Here, at a glance, may be seen some of the causes of the domestic unhappiness of Roscoe F. Johnston and his wife Rose, as they appear in papers now on file in the county auditor's office today.

Johnston is asking for a divorce. He claims his wife had habits of dress that were out of proportion with his salary from the Griffith Wheel company, which amounts to $115 a month.

Mrs. Johnston says in an answer to his complaint that her husband does not support her properly, and that he won't let her ride in his automobile, therefore she prefers grass-widowhood.

The itemized account of Mr. Johnston's indebtedness was called forth by this answer. He states also that his grip upon his job is not of most unyielding strength since the beginning of the divorce action, and that while he holds stock in the company it does not reach maturity until 1917, with the conditions that he must hold his position until that time.

The case will probably be tried in Judge Easterday's court next week.

KILLS WIFE TO END SUFFERING

PARIS, Nov. 23.—M. Beguery, a sexagenarian and former procureur de la republique at Arles, whose wife had suffered from agonies of an incurable malady, today yielded to her oft-repeated requests and killed her with three revolver shots.

The couple were very much attached, but her sufferings made his wife twice attempt to commit suicide.

M. Beguery surrendered to the police after he had killed his wife. The sister of his wife arrived at the station house shortly after and exclaimed:

"Beguery, you are a saint. I know what she suffered for years and what you endured."

Mme. Beguery's sufferings had made her husband neuroathetic, so much so that his friends feared for his reason.

The event occurred at Sannels, near Paris.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 23.—Charged with first degree murder for poisoning his wife, a prominent society woman, Dr. Arthur Smith was arraigned here today and pleaded not guilty.

MAY HAVE MET WITH FOUL PLAY SAY OFFICIALS

Found in a thicket three blocks from the home of George Gould, a few miles from Woodland where he had been living, the body of George Sandstrom, the 16-year-old boy who disappeared November 5, was found today by a posse of deputy sheriffs and relatives that have been searching for him since he was lost.

The sheriff's office was notified this afternoon that the body had been found, but no particulars were learned, as to whether or not the boy had been shot. He carried a gun when he left the Gould home.

Two brothers and a sister who came here from Portland and Stanford university have been helping in the hunt for the boy. A few days ago the search was suspended, it being believed young Sandstrom had gone to a sister in Idaho, but was resumed when word came from her that she had heard nothing of him.

The body will be taken to Melinger's.

Here Is the Best Turkey Menu for Thanksgiving Day

- Total Cost, $3.00.

Here it is! The best Thanksgiving menu in town, selected by Judges Miss Annie Post and Miss Marie Webber for its simplicity and its sensibility.

The decision of the judges makes Mrs. C. W. Bardon, 015 South 11th street, Tacoma's ablest housewife in things cuisine. Not that other dinners might not be most delicious. Indeed no, for every one of the menus sent the Turkey Menu Editor speaks for itself in loud acclaim of praise for the woman who prepared it.

"But this dinner," say Miss Webber and Miss Post, "is a good sensible one, and cheap enough to permit the housewife payment for the turkey. The present price of turkey does not give one the chance of serving a very elaborate menu."

Simplicity is the staff of life, declare experts, which addage is simply a twisting about of older one about bread. The man who invented the first really meant simplicity when he said bread. He spoke metaphorically, that's all.

But that Thanksgiving spread. It may seem strange, but it is none the less true, that Mrs. Bardon's Thanksgiving dinner is almost identical with the one President Taft will indulge himself in the same day. Instead of pumpkin pie, President Taft will have plum pudding. Otherwise Mr. Bardon will be getting the same dinner from his wife's kitchen. And the chances are ten to one that the Bardon dinner will be better than the president's for Mr. Taft's cook is a man.

12 HURT IN CAR CRASH

TWO TACOMA PEOPLE HURT WHEN TACOMA-SEATTLE INTERURBAN COLLIDES WITH PASSENGER TRAIN AT RIVERTON.

SEATTLE, Nov. 23.—Twelve persons were seriously injured and forty others bruised and cut when a runaway freight train on the Tacoma-Seattle Interurban electric line crashed into the rear of a local passenger train standing at Riverton station, ten miles south of this city.

It is believed that several, including Motorman Campbell of the freight, will die. The seriously wounded were brought to Seattle hospitals in ambulances, and those slightly wounded brought in on a special train. The freight train telescoped the passenger car for half the distance of it, and that any of the occupants escaped with their lives is miraculous.

McKinley, attorney for the Pacific Electric railroad, Chief of Police Sebastian at noon today detailed Detectives Wynne and Williams on the case. MARRY TODAY; OFF TO WAR

YOUNG GREEKS MARRY TWO SISTERS WHOM THEY MUST LEAVE BEHIND FOR JOURNEY TO FATHERLAND TO SHOULDER ARMS.

A pretty tale of love and war was today revealed in the county auditor's office, when Joe Fasnich and his friend Anton Padovan secured licenses to wed the pretty Kovacevich sisters, Viny and Klara.

Basnich held the brown hand of Viny very tight as they signed their names to Cupid's register on the page next to Anton's and Klara's. Today the two sister brides and their new husbands are celebrating their nuptials.

Tomorrow the two men sail for the scenes of war to their fatherland.

OLD ELI IS PUT TO ROUT

CHARLES JOHNSON RECEIVES WRIT OF EJECTMENT IN FEDERAL COURT TODAY, WHILE ATTORNEYS ARGUE OVER $40,000 DAMAGE SUIT HE IS BRINGING AGAINST AMERICAN TRADING COMPANY.

Charles Johnson sat doubled up in a knot in the federal courtroom today as his lawsuit was drawing to a close. He is a human wreck. A beam fell on him as he was helping to load a ship, and he is asking the American Trading company for $40,000.

The doctors say he cannot live long, but $40,000 would help ease off his few months. Possibly it might secure expert skill and save him. At least it could provide for his young wife and the little blue-eyed baby of three years that sat by his side in the courtroom.

There was just a glint of hope in the eyes of Charlie Johnson as the case was closing, and the attorneys were presenting the final argument. His attorneys had presented the opening argument. In the darkest moment of the argument of the defense a deputy sheriff of the county tiptoed up to the knarled body of Johnson and handed him a paper.

It was a writ of ejectment from his home. For six years Charley Johnson has lived in a little cot he built over on the tidelands near Gig Harbor. He had planted his little truck patch and added such conveniences as he could. But the state asserted ownership of the property, sold the tidelands to Charles and Annie Lowrie and Judge Clifford issued a writ of ejectment for the crippled longshoreman and it was served on him as the final chapter was being enacted in court to decide whether he shall have a chance or whether he shall be trampled under foot.

Without a home, with health and strength gone, Charley Johnson waits this afternoon for the verdict of the jury.

WHO'S GOT THE JOB? "NOBODY" SAYS MAC

George M. Thompson, who for some time has been deputy prosecuting attorney, has resigned. George is a fine large fellow with blue eyes and curly hair, a very dashing young man withal. Prosecutor McMurray was sought today in an effort to secure information as to George's successor, but unfortunately could not be found. Attorney G. C. Nolte, however, was at his post. "Is anybody appointed to fill Thompson's shoes?" he was asked. "Sure," said Nolte. "Who?" was the query. "Nobody."
