I am trying to help them decide this question and that is one of the most important phases of my work. We want everybody to get good results."

The new system was devised by Assistant Postmaster.

Like to be a Telegraph Boy? WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Men are being substituted for boys as messengers by the Western Union Telegraph company in this city. These men are of all ages ranging from 45 to 70 years. More than 30 men are now employed. Scarcity of boys is the reason given by the telegraph company's local management for employing old men. It was found much easier to get men between 45 and 70 years of age than to get boys above the age of 14, since congress passed a law forbidding the employment of boys below 16 years. Boys of over 16 wouldn't do the job. The local manager says he now has in his employ three house painters, one groceryman, one steamfitter, four merchants (men who had been in business for themselves and failed) and the others are from miscellaneous employments, clerks, etc. One man now earning from $9 to $10 a week as a messenger boy, is the father of seven children; his wife is dead and three of the children are in institutions and the other four he is supporting directly. Many cases are similar to this one in their human appeal. A WASHINGTON TELEGRAPH "BOY."
