

Jeweler Bunked By "Stevens"

C. T. Gifford, a jeweler at 1127 C st., is mourning the loss of two expensive watches, and a clever confidence man who gave his name as Stevens and said he was employed by the Kent Lumber Co. is chucking because he found it so easy to "separate" the jeweler. Stevens said he wanted to purchase a watch for his son and was given the two watches by Gifford to take to Kent for his son's approval. He failed to return, and a telephone inquiry revealed that Stevens was not known in Kent.

Fire Horse On Sale

Miss Rhoda Royal, Sells-Floto Circus.

"Rinaldo," the ballroom horse, is going to visit Tacoma. "Rinaldo" is the only living equine that can dance the two-step. Horses have been educated to do a great many things since they became such a prime factor in the world of amusement, but no horse ever really danced until "Rinaldo" came upon the scene. He is a handsome blood-bay horse, bred along the Kentucky saddle lines. In performing this difficult feat he actually keeps time to the music, whether the metre be fast or slow. He does so without any prompting from his rider and usually makes three complete circles of the arena. "Rinaldo" is ridden by Mrs. Rhode Royal, who has trained him to do this act. He will be seen here during all the performances of the Sells-Floto circus, which comes to this city July 17. CASHED BAD CHECK George Calkins, social secretary at the Y. M. C. A., this morning reported to Detective Capt. Fitzgerald that he had cashed a check for James K. Gordon July 2 for $25, which had since proved worthless.

- CIRCUIT—Advanced motion pictures daily.

TACOMA

"Kindling," the new play by Charles Kenyon, in which Margaret Illington is starring this season under the management of Edward J. Bowes, is in three acts and the scenes are all laid in a tenement house. The play deals with the most vital of human instincts—the desire for children of a newly married couple. They have come to the conclusion that the realization of their desire would be almost criminal amid their depressing surroundings. Miss Illington will be seen at the Tacoma on Wednesday and Thursday.

PRINCESS

"The Walls of Jericho," by the Princess stock players this week is attracting the largest audience in the history of the theater. It is an attack on the manners of living of the ultra-smart set of London, dramatized by Alfred Sutro.

THE EMPRESS

Harry Hayward, accompanied by Frances Stafford and Alma Bradley, two comely young women, holds the limelight at the Empress this week with the "Fire Fly." It is a comedy sketch that drew rounds of applause yesterday afternoon and last night. Prof. Niblo introduces a novelty with his talking birds, Laura and Cuckoo, the birds speaking three languages. Elizabeth Kennedy and Annie Mack Berlein in "Darby and Joan" have a clever little Irish playlet. "Princeton and Yale" are two clever young people with a bunch of new slang. Bert Cutler entertains with some remarkable work at billiards. The London sisters have a clever singing and dancing novelty.

PANTAGES

Miss Nema "Pudge" Catto, who left Tacoma four years ago to enter vaudeville, is featured at the Pantages this week in the Dancing Casino Girls. She is the hit of the bill. Fred Ireland, singing comedian, has an artistic character act. The Flying Valentines, four men who do everything that is daring in acrobatic and aerial work, are featured. Prof. Woods has a dog and monkey show that opens the bill. Howsley and Nicols are dusky musicians drawing encores. El Barto, a clever magician, keeps the audience guessing. ENSIGN SMITH HOME Ensign Harold T. Smith, engine officer on the U. S. S. Perry, torpedo destroyer, arrived in Tacoma last night and will spend a month visiting his parents, Detective D. O. and Mrs. Smith.

Shoes Made To Order For Dogs In This Little Shop

SCENE IN MINGOT'S DOG BOOTERY.

NEW YORK, July 9.—If all the poor kiddies of America were only dogs, and owned by rich masters, not one would go bare-foot! Pups of the plutes have shoes of finest silk and leather, made especially to their measure—shoes for driving and shoes for walking, and slippers, too, and patent leather pumps for special society functions!

A sign over the entrance of the quaint cobbler shop of V. Mingot, just around the corner from the "Great White Way," reads: "I can refer you, by permission, to many of the best dogs in this city, to whom my work has given perfect satisfaction."

In 12 years of bootmaking for dogs, never a complaint has been made by any of Mingot's four-legged patrons. "And see owners of zee dogs—ah, how pleezed," said Mingot. In Mingot's shop there are special tables and chairs for his canine patrons and everything for their convenience and comfort, even to a bone or two, used sometimes as a quieting influence for fretful doggies on their first visit. When doggie enters with a request for a pair of boots he is invited to jump onto a small table, where the impression of his feet is taken, and general peculiarities of his paws noted, so that all possibility of chafing by the boots may be eliminated.

Three or four days later doggie comes in again. His boots are ready. They are something like small tobacco bags, with the sole of fairly stiff leather and the upper of soft, pliable leather, the whole held on by laces. "The first pair of boots for our own dog," explained Miss Yvonne Mingot, daughter of the bootmaker. "In France we lived where there was nothing but soft earth for the dog to walk on. When we came here his feet got in terrible shape from pavement and sidewalk. "One of our neighbors wanted some boots for her dog. Papa made them, and has been in that business ever since. And it has

Prepare For Port Commission Vote

A. G. Weisbach, clerk in the county commissioners' office, is busy getting out ballots, and necessary routine work to the polling places for the special port commissioner election July 30. There will be but one polling place in each ward in the city, but one in every county precinct.

Playground Apparatus To Be Placed In Lincoln Park

The recreation commission yesterday recommended that the playground apparatus bought for Lincoln park be placed in Ferry park instead. It is proposed to put a high fence around the park, erect a building for the attendants, employ two persons to supervise the playground and then throw the place open to the children from noon until 10 o'clock at night. The commission also recommended that the permit asked for by a Seattle merry-go-round man to put his machine in Point Defiance be granted. Park Commissioner Heath rather favored the idea too, and suggested that if the machine paid this year the park board would buy one next year and operate it at cost. He said one is operated in a New York park and a cent a ride charged. With the playground at Ferry park a social center will be established with a kind of clubhouse for the community.
