Portland Takes Second Game

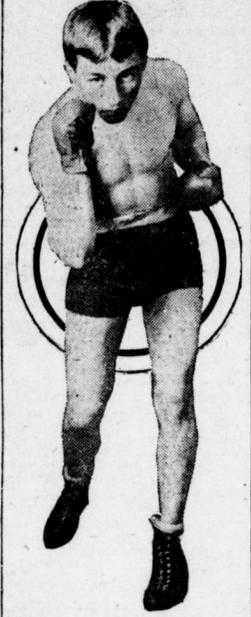

(By United Press Leased Wire.) LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Although Portland has materially strengthened its lead in the race for the 1911 pennant by winning two straight games from the Vernon team, Happy Hogan today is by no means certain that the Northern aggregation will win the flag.

"While Portland has the edge on us now," said Hogan today, "we may win the remaining six games of this series. We are hitting the ball harder than the Beavers and getting more men on bases, but luck seems against us."

Langford and Jeanette Next

(By United Press Leased Wire.) LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Uncle Tom McCarey's latest pugilistic card, a 20-round scrap between Joe Jeanette and Sam Langford, the Boston tar baby, will be staged November 11 at Vernon.

FRENCH CHAMPION IS K. O. BRUISER

Young Kleber, the bantam-weight champion of France, who is now in England seeking a match with "Digger" Stanley, the English title holder. Kleber is a shifty youngster, with a kick in his right hand like that of a mid-dleweight.

If successful in a match with Stanley, the Frenchman will invade America next spring seeking bouts with Johnny Coulon, Tommy O'Toole, Bob Mandot and George Pierce. Although but 18 years old, Kleber has won 33 battles, 23 of them by the knock-out route.

Hogan Licks Jack Gorman

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—"One Round" Hogan of California is a step higher on the pugilistic ladder today as a result of having won all the way from Jack Gorman of New York in a ten-round bout.

Both men were several pounds over the lightweight limit.

WHO'S WHO IN SPORTDOM AND WHY

Soon as we get this world's series settled, we'll lock up bat and ball until next spring, and play football till Thanksgiving. Suppose it would surprise a lot of folks "back east" to know that they used to play football here in all Christmas and New Years.

Well known now among younger business and professional men who figured in Christmas football in Tacoma are: Dr. Wilnot Read, a physician, a fullback; Justice DeWitt M. Evans, a famous halfback; City Engineer Raleigh, end; George Kallman, Commissioner Ray Freeland, Dr. Irvine Hoska, dentist; Sidney Anderson, quarterback, and many others.

"Did you draft any players, Mr. Shreeder?" asked the unsuspecting interviewer of the genial Tiger president. "I see Dugdale was awarded five players by draft."

"If the major leagues should keep out of the small leagues, or should draft only from the leagues just below them, there'd be a chance. But they go through them all with a fine tooth comb. I had my eye on an infielder in a little league down in Texas, and they grabbed him off."

"No, you can quote me as saying that I didn't draft any players," he finished.

Shreeder says the public will find that the continuous ball games in Seattle won't hurt the game here any. The team will play almost as many games on the home ground as they did last year. And we'll always have the games at the last part of the week when more people like to go. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday's games are usually poorly attended. The fans will see the last three games of the week and the Sunday games.

"I think it will work out all right," is his assurance.

Ready For Game With Broadway

The Tacoma High eleven will go through a light signal practice tonight for the big game with Broadway High of Seattle tomorrow. All week there has been but little scrimmaging with the second team, Coach Perkins fearing at this stage of the season to injure a player. With the exception of the substitution of Johnson at center for Pringle the lineup will be the same as before. A large crowd of rooters will leave tomorrow for the Elliott Bay city, all of the 800 tickets sent over by Broadway having been sold.

WHITWORTH VS. OLYMPIA HIGH Tomorrow Whitworth will go to Olympia for its first game of the season, taking on the High school there.

is at stake at all times when dealing with the public. Their honesty is established in the eyes of their clientele, or they would not be called upon. Particularly true, does this apply to dentists. In consulting a dentist go to a man in whom you have confidence. If you have not confidence in a man's ability, you should not go to him. You do not only do the dentist an injustice but yourself a worse one.

The Times has some more good stuff in store for you. Henry Beach Needham, the famous magazine writer, has written a story on Connie Mack especially for the Times. You have read his interesting stories in the Saturday Evening Post and elsewhere. He is a close friend of the Athletics' manager. He lived with him during the last world's series and has seen him often since. He knows Connie Mack as well as anybody. In his story, which is in three installments, Mr. Needham tells the personal side of Mack—tells how Mack gets his ball players, how he develops them, how he disciplines them. In short he tells what sort of a man Mack is and why he succeeds. Connie Mack is a big figure in baseball right now and this story is a hummer. Watch for it.

The Big League

BY CHARLES E. VAN LOAN. Copyright, 1911, by Small, Maynard & Company, Incorporated.

"Huh!" said the wise Moose. "Seventy bones, hey? What's the gal's name?" Biff retired into his locker, growling unintelligibly. "Come through!" said Old Man Perry. "When a fellow pays seventy bucks for a suit, there's only one explanation. Is she a chorus girl?" "No, she ain't!" said Biff hotly. "She's an actress. And a mighty nice girl at that!" he added as an after-thought. The joyful whoop which went up nearly raised the roof. "Best little feller you ever see," persisted Biff. "Knows baseball like a book. Got my battin' average down pat. Some sense to a girl like that!"

"Who's the dame in the blue hat?" he whispered. "That's her!" answered Biff huskily. "Ain't she a dream?" "She sure is!" thoughtfully. Then to himself: "Now I wonder what any fine-looking gal like that can see in a low brow like Bohannon? Well, I quit tryin' to guess 'em a long time ago. The only thing that you know 'bout a woman is that she's goin' to fool you somehow." While the team was in New York, Biff played ball like a fiend. His batting was the sensation of the hour. He became a public idol; boys followed him when he appeared in the street.

"You big stiff!" stormed Merry. "what's the matter with you? Thinkin' about that bottle blonde, are you? Worryin' because some other lobster is writin' her mash notes? You get onto yourself and play some baseball, or I'll fine you two weeks' salary!" Merry expected an explosion, but Biff only colored slightly and mumbled that he was not feeling well. "Honest, John," he said, "I think I got a fever or somethin'." The day in St. Louis when the mighty Bohannon struck out three times to the jeering of a hostile crowd, the members of the team considered that the time was ripe for counsel. The opening attack was neatly maneuvered. It took place in the clubhouse when the men were changing their clothes after the game.

The Result of Legitimate Advertising

It's most gratifying to note the splendid success now accorded to SHERMAN, CLAY & COMPANY. It shows beyond a question of a doubt that it is no longer necessary to resort to sensational methods to sell pianos. The lure of 'SOMETHING FOR NOTHING,' 'PRIZE PACKAGES' or 'CLUB SCHEMES' no longer has power to attract the judicious buyer.
