RIOTERS DESTROY AMERICAN CONSULATE

CONSULELLSWORTH COMPELLED TO FLEE

ROMES OF AMERICANS STONED AND ATTACK ON CONSUL IN GUADALAJARA IS FEARED—DIAZ TAKES PERSONAL CHARGE.

(BULLETIN.) SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 11.—Dispatches late this afternoon report that the American consulate at Ciudad Portillo, Mexico, was wrecked by a mob today. Consul Luther Ellsworth escaped by a rear door while the mob was stoning the building from the front. He was not injured.

The news was received in private dispatches directed to Mexican and Americans here, and is generally credited.

Federal troops were at once ordered out and sent to protect the consulate, it is reported.

The building was badly damaged, according to reports. Further rioting is expected.

The attack, it is said, was fomented by revolutionists in order to divert government attention.

HOW GRIPPEN WAS DOOMED

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—The failure to get into direct touch with Mexico City is rewarded here as giving foundation today for the belief that the situation of American residents in Mexico is more serious than at first reported.

Private cablegrams assert that President Diaz has personal charge of the situation and that there has been no further rioting.

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Nov. 11.—Federal troops are patrolling the American section of Guadalajara today and every soldier in the military district has been ordered under arms ready for instant duty if the outbreaks become serious.

The authorities fear an attack on the United States consulate and Consul Samuel McGill, and are making every effort to prevent it.

The night was marked by disorders and anti-American rioting and although the situation today is considerably better the authorities admit that further outbreaks may occur.

Federal cavalry has been ordered out to protect the American consulate.

During the night a mob, led by students, terrorized the American section of the city.

The rioting following street meetings in which students made rabid anti-American attacks and urged their hearers to seek vengeance for the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez in Texas.

The sentiments were applauded by the crowd and the rioters hurried to the residence district inhabited by Americans, showering stones on the houses.

Communication with Mexico City today is intermittent. The dispatches received, however, are reassuring but lack details.

BELIEVE 80 MINERS HAVE LOST LIVES

(By United Press Leased Wire.) TRINIDAD, Col., Nov. 11.—With 69 bodies of dead miners already recovered from the slopes of the Victor-American Fuel company's mine at Delagua, the total death list is expected to reach 80 before nightfall, when all of the mine tunnels will have been explored. Mine officials who have shown an inclination to minimize the reports of the number of dead, admitted today that eleven men still are missing and probably are buried in the precinct of the prison, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul.

Heartrending scenes that have been frequent at the mouth of the death trap are becoming less frequent. Only a few of the families of the stricken miners are left to await the recovery of their loved ones and all hope that by some chance they might be brought out alive, has vanished.

Morgue Full. The bodies are hoisted to the ground level, shrouded and carried away to the temporary morgues for identification. Already these charnel houses are filled to overflowing.

RHODES' FATE WITH COURTS

Mayor Fawcett is going to let the courts settle whether or not Dr. Rhodes is a qualified graduate licensed veterinarian.

If the court which has the case now says the doctor is not qualified to have a license then Dr. Rhodes will have to go. If the court upholds him he may hold his place, although there is no assurance of that.

"Dr. Rhodes is not my appointee. He had been in here four or five years before I came and I had not heard any particular complaint about him except from the veterinarians, so he staid, but if there is going to be any fight about it I am likely to go outside and get somebody not connected with either side if I can," said the mayor.

BIG CROPS ALL OVER WORLD CAUSE DECLINE IN GRAIN

Farmers Feeding Corn at Low Price to Live Stock, and Making Good Money Out of More Pounds of Meat They Sell—Wheat Drops 22 Cents a Bushel in Nine Weeks—Visible Supply Double That of a Year Ago.

HOW GRAIN PRICES HAVE DROPPED

Table showing grain prices for Nov. 10, 1909 and Nov. 10, 1910. December wheat: 1.03 (1909) vs .80 (1910). May wheat: .88 (1909) vs .65 (1910). December corn: .58 (1909) vs .43 (1910). May corn: .60 (1909) vs .48 (1910).

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Lower cost of living in sight! That is the prediction of leading food experts today, in view of the remarkable and continued decline in the grain markets.

It is agreed that the decrease from the high cost of living of the past two years will be material if— If the meat trust and the grain gamblers do not corner enough grain and enough meat in elevators and storage plants to keep prices up.

Here is the situation: The world's supply of foodstuffs is much larger today than at the same time last year. That means much to the inhabitants of the globe everywhere—in Europe, Asia, Australia, Africa and in America. Especially in the United States is this true. Here we have a supply of foodstuffs which ought to do wonders toward solving the high cost of living as far as the table is concerned.

In the last nine weeks there has been a reduction of about 22 cents a bushel in wheat, while corn has dropped a cent lower than that.

The time is ripe for low prices on all meats and breadstuffs. These should be lower this winter than they have been for several years, if the law of supply and demand is allowed to regulate the prices, unhampered by other influences.

Wheat shot upwards a few months ago when the American crop was reported to be several million bushels short of last year's production. Then came reports of bumper crops in other wheat producing countries—the Argentine Republic especially, and Australia, Russia and India.

These countries are now underselling the American farmer in the foreign markets, and by so doing are keeping American wheat at home. The exportation of wheat from both coasts has fallen off fully 80 per cent. This will result in cheaper bread if, as above mentioned, the grain gambler keeps his finger out of the flour bin.

The visible supply of wheat in the United States is double what it was a year ago. In increased over 2,000,000 bushels last week, announcement of the fact and the proclamation will enfranchise women in Washington state. Indications are that the measure carried two to one.

The canvassing board will meet soon, so it is probable that women will have the right to vote at the municipal and special elections this winter.

LANDSLIDES IN THE STADIUM

Those steep banks at the stadium will not hold. Two landslides played havoc yesterday, one coming right in the middle of the grass plot on the south side. Tons of earth swept down and covered the seats with mud which will take a lot of work to remove.

Another slide took place at the waterfront end and the railway tracks were covered again. It looks as if some rather expensive plans will have to be undertaken to keep the stadium in shape.
