HE'S BOSS OF THE WHOLE U.S. ARMY

GENERAL WOOD IS IN TOWN TODAY FOR VISIT

Dr. Wood's in town today. Dr. Wood, besides being a first-class physician and surgeon, is boss of the United States army. Usually he is known as Major General Leonard M. Wood, chief of staff.

The general crawled up the gang-plank from the Major Samuel Ringold, United States mine-planter, to the Municipal dock at 9 o'clock this morning.

"Good morning, general," said Congressman Stanton Warburton, T. H. Martin of the Commercial club, C. H. Hyde of the Pacific National bank, Captain H. W. Palmer, W. N. G., and Captain J. E. Savage, in chorus, "it's rather a hard climb, isn't it?"

"It's very good, sir," replied the general. "Good enough for me, sir."

Reaching the top, the general paused for breath. The man who commands the most efficient and deadly organization in the world in personal appearance looks not unlike any other business man. He is tall and gray and massive. Rheumatism has its hold upon him and he walks with a peculiar stride.

With the general are the aides, Colonel Charles J. Bailey, commanding the artillery of Puget Sound, and Captain F. R. McCoy of the general staff.

"Are you warmly clad?" asked T. H. Martin.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "I've a very heavy 'west-cott' on, sir."

"Golly, how this place has changed since I was here in '89," he said.

Then the general settled down to business. "I find the Pacific coast posts in as fine order and as well equipped as any in the east," said General Wood, "but the garrisoning of this coast is wholly inadequate, gentlemen."

Turning directly upon Senator Warburton, he continued: "It is up to you people out here and especially to you congressmen. You won't find the east opposing you for it realizes the necessity of this movement."

SAW THE SIGNAL TO KILL GAMBLER

(By United Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Aiming at the damaging testimony given by Louis Krause, waiter, who swore that gambler Herman Rosenthal was shot down at a signal from one of the conspirators, attorneys for Police Lieutenant Becker, on trial here for the murder of Rosenthal, announced today that they would prove that Krause was not on the scene when Rosenthal was killed.

"I saw a man walk out of the Metropolitan hotel," Krause testified yesterday, "and raise his hand to a level with his eyes. Instantly shots were fired and Rosenthal fell to the ground."

GENERAL WOOD.

"We intend to protect our coasts, both eastern and western, and the Mississippi valley. That is the end to which we are working, and you people out here need more troops. If you want them all you've got to do is recommend it in congress. All we can do is suggest."

The general and party departed from the municipal dock to tour the surrounding country before noon, when they will return for luncheon at the Commercial club. At midnight or shortly before, General Wood will take the train for Portland. John Standish, a bystander, who says he witnessed the murder, testified that Whiteley Lewis fired the shot that killed Rosenthal.

CONTRIBUTED

(By United Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—Sworn testimony that his firm contributed heavily to the campaigns headed by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft, was given before the senate campaign contributions investigating committee here today by E. T. Stotesbury, head of the Drexel banking company, one of the strongest financial institutions of Philadelphia.

In 1904, when Roosevelt was the republican nominee, Stotesbury declared he raised a fund of $165,795 for the fight in Pennsylvania.

(By United Press Leased Wire.) BERLIN, Oct. 11.—All the moving picture films in the world that have ever taken pictures of the kaiser are preparing a costly gift for him. It is a book entitled "Der Kaiser in Film," and contains specimen photographs from all records of the kaiser, at home and abroad, with explanations of the pictures, written by authors of repute. The emperor has been filmed about 600 times during the last ten years, often without his knowledge.

SETTLED THIS AFTERNOON.

This afternoon will probably see the settlement by the bonding companies of the total Bringolf shortage in the city treasury.

The bond for Bringolf was $5,000. This will be paid and the bond for Commissioner Freedland will make up the rest of the deficiency.

The city will get every dollar and will not lose a cent by the transaction.

MESSENGER IS HERO IN BIG HOLD-UP

(By United Press Leased Wire.) FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 11.—While four masked bandits who boarded a northbound train on the Kansas City Southern railroad at Hatfield, Ark., early today, smashed the glass in the express car door, Messenger Merrill Burgett opened the safes, hid the valuables and fired on the bandits from behind some trucks. One of the robbers was fatally wounded. The wounded man was picked up by another bandit, who jumped from the car with him. The two remaining outlaws finally smashed in the door and continued the fight.

Burgett, his ammunition exhausted, put up a hand to hand fight, but was beaten insensibly.

Unable to locate the treasure, the robbers tortured Burgett in an effort to force him to reveal the hiding place. When he still refused, the heroic messenger was again beaten into unconsciousness.

When the train reached Potter, Ark., the two bandits cut the air hose, stopping the train, and vanished. Burgett is believed to be dying.

Posses have taken up the trail of the robbers.

SERVIA TO WAR ON TURKEY

(BULLETIN) BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Serbia declared war on Turkey at 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to an unconfirmed dispatch just received from Belgrade.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—Telegrams received here today from Podgoritz, headquarters of King Nicholas of Montenegro, say that the Montenegrin troops are fortifying the Detchitch mountains, captured yesterday from the Turks. It is believed here that the Turkish leaders were captured, although no definite word to this effect has been received.

SEMLIN, Hungary, Oct. 11.—Confirmation of reported Montenegrin victories at Planitz and Detchitch, in which Crown Prince Danilo of Montenegro led both assaults, was received here today. No verification was received, however, of the report that General Martinovitch, the Montenegrin minister of war, had captured Scutari, in Albania.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—A second overwhelming victory for the Montenegrin troops for the occupation of Scutari is reported in telegrams received here today from Buda Pest. The report is as yet unconfirmed, and its authenticity is doubted. If the report is correct, it means that the sultan's troops have met with a heavy disaster.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Another important victory by the Montenegrins over the sultan's forces is told in today's dispatch from Podgoritz. The dispatch says that after a terrific engagement, the forces of King Nicholas, led by General Martinovitch, the Montenegrin minister of war, captured the Turkish fortifications about Tarabosch, near Scutari.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 11.—Hereafter no Mason in California can engage in the liquor business and remain in good standing. This is the ruling of the California grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons today.

"The Spirit of '76" Up to Date

That the Giants are determined to capture the baseball championship of the world from Boston is evident in the above picture of Josh Devore, Jeff Tesreau and Christy Mathewson, who show a flash of the conquering spirit depicted in Willard's famous painting. The photograph was made especially for the Daily Times by L. Van Oeyen, at the Polo Grounds, New York.

HYDRO-AEROPLANE SAVES A LIFE.
(By United Press Leased Wire.) GLEN HEAD, L. I., Oct. 11.—To the latest device for life saving, the hydro-aeroplane, Walter Strobach of Flatbush, L. I., owes his life here today. Strobach, tussling in a rowboat, fell overboard and was seen struggling in the water by Charles Wald, instructor in the Wright school of water flying. Despite the fact that several boats were close at hand, Wald quickly put his hydro-aeroplane in action and was the first to reach the drowning man.

SUPREME COURT RULES BLACK OUT OF RACE

"When I had been told that the court was going to render a political decision in this case I hardly believed it. I have been told that Reynolds met with the supreme court judges, and that they agreed to take jurisdiction of the case. 'Why should I support Lister?' He is the only man who was a candidate for the democratic nomination who did not offer to support me."—Judge Black.

Six out of eight of the supreme court judges handed down a decision yesterday afternoon at Olympia that Judge W. W. Black of Everett is not eligible to run for governor on the democratic ticket.

The question of Black's eligibility was first publicly raised by the Tacoma Times quoting the constitution, and it has been a subject for dispute ever since. The supreme court settles it, however, and no judge in this state may aspire to any other office outside of the judiciary until he doffs the judicial ermine and his term is over. He cannot even resign and run. Judges Crow and Fullerton dissented from the majority opinion.

CROWDS FOLLOW THE GAME ON THE TIMES DIAMOND

Didn't we play that game! If we didn't go to the world's series, look at the fun we had right here at home on the Times' diamond. Everybody saw every play just by watching the board in front of the Times' office yesterday. A glance at the board showed just who was at bat, who followed him, and showed the players

GOMPERS' NAME USED IN TRIAL

(By United Press Leased Wire.) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 11.—The name of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was brought into the trial today of the 47 International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, charged with illegally transporting dynamite over strenuous objections of attorneys for the defense. This was effected by Federal District Attorney Charles W. Miller, when Frank Schilling, a St. Louis hotel clerk, was called to the stand. Schilling testified to an alleged meeting between Gompers and Olat A. Tveitmore of San Francisco in the Southern hotel at St. Louis, November 27, 1908.

ATTORNEY RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Attorney A. A. Howell, aged 50 years, was run down and seriously injured this afternoon by an automobile at 11th and Pacific, said to have been driven by Kitty O'Hara, a woman of alleged mystery. Dr. A. E. Goldsmith, who was on the street at the time, hurried to the side of the prostrate man and had him removed from the street. It has not been determined whether or not the accident will result fatally.

JOE WOOD PITCHES MATES TO VICTORY

SCORE BY INNINGS

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	1	3	8	1

By GRANTLAND RICE. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Joe Wood repeated on Tesreau, and the New York Giants today, and as a result the Boston Red Sox returned to Beantown with the "jump game" once more in their possession and the Giants again one down. "Smokey Joe" Wood, with a gray day to help him out, was all there with a margin to spare. Tesreau was good, but not good enough to cope with the gilt-edged product of the Boston marvel. Wood's effort was unquestionably a big factor, but no small share of the credit for the win must go to a ball playing centipede by the name of Heinie Wagner. The count was 3 to 1, and but for Wagner's brilliant, almost superhuman work, the Giant attack would have left a different story to be written of Wood's days' effort. For four rounds Wood worked at top speed, driving the Giants to the soup trough almost in order. He had them curbed at every turn. In the fifth the Red Sox premier pitcher worked to a raw fizzle, began to break and threatened to crumple up. Merkle slashed one over second and by a great stcy Wagner cut down the hit. Herzog singled and Fletcher cracked another over second, where the flashing Wagner again cut over and by a hair-raising stop throw, the rally was killed. All through the closing stages of the game Wagner and Yerkes stood back of Wood, who, pitching gamely, had lost the smoke to his stuff but was carried along by a defense which was absolutely a stone wall before the Giant attack. Tesreau started again for the Giants, but rocked too badly before hitting his stride. After a bad start he settled in brilliant fashion, but the stand came too late. Both teams played great ball and Boston won a deserved victory, although the Giants once more outthrew the American leaguers.
