating his wife. He threw an apple at his wife which struck her in the head, after she had refused to "pony up" tow-bits for booze.

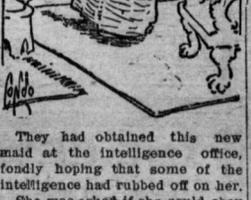

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday received an elegant gold tapestry banner embroidered in Japanese characters expressing the thanks of the Japanese for the cordial reception given the commercial commissioners who visited this city several months ago. The banner is the same as the one sent to Mayor Fawcett.

INDICTMENTS FOR WHITE SLAVERS

The federal grand jury for several days has been digging into the white slave business in this section and this morning a bunch of seven indictments was handed to Judge Runworth. Three of the victims were in court and they all pleaded not guilty and trials were set for the week of November 15, excepting Alden Davidson, who asked to have his case tried in Seattle and this will delay his trial. Philip LaVoie and Arthur Tetreau are also from Seattle and their cases will be tried here.

The other true bills were against men not yet arrested and they were not made public. The grand jury adjourned this noon to reconvene next Monday afternoon.

It will then finish up its work for this term.

GILL BACK BUT CHIEF IS OUT

(By United Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, Sept. 30.—Mayor Hiram Gill arrived at his desk early today and immediately began an investigation of the graft charges made by Acting Mayor Wardall, which ended in the discharge of Chief of Police Wapenstein by the acting mayor yesterday afternoon, two hours before Mayor Gill returned from a fortnight's cruise. Mayor Gill was in conference with friends till midnight and it is believed he is in the mood to reinstate Wapenstein today. Wardall has filed his charges against Wapenstein with the civil service commission charging gross neglect of duty.

Mayor Gill today sent a message to the civil service commission withdrawing notice of dismissal of Police Chief Wapenstein, that was made yesterday by Acting Mayor Wardall. Mayor Gill insists that if Wapenstein is discharged he becomes a private citizen and immune from the investigation of the city council.

Chief of Police Wapenstein arrived home just before noon today. He asserts that he came right through from Portland where he spent the day yesterday. He is in charge at police headquarters and issued a statement to the newspapers this afternoon defending his administration and asserting that there is no graft in his department.

LAFOLLETTE UNDER THE KNIFE TODAY

(By United Press Leased Wire.) ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 30.—The decision of Drs. William and Charles Mayo to place Senator William LaFollette of Wisconsin under the knife at once is regarded by friends of the senator here as indicating that LaFollette is in a precarious condition.

Senator LaFollette arrived last night at the Mayo hospital and it was intimated that the doctors would operate on him at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the removal of gall stones in the bladder.

Haven't You a Dime For Sweet Charity?

If you happen to have a dime lying loose tomorrow which you might spend for something else save it and when some one asks you to buy a tag why get rid of it that way.

Associated Charities' Day is set for tomorrow and the ladies in charge are hoping that the day's efforts will net a handsome sum for the work at hand.

Tomorrow will be the first tag day held for the Associated Charities and as the cause is one of widest scope there is every reason to believe that Tacoma will readily respond.

Permission has been given for the High school students and the pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades to assist in the sale and they will meet the ladies of the committee at headquarters, 937 C street, tomorrow morning.

Puyallup was unable to join in tomorrow's tag affair but will hold one of its own in the near future for the same cause.

THE DANGER TRAIL

By James Oliver Curwood. The first installment of this wholesome novel of outdoor love and adventure will appear in THE TIMES WEDNESDAY, OCT. 5.

IT IS GOOD TO BE FREE

RELEASED FROM MRS. TINGLEY, WOMAN IS REJOICING.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 30.—"My, it is good to be free again!" These were the words that came today from the lips of Mrs. Julia P. Quinn, who was freed yesterday afternoon by habeas corpus proceedings instituted by her brother, George H. Patterson, a banker of Newcastle, Pa., against the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical society for alleged unlawful restraint.

Interviewed in the office of her attorneys, Mrs. Quinn declared that she had not seen a newspaper for months. She asked for a paper, saying that she wanted to know what was going on in the world. She declared that in the two years she was at Mrs. Katherine Tingley's home on Point Loma she had received but $25. Mrs. Quinn said she got $10 on each of her birthdays and $5 when her mother left to go east, where she died.

During that time, she said, the sum of $12,000 had been paid Mrs. Tingley and her assistants for the support of herself and two children, William, 12, and Harriet, 14. She said she was permitted to see the children but one hour every Sunday and two hours every alternate Sunday.

Until two months ago, she lived, during her stay at the institution, in a small bungalow with a tent roof. When Patterson came here from Pennsylvania to see his sister, she was removed from the bungalow into the homestead.

Mrs. Quinn and her brother were showered with congratulations when Judge Lewis ordered her discharged. Patterson threw his arms around his sister and kissed her. Mrs. Quinn burst into tears.

The court said: "Mrs. Quinn, with whom do you wish to go—Dr. Wood of Point Loma or Mr. Patterson?" "I wish," she said, "to go with Mr. Patterson, George."

Mrs. Quinn was ordered released from the Theosophical homestead late yesterday by Superior Judge Lewis. The court declared that the evidence showed beyond doubt that Mrs. Quinn had been restrained by people who had no legal right to do so.

GORED BY MAD BULL

(United Press Leased Wire.) SPOKANE, Sept. 30.—To the quick wit of his 10-year-old son, who threw a dog into the corral and thus diverted the attention of a bull who was going him, James Crawford, a prominent farmer of Colville, Wash., owes his life today. Crawford is in a critical condition. His head and face were badly lacerated and a hole was torn in his side.

CONFESS GUILT

Although Sam Lewis, alias C. R. Backman, and Charles M. Deck, arrested this week for counterfeiting, have both pleaded guilty before the United States commissioner, they will be given a hearing before the federal grand jury, now in session. If a true bill is found against them and they insist on making the plea of guilty before Judge Donworth, it is likely that they will be sentenced at once.

Bert Grimm, the other one of the trio arrested, is vindicated from any connection with the two confessed counterfeiter, and will probably not be prosecuted, but will be returned to the Folsom penitentiary to serve out a term. He is now out on parole.

The school boy, Joseph Evans, who brought about the capture of the men, will be released, and will return to school next week.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE TO BE CALLED

(Bulletin.) NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Sympathetic strikes of union brick layers will be called in Portland, Seattle and San Francisco, according to International President Bowen today.

Mrs. Ida Good for Sensation Any Time

MRS. IDA VAN CALUSSEN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—It's a lean week for the newspapers when Mrs. Ida Van Calussen, the far-famed international beauty, does not bob up with a new sensation, good for a column or two of lively reading.

Since her return from Europe, where, so she says, she captivated half the trousseaued royalty, Mrs. Van Calussen has sued Col. Roosevelt for $1,000,000—or a billion?—and published a book (said to resemble liquid fire), Reno-vated the facial maps of two of her bankers, who, she claimed, were holding out money on her, and spent the rest of her time telling her ex-husband in particular that the time for more trouble was at hand—her hand.

MRS. JOHNSON COLLAPSES

Mrs. Belle Johnson, on trial for her life before Judge Chapman, accused of the murder of Frank Hall, her paramour, is a total physical wreck and has had to be carried bodily out of the court room twice since yesterday noon, there by stopping the proceedings.

When brought into the court room this morning, she fell in a faint, just as she took her seat, and on recovering slightly moaned and cried most pitifully.

The same thing occurred yesterday afternoon when she was brought into the court room, and at that time it was necessary for Judge Chapman to continue recess until this morning. It was then continued until this afternoon. The state has but one or two more witnesses to examine and it is believed that court will be in session until late this evening to allow the attorneys to make their final appeal to the jury, and then turn over to them the fate of the woman.

ELEVATOR DROPS

The city hall elevator, which two months ago suddenly shot up without warning and came near killing Mayor Fawcett, at noon today dropped from Commerce street to Pacific avenue with eight members of the engineering department on board and gave the boys all a severe shaking up.

E. R. Davenport of the Green river gravity engineering department was so badly injured in the back he could not stand nor sit up, and he was taken to the hospital. G. A. Vall was badly jarred and had to be taken home. John Jones had an ankle hurt and was bruised up. T. I. Miller, R. King and W. P. Homan, D. W. King and O. W. Pierce all took the 18-foot drop without any serious injury, but they do not care for any further experience.

The investigation showed the wheel of which the cable runs had snapped in half and the shaft of the wheel was broken. How it came to wait until the elevator was down is a mystery, but a fortunate one for the occupants of the cage.

Mayor Fawcett wanted to throw the elevator out and put in a new one after he was hurt. Experts said this one was all right, however. It was just overhauled and inspectors declared it to be O. K.

WEATHER FORECAST. Fair tonight; probably showers Saturday. Light easterly winds.

"Didn't Look Good to Me When Dose Guys Put Dope in Mould"

How 14 Year Old Joseph Evans Outwitted Counterfeiters.

"Naw, I wasn't 'fraid at all," he knew that a "pinch" was about to be made. "I looked for them all day before they came. Naw, what was there for me to be skeered 'bout. Those guys didn't know I'd squealed and I hadn't done nothing, so I didn't care.

"I first met Sam Lewis last Friday, when he spoke to me on the street and asked if I would carry some charcoal up the hill for him. When I took that up he asked me if I wanted a job, and I had left home and was just looking for a chance like that, I grabbed it. I didn't see anything wrong till Monday, when they made and gave me a nickel. After that I saw a whole lot of dies and the dope they used."

The youngster is a large boy for his age and apparently very bright. He states that he has never gotten along well with his stepfather, J. W. Salyer, and that is why he was not at home but at the G street house instead.

The men arrested were C. R. Backman that the boy knew as Sam Lewis, Charles M. Beck and Bert Grims. All have been prisoners at the Folsom prison, where they hatched the counterfeiting scheme.

IDENTIFY AMMONIA THROWER

The identification of T. P. Herrick, arrested several days ago while attempting to rob the dental office of Dr. Lennox, as the same man who pulled off a similar trick in Los Angeles, early this year, with a Dr. Gleason as the victim, was made complete this morning by the receipt of a letter from the Los Angeles chief of police. Herrick threw ammonia in the doctor's face when he was cornered in the office.

In this letter a description of the man is given which tallies exactly with the man here, and, in addition to that, a picture of the man taken in 1907, when he was arrested for the theft of a quantity of dental gold in Los Angeles was enclosed.

FALLS THREE STORIES; KICKS UPON WAKING UP

(United Press Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 30.—After falling from the third to the main floor of the apartment house in which he lived, early today, John Ratkof was highly indignant when the other residents of the building woke him up and insisted that he return to bed.

Ratkof returned home at 2 o'clock this morning and made his way to his apartment on the third floor. After reaching the top of the stairs Ratkof was greatly fatigued and draped himself across the banister to rest. After his fall police officers were called but failed to find any injuries.
