Americans Driven Out Of Mexico

Mormon refugees from Mexico who are huddled in a stockade in El Paso until they can be sent back to Utah.

The 2,000 refugees are mostly women and children, and were driven out of the Mormon colonies of Northern Mexico by Gen. Saitzar of the rebel army, who threat-

Legislative candidates waited until the last day generally to file, then came with a rush. Here is the list:

Senatorial—Twenty-fifth district, James M'Neely, W. R. Scott, Mark Graves, republicans; Hugh Herren, democrat; G. W. Garrett, socialist. Twenty-seventh, Walter S. Davis, T. J. Bell, Edmund Croft, republicans; F. W. Wuerch, socialist, and George M'Martin, democrat. Twenty-eighth, Wilburn Fairchild, Daniel Gilkey, Arvid Rydstrom, republicans; Joseph S. Jaynes, socialist.

Representatives — Thirty-fifth district, C. W. Orton, O. R. M'Kinney, J. W. Browne, Louis Gonter, Frank Purse, G. D. M'Questen, John Dueschke, Gordon Powers, republicans; W. E. Lingham, E. L. Breckel, socialist; James O'Farrell, democrat. Thirty-sixth, D. D. Schneider, Dix Rowland, Alvin Muehler, J. W. Slayden, republicans; J. J. Anderson, Talmadge Hamilton, democrats; Alice Yanrell, Sherman Evans, socialist. Thirty-seventh, J. H. Davis, Harry E. Phelps, Jesse H. Read, H. A. Fisher, republicans; G. A. Doyen, W. B. Coffee, democrat; W. E. Reynolds, P. W. Noble, socialist. Thirty-eighth, T. A. Thompson, M. O. Herbes, W. V. Holly, N. R. Loveall, republicans; George Davis, Harry Lewis, socialist. Thirtieth, G. J. Langford, Carlos Jacobs, A. N. Sayre, republicans; John R. Oman, Frank Siegmund, socialist.

The Polo club of the state assembled at the Armory here yesterday endorsed Hay. It also put the stamp of approval on Beverly Colner, and Louis F. Hart of Tacoma was it for lieutenant governor; Harry Rosenhaupt of Spokane and John Ballaine of Seattle, for congressmen at large; Capt. Howell for secretary of state; Ed Meach for treasurer; C. W. Clauson, auditor; Maud T. Hamblin, for land commissioner; A. S. Burrows, Seattle, for school superintendent; Tanner for attorney general.

Who says there will be a tamesness about the congressional fight in this district. With Col. Albert Emerson Joab after the republican nomination and George Hazard and Charles Drury after the democratic there ought to be pyrotechnics for everybody. From all appearances a lot of fellows at the last moment concluded Warburton was going to have it all his own way and jumped in for the last day brought Joab, Tom Van Eaton and Albert Johnson into the second district race against the congressman, this means it will be a second choice affair.

Card, Chapman, Clifford and Easterday all want to stay on the superior bench and J. M. Arntson, Brook M. Wright, H. W. Lueders, J. L. M'Murray and John A. Sorley are going to contest the right with them before the voters in the non-partisan judiciary. The new men say they think they can crowd at least two of the old ones off. The old ones do not agree.

It is hinted that Dr. S. A. Rhodes is serious in going after the job of sheriff on the democratic ticket. Rumors have been flying around the city hall for some time that Doc is to be eccapitated some of these days as city milk and dairy inspector and he is looking for a place to light when the mayor puts him on the spring-board.

Senator Paulhamus, after being urged for congressman, governor, lieutenant governor, senator and county commissioner would up by not being a candidate for anything in the republican primaries. But wait! The Bull Moose convention is not over yet.

There are 154 candidates on the primary ticket in Pierce county outside of the state and congressional aspirants. There are 83 republicans, 33 socialists, who seem to be the second party, and ened to kill all Americans in the war zone in order to bring about intervention. These refugees are being cared for by the city of El Paso and the United States government, which has appropriated $20,000 for their relief. Three of the Mormon women became mothers while en route to El Paso in prairie schooners.

Homer's 'Odyssey' At the Dream

At the Dream yesterday Homer's 'Odyssey' was shown to large attendance. This is a return engagement of the film which continues today and tomorrow. The cast is a large one, over one thousand people being employed. The picture was taken in Italy and Greece and every detail of the poem of Homer is faithfully carried out.

TO SEEK NEW BOTANICAL SPECIMENS IN OLYMPIC MOUNTAINS.

Professor J. B. Fleet of the Tacoma High school, accompanied by Edward Webster, a newspaper man of Port Angeles, will today begin a two-weeks' exploration trip into the Olympics for the purpose of extending their search for undiscovered botanical specimens, several of which were found during July.

Lights and Shadows Of a City's Life

Saturday evening two strangers arrived in Tacoma. By a fortunate chance during the dinner hour they chanced to meet a person of seeming importance who insisted that, being from the same "home town," he should be the host and the three should tour the city in an auto.

It was with a sigh of regret that the two strangers bade farewell to the host, who was sorry, indeed, that he must go home so far to the wife. He disappeared and the strangers turned from the curb to continue their investigations alone.

As it pulled away from the pier a tiny breath of wind brought to the two low-brows the sternly belowered words of the conductor, "Fares, please!"

A moment later another fitful breath bore the single tinkle of a bell register to the low-brows, who gulped and choked on their mouthsful of cheese and bread, amazed that the greed for gold should find its way even to American lake and on such a day.

Where, oh where, is our little Judge gone. Where, oh where can he be. So singeth ye merrie men prisoners in the city jail today, two of whom have been awaiting trial since last Friday.

Somewhere, some say in Aberdeen, is Judge John M. Arntson, making the welkin ring with a party.

And the while eight prisoners are wondering and waiting. In the breast of each beats strong a hope that the judge will come back with his heart filled with leniency for the wrong-doer.

At 10 o'clock this morning the municipal courtroom gallery was filled with the usual crowd of routes. Phone Main 12, Circulation, attorneys and prison- tion Dept.

AN UNNOTICED VICTIM OF WRECK

Suffering torturing pain in his two broken arms, A. V. Graham, brakeman on the worktrain which collided with the Spanaway car Saturday at Tacoma avenue and Dellin street, lies on his bed at 812 South Sheridan, today, the only unnotified victim of the wreck.

During the rush of terror-stricken passengers and eager rescuers, Graham crawled from under the wreckage and walked quietly away though both arms were fractured.

Weakened by the nerve wracking pain, Graham finally met friends who helped him to his home. It is probable neither arm will need amputation.

DOVER NOW PAC. COAST MANAGER

Elmer Dover, manager of the local gas plant for the Blyesby company, has just been commissioned as general Pacific coast representative of the company and he will have supervision over all the plants of the company in the west, including a couple of dozen of the largest public service organizations in the Pacific states.

Headquarters will be opened here with a corps of auditors. Finally, as captain of the "Strong Arm Squad," he has been indicted, charged with plotting in the murder of a gambler who revealed Becker's alleged partnership in the crimes he was to have had "snaps" in the service for the most of his career. He was quick to get into high favor with the "men higher up" and never has been severely reprimanded by superior officers even when he got into the most strenuous of his many squabbles.

LIEUT. BECKER'S HAD A HEAP O' TROUBLE, BUT HE'S SAVED $1,000,000 ON A $2500 SALARY

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—What kind of a man is Lieut. Charles Becker, the human lightning rod in the storm playing over the New York police department, and the man who, even now, stands in the shadow of the electric chair?

Well, Becker is just the sort of man you would expect him to be—the kind of man who just seems to draw trouble to him. Ever since he joined the police department 19 years ago, he has been "the stormy petrel" of the service. For he has figured in more "scraps" than any other officer in Manhattan.

Becker is a handsome, well set up chap, just over 40. He is over six feet tall, alert and of intelligent appearance, and in his trim uniform looks a beau ideal of a "cop."

This Rosenthal affair is not by any means the first killing in which the indicted lieutenant has figured. He has been involved in two others—two that were very great sensations in their time.

Nor were these "killings" all the trouble that has come to Lieut. Becker. He was recently awarded a medal of honor for saving a life, only to face the sworn charge later that the rescue was a "frame-up," the full price for which he is even alleged to have neglected to pay.

He served under ex-Dist. Atty. Jerome in the stormy days of that individual's raiding campaigns, getting into many encounters. He had a long-standing feud with Chief Police Inspector Schmittberger. He participated in a famous controversy with the late Stephen Crane, noted author of "The Red Badge of Courage," over a woman of the underworld.

Although Becker's salary has, at no time, amounted to more than $2,500 a year, still he has had extensive stock dealings on Wall street. Also he has had enough left over to support his family in first class style, to give his mother an income, to pay his divorced wife alimony and in addition, to start the building of a $30,000 home in a fashionable section of the Bronx.

Indeed, the word comes to Dist. Atty. Whitman that Becker is worth considerable over $1,000,000. This is to be one of the stork's biggest points if it is proved, for Becker never made a big "killing" in Wall street, and his salary was scarcely enough to live on more than comfortably.

DISCOVERY OF A SEAL TO LEAD TO ARREST

Discovery of a notary public seal belonging to C. H. Lind, whose offices are in the Provident building, among the effects of William Hermanson, 26 years old, today, will probably lead to the placing of a charge of burglary against his name at police headquarters.

Hermanson, who is a Finlander, will also have to face the charge of having burglarized the Oxford saloon, 1121 Pacific avenue. He was taken into custody at that place shortly after 1 o'clock this morning by Officers Barnes and Barrett, who found a bundle of clothing, several bottles of whisky, and some money on their prisoner, all of which he is suspected of having stolen from the saloon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—Hope for meat eaters through the tumbling of prices, when the frost is on the pumpkin, was the optimistic statement handed out here today by "Tama Jim" Wilson, secretary of agriculture. "Tama Jim" has it figured out.
