More Baldheaded Women Than Men, Says Authority

That's Why Women Should Abolish Dandruff and End Scalp Itch.

One noted authority says that there are five baldheaded women to every four baldheaded men, and loss of hair among women is rapidly increasing. This is a startling statement published in one of the standard magazines. This would indeed be distressing news for women were it not for the fact that PARISIAN SAGE will surely prevent loss of hair from either men or women. Ladies' don't worry; this great authority may be right and may be wrong. Just put your faith in PARISIAN SAGE; it will keep for you all the hair you have now and grow for you an abundance of new hair. PARISIAN SAGE is the most delightful and invigorating hair dressing in the world; if you do not use it daily you are missing a glorious treat. It is not a dye and does not contain a particle of dangerous sugar of lead or sulphur. It will banish dandruff, kill the dandruff germs (cause of baldness), stop falling hair and scalp itch in two weeks. PARISIAN SAGE also puts lustre and radiance into dull faded hair. Large bottle 50 cents at all drug and department stores and at counters where toilet goods are sold. Refuse substitutes. Ask for PARISIAN SAGE—the girl with Auburn hair on every carton and bottle. "Virges Drug Co. guarantees it."

THE "DOROTHY" BAG The "Dorothy" bag, the latest receptacle for Milady's knickknacks. The bag came into unenviable notoriety when it was conspicuously carried by thousands of militant English suffragettes in their smashing campaign. A touch of cerise appears on many of the blouses of white crepe de chine. Corduroy coats of a washable quality, with caps or hats to match, are shown for tiny children. The waist line inclines to the normal rather than to any exaggerated short waisted effects. The newest effects in neckwear are not unlike bibs of fine net and lace plaited to a stock and main-

After-Supper Talks With Cynthia Grey

DON'T GET "OLD FOGY" TOO SOON Dear Miss Grey: (1) I am a girl who has lived here all my life, and know quite a few boys who, as far as I know, are nice, respectable boys. The other day I was on the car, and some of the boys from the High school I attend were on. They all spoke to me, and I to them. The people on the car thought I was not decent. I was doing right by speaking, wasn't I, Miss Grey? Should I have paid any attention to the public as I did? (2) Also I want a position, and mamma prefers the telephone office to a factory. Don't you prefer the first? Thank you, for I know you will help me lots. ELIZABETH. A.—Elizabeth, there are some people in this good old world of ours who forget they were ever young. If you spoke to the boys or exchanged a few remarks (not too silly) there was nothing wrong. I have been on a train when the passengers were kept awake half the night by college boys and girls singing and having a good time, and everyone took it good-naturedly. So, don't take it to heart and make too much of it if someone turned up his, or her nose. If you were acting like a sensible girl, that is all that is necessary. If I were you I would take the position where I could have the best chance to advance.

ETIQUETTE FOR THE YOUNG Dear Miss Grey: We are two girls and both have boy friends. Is it proper to ask them to stay to dinner Sunday afternoon? My face gets tanned as soon as I got out in the sun. Can you tell me something to take it off? SUBSCRIBER. A.—It is perfectly proper, and I think will be lovely to invite the boys to stay to dinner—that is, with your mother's consent, if you are staying at home. If not, consult your landlady.

A BIG LIFE PROBLEM Dear Miss Grey: I am engaged to a girl ten years my junior, and I love her dearly. She don't love me, but cares a whole lot for me. There's another she loves dearly, and she wants to marry her. He is not living in town, but she gets letters from him—about three a week. And she answers them. She says she will not quit writing to him as long as he corresponds with her. He don't know she is engaged to me, and if he did I don't believe he would stop. This girl loved me once, but during my absence she fell in love with another. She prefers marrying me to the man she really loves. Please your advice on the subject. H. O. P. A.—The girl evidently has good judgment and recognizes traits in you to which she prefers to trust her future rather than to the ones the other man possesses. If you are patient and broad enough to trust her awhile, she may of her own accord drop the correspondence. You assuredly will gain absolutely nothing by trying to coerce her. It is a case out of the ordinary, and she is probably working her problem to the best of her ability.

A CHILD'S CRY TO HUMANITY Dear Miss Grey: I am almost crazy, a woman is separating my mother and father, he craves mamma, this woman is bad cant I kill her? My little sisters and brothers dont get enough to eat. Papa was so good before, always took me and now he curses me. I have fell back in school cause he wont stay home never a night. Just with this old—excuse me if your father treated you so you would pity me. Cant a man be sent to jail to this? Sister was sick and papa cursed because he had to get a doctor. he says he can keep this woman down town, and he bought her a new hat and took her to the show, to do you think it would be wrong for me to kill that woman? BERTHIE. A.—My dear child, there are laws that can and will help you. If you are allowed to go down town, go to Judge Chapman at the court house, and tell him just what you have me. He is a good man and will do what is best. If you can't go, write him a letter and give your name and address. It is very wrong to kill anyone, and would only make more trouble.

SHE WANTS TO COME BACK Dear Miss Grey: I am a bachelor of 34. Last summer when I was visiting in a town near here, I fell in love with a pretty woman, and we went together for several months. Then she got acquainted with another man who already had a wife. She went with him for a long time without his wife knowing anything about it. But finally he stopped going with her, and now she wants to come back to me. What should I do? Now, please answer as soon as possible, for I know you will tell me the right thing to do. BROKEN-HEARTED. A.—I feel like telling you to do the Potlatch Glide, but I know you, like so many, are blinded with the personal fascination of the woman. Get off to yourself, and appeal to your common sense to guide you. If she dropped you to accept the attentions of a man she knew was married I would advise you to go very slowly in consenting to "her coming back to you." There is another view for you to take—a bird's-eye glance at—she may have learned a good, hard lesson, and profited by it. She certainly shows a lack of pride in proposing to "come back."

FOR MISS SEVENTEEN Dear Miss Grey: How long should a girl of seventeen wear her dresses? How should we wear our hair so it will look stylish? Should a girl of seventeen keep company with a young man? Will high waist shirts be worn as much as last summer? TEMPEST AND SUNSHINE. A.—Anywhere between the top of your shoes to the ankle. Part your hair in the middle and comb down over the ears and dress in a knot at the back of neck. If you are a sensible girl I do not see why you should not have boy friends, but you are too young but leave the heart interest out for awhile. High-waisted dresses will be worn, but not the skirts with the high waist line.

Sure Way to Remove Freckles and Eruptions Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. At such times if one will procure an ounce of common mercurochrome, apply this before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, flaky skin particles come away with it. The entire cuticle is removed in this way in about a week, with all its defects. No bleach could so completely remove every freckle or blemish. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment. In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 oz. dissolved in 1/2 pint witch hazel, makes an effective face bath.—Adv.
