REBEL GENERAL ZAPATA THREATENS LIVES OF AMERICANS

BISHOP KNEW NOTHING OF KIDNAPING

ATTORNEY KANE MOVES THAT PRELATE BE DISMISSED AS DEFENDANT IN $40,000 DAMAGE SUIT OF MARJORIE RIEMAN.

Insisting that Bishop Edward J. O'Dea knew nothing of the whereabouts of Marjorie Rieman until after the alleged kidnaping girl had been located in San Francisco, Attorney Kane for the defense today introduced a motion in Judge Card's superior court, a ruling on which may mean that the bishop will be excused as a defendant in the case.

Bishop O'Dea is named with Father George C. VanGoethen and sisters of the Visitation academy, as defendant in an action for $40,000 damages brought by Mrs. Lizzie Magnuson for the alleged kidnaping of the daughter, Marjorie, aged 18.

"In all the testimony the complaint has brought in this case, they have shown that the bishop had nothing whatever to do with any transaction to kidnap the girl," said Attorney Kane, "but rather have found that he was one of those who forced the final disclosure of facts as to where the girl was in San Francisco."

"They have been met with an absolute failure to connect the bishop with any such transaction."

No Claim Made. Attorney Kelly at this time stated that there was no claim made that Bishop O'Dea was cognizant of the alleged plot to kidnap the girl, but that he would bring out in his argument as to what the bishop knew after the actual supposed kidnaping took place.

In citing rulings on similar cases, Attorney Kane took up most of the morning. The jury was excused until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Cross-questioned by Attorney Gordon, Marjorie Rieman testified that she had made no statement to Dr. J. McNethey, a dentist, who attended her at the Academy of the Visitation, to the effect that she did not want to return with Mrs. Magnuson to Alaska. She also denied making such statement to Mrs. Jeanne Gaudette, and that she told a girl named Lucille O'Brien that her mother's place on the Valdez trail was a resort of drinking and gambling.

"I thought perhaps I could help mother to be a better Catholic by being with her," said the girl.

Whether or not Bishop O'Dea will be excused will probably be decided either late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

HEINRICH TOO BUSY TO WORK

The city has to have another chemist now. Impure food, doctored milk, adulterated produce of various kinds it is feared are being fed the people and City Chemist Heinrich says he is too busy to test the wares to find out.

So the mayor has selected Chemist G. L. Pitchford of the University of Puget Sound and he will be put to work on the job.

Heinrich was to do all the city work when he was employed. But after he got the job and got his salary raised he suddenly became too busy to do it so the city has to test foodstuffs.

Heinrich will still draw his entire pay however.

First Mothers' Pension Official And Administrator Explains How The Plan Works; Read About It

BY JUDGE MERRITT W. PINCKNEY, Judge of the Children's Court in Chicago, Who First Administered the New and Beneficent Mother's Pension Law.

At last the people of Illinois have awakened and decreed that poverty shall no longer separate mother and child. The legislature has recognized the home as at least equal to the institution, and has provided the same financial aid for the child cared for in the former as in the latter.

Under the new law the work of the judge of the juvenile court in behalf of the dependent child is far more congenial and satisfactory. There is less of conflict between his duties as a judge and his feelings as a man. The opportunity now given to keep the home intact and the family circle unbroken, and to unite rather than separate the mother and child materially lightens the burden of providing for the dependent child.

The plan of keeping children in their homes with their parents, when they are living and fit, commends itself to all. The great and good work being done by institutions and associations for dependent children will still go on. There is work for all, for so long as poverty exists we will have our dependents—men, women and children, and each generation will have to solve the problem of their care.

Institutional care, however excellent, must give way to a mother's care when such care is possible.

This new law from an economical standpoint appeals to the taxpayer. It materially reduces the expense now incurred in the care of dependent children. Institutions organized under the industrial and straining school laws of Illinois can demand of the county $10. A like sum of money is sufficient to provide for a child at home. Where there are a number of children in one family a smaller amount for each child suffices.

Many groups of fatherless children with poverty stricken mothers come to the juvenile court. Actual experience has taught us that these children can be happily and well provided for at home with the mother, much cheaper than in institutions.

The county of Cook pays out each year approximately $75,000 to institutions for the care of dependent children. It must be conceded that this is money well spent. How much more readily and willingly should the county and the state provide money to secure a mother's care for the child and to preserve the home for both. Surely this is a wise expenditure of the people's money to thus conserve the welfare of the mother and the child, and advance the interests of good citizenship and the cause of humanity.

EXTRADITION FOR COL. OROZCO

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 18.—Preliminary extradition warrants against Colonel Pascual Orozco, sr., father of the rebel leader, are filed today with the local United States commissioner by the Mexican consul at El Paso. Orozco, sr., who is held with six others at Presidio, Texas, will have the charge of murder entered against him, it is said, growing out of the execution of a number of federal spies in Juarez, Mexico, last June.

OVER 3,000 MINERS STRIKE IN UTAH FOR BETTER WAGES

(By United Press Leased Wire.) SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 18.—Apprehension of serious trouble arising out of the strike today of nearly 4,000 laborers at the Bingham mines of the Utah Copper company caused Sheriff Sheup of Bingham this afternoon to consult with the secretary of state as to whether or not through his office shall be sent assistance to the camp.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 18.—Between 3,000 and 4,000 miners struck today at the Utah Copper company's mine at Bingham, Utah, 15 miles from here. President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners ordered the walkout, and is personally conducting the strike.

Sheriff Sheup fears that serious violence will mark the struggle, and is reported to be considering

HUSBAND SECOND COUSIN TO TAFT; WIFE FIRST COUSIN TO GOV. WILSON

(By United Press Leased Wire.) BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 18.—Jared M. Snyder, second cousin to President Taft, is dead here today from apoplexy. Snyder's wife is a first cousin to Woodrow Wilson, democratic candidate for president.

SEEK CAPTURE OF MEXICAN CAPITAL

WARNED UNITED STATES NOT TO INTERVENE IN PLANS—WOULD JOIN FORCES WITH FEDERAL TROOPS SHOULD TAFT ORDER TROOPS ACROSS BORDER.

(By United Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Under date of Yauatepec, Mexico, September 6, the New York Herald today published dispatches from a correspondent there who quotes General Zapata as stating that President Madero of Mexico had broken his promises to reduce taxes and care for the peons. Zapata is said to have declared that he would drive the entire Madro family out of Mexico, would force an honest election of Mexican officials and that, if the United States intervened he would join his forces with those of other rebel chiefs and exterminate every American in the country.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 18.—Telephone messages received here today by F. G. Fernandez, ranch owner, state that General Alanis, with 700 rebels, has effected a juncture with General Salazar's force of 500 insurgents and General Rojas' force of 600 at Colonia Morales, making a total concentrated rebel force of 1,800 at this point.

General Alanis crossed from Chihuahua into Sonora several weeks ago, since which nothing has been heard of him, until this latest report.

MAYOR WOULD FINE FARMERS

PROPOSES THAT THEY PAY LICENSE OF $5 FOR TRADING IN TACOMA.

The mayor thinks that every farmer who comes to town to sell his wares ought to be fined for doing it.

He proposed to the council this morning that every farmer who comes to the city and attempts to sell his goods direct to the consumer so as to save the middleman's profit shall be compelled to first come to the city hall and take out a license and pay $5.

He advocates this because the license inspector complains that he cannot tell farmers who are peddling from hucksters, who are required to take out license.

But it will probably not be adopted.

It is not likely Tacoma will start the innovation of fining farmers for coming to town to trade.

MAKES THREAT OVER PHONE

Capt. Olson, 1514 South Tacoma av., reported to police headquarters last night that some man had been calling him up over the telephone with the declaration that he would kill him. Detectives Thompson and McKay were dispatched to the Olson place with all haste. A search revealed nothing, and the detectives returned. About 10:30 another call came, saying that there was a man sitting in a chair on the captain's front porch. The mysterious visitor got wind of the approaching detectives and took to his heels.

Send Your Cupid's Commandments To the Times and Win Tickets To See the "Heart Breakers"

Myrtle Vail, with "The Heart Breakers," Tacoma theater, September 23 and 24.

Contest In Brief. For the best "Commandment of Love."

- First prize, 1 box, either night.
- Second prize, 3 reserved seats.
- Third prize, 2 reserved seats.
- Fourth prize, 2 reserved seats.
- Fifth prize, 1 reserved seat.
- Sixth prize, 1 reserved seat.
- Seventh prize, 1 reserved seat.
- Eighth prize, 1 reserved seat.
- Ninth prize, 1 reserved seat.
- Tenth prize, 1 reserved seat.

Each "commandment" submitted must be written on a postcard and addressed to the "Contest Editor" of the Tacoma Times.

All contributions must be in the hands of the Contest Editor on or before Saturday noon, September 21.

Each epigram must consist of a single sentence.

Contestants may submit one or more "commandments," as they please, but each must be written on a separate postcard, and only one prize will be awarded to a single person.

Any person who can write a sentence suggestion on how to win a woman's heart is eligible to compete in the Heart Breaker Commandment contest that is being conducted by the Times, by writing that sentence on a postcard and sending it to the Contest Editor of the Times before noon on Saturday, September 21.

The purpose of this contest is to see if the readers of the Times cannot suggest better commandments for love making than those now used by George Damerel and his company in "The Heart Breakers," which will be presented at the Tacoma theater for two nights, beginning Monday, September 23.

The ten commandments adopted by the Saxons in the play as their code of love making are witty, clever and epigrammatic, but the Times believes its readers can improve upon them, by the exercise of their wits, and will reward the authors of the ten best commandments with seats at an performance of "The Heart Breakers."

The form of the dealer must be rigidly observed. The ten commandments now in use by the Saxons follow:

1. Thou shalt not sing "The Rosary" in order to make a girl sentimental.
2. Thou shalt not put thine arm around the girl to keep her warm.
3. Thou shalt not tell the girl's fortune in order to hold her hand.
4. Thou shalt not tell any girl about any beauty who looks like her.
5. Thou shalt not use baby talk except in cases where the lady proves to be more than 30, and any member able to prove any lady more than 30 will be awarded the club's medal for bravery.
6. Thou shalt not call a girl by another girl's name.
7. Thou shalt not kiss a girl who is asleep.
8. Thou shalt not tell a girl she is the only girl you ever loved.
9. Thou shalt not tell a girl what a heart breaker you are. Don't tell her—show her.
10. Thou shalt not tell a girl how many girls thou hast kissed. Remember, it is quality, not quantity, that counts.

ROOSEVELT AND INDIANS POSE

(By United Press Leased Wire.) LAGUNA, N. M., Sept. 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, the progressive nominee for president, and several hundred Suni Indians furnished the subject here this afternoon for what Cecil Lyon of Texas termed "some cracker-jack campaign moving pictures."

The colonel, however, was too busy trying to converse with the Indians to do much posing, but the camera caught him in a number of characteristic attitudes.

Cecil Lyon had the time of his life keeping the Indians lined up in the foreground.

SIX MEN RECEIVE SENTENCES IN THE FEDERAL COURT

ALL PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES OF VIOLATING FEDERAL LAWS—JUDGE CUSHMAN PRONOUNCES SENTENCES—FOUR MORE INDICTMENTS TURNED IN.

Six men faced Judge Cushman in federal court this morning ready to plead guilty to their various crimes and take the punishment decreed by law.

Robert Wolf admitted he had been a bad actor, had passed counterfeit money and stolen, but he said he wanted to reform and be good. Robert got three years at McNeil's in which to consummate the reformation. His indictment just came in this morning and he hastened to get through with the case.

George Coudair tried to show that prohibition doesn't prohibit in the dry town of Everett, but neglected to first get Uncle Sam's approval. It cost him $250 and three months in jail.

William Thirkeldsen, the Tacoma messenger boy who stole money from the postoffice, was given three months in jail.

Harry Rathbone, a railway mail clerk, took a letter with $5.25 in it. His brother appeared in court, made a pathetic plea, told the judge that they were too poor to hire a lawyer and they wanted the young man to take his punishment like a man. The court gave him 10 months in jail.

Walker Loftin admitted he brought an immoral woman from Portland to Aberdeen, and he goes to McNeil's for 18 months.

James Webster, the postoffice robber who was shot in robbing the office at Thomas, got three years at McNeil's.

The grand jury handed in four more indictments this morning, one being secret. The others were Robert Wolf, A. C. Palmer and Michael Holland, both charged with buying army property from Vancouver soldiers.

The secret indictment returned yesterday proved to be against Joe Schmidt, saloonist at 2318 Jefferson av., who is charged with neglecting to destroy revenue stamps on beer sold.

A. B. Williamson, put on trial yesterday for passing counterfeit money in Seattle, was acquitted this morning after the jury had been out all night. He showed he is a hard-working logger and that he got the money while drunk in Seattle making change so he could give a beggar 50 cents to get a bed.

SOME PUZZLE, JUST TRY IT

"HOW OLD IS AN?" DON'T COMPARE WITH THIS PROBLEM—CAN YOU WORK IT OUT?

A new brain puzzle, a belated successor to "How Old is Ann?" has been introduced by C. W. Houston, of Los Angeles, Cal. It is this:

"An article cost $1 wholesale. For what will it have to be sold to allow a profit of 10 per cent after deducting 22 per cent for the cost of selling?"

Mr. Houston says the answer is neither $1.32, $1.34, nor $1.43, the three common answers.

You knew the answer to "How Old is Ann," of course you did. And you told just when the 20th century started and hit it on all the other popular brain twisters, now let's get down to plain arithmetic again and solve this problem propounded by C. W. Houston of Los Angeles:

"An article cost $1 wholesale. For what will it have to be sold to allow a profit of 10 per cent after deducting 22 per cent for the cost of selling?"

Houston says the correct answer is not $1.32, $1.34, nor $1.43, the usual answers given. The Times will be glad to publish your answer.

NOPE! NO WRECK

(By United Press Leased Wire.) UKIAH, Cal., Sept. 18.—Reports of a disastrous wreck on the Northwestern Pacific railroad at Longvale near here, circulated today, arose from the death of an unidentified Greek laborer who fell on the tracks and was killed while stepping from one passenger car to another.

BODY USED FOR PATCHWORK

LABORER CLAIMS 270 PIECES OF SKIN WERE REMOVED FROM HIS BODY TO PATCH WOUNDS IN HIS LEGS.

Two hundred and seventy separate pieces of skin were taken from other parts of the body of Edward Weaver to patch wounds on his legs sustained when a work train on the Yakolt branch of the Northern Pacific railroad was derailed on St. Patrick's day, 1911, according to allegations made by him in a suit started today in Judge Clifford's superior court for $30,000 damages.

Weaver claims the train was derailed by reason of the fact that there was no flagman at a point where a tree had fallen across the track. He alleges he will be a life-long cripple because of injuries to his legs.

PUYALLUP MAN DIES SUDDENLY

PUYALLUP, Sept. 18.—George Austin McMillan, aged 48, employe of the Tacoma Baggage Transfer company for 23 years, is dead here today, having succumbed to an attack of heart failure while lighting a fire in a gas range. His death occurred at noon yesterday. Returning from school, his three children found their father lying face downward on the floor, the burned match still in his hand. McMillan is known by practically every Northern Pacific railroad man on the Pacific coast, and was highly esteemed by his many friends. He has worked for the company since 1889.
