Younger circles of the city are giving much attention to the fifth annual opening ball of the Lakeside club, to be held at the lakeside club house on American lake next Wednesday evening. The opening dances of the club are always marked with exceptional interest, and this year's event promises to surpass all others. The clubrooms will be gorgeously decorated in natural flowers. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Lynch's orchestra. There will be canoeing and boating for all who do not care to dance, and refreshments at the close of the evening. A special car will leave Ninth and C streets at 7:30 o'clock for the clubhouse, returning in time to give club members an opportunity to catch the last cars home.

A large gathering of ladies from the neighborhood were guests at a reception given by the ladies' aid of the Oakland Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon. The occasion was a pre-summer rally of members and friends, and celebrated the completion of several improvements to the church building. The church was prettily decorated, and an entertaining program was heard, and the afternoon closed with dainty refreshments.

A May ball has been planned by members of St. Leo's church to take place in the St. Leo's social hall May 29, for the benefit of the new church. A committee of women has charge of the arrangements. Music will be furnished by St. Jean's orchestra.

No Need Being Old or Wrinkled Before 75

Lillian Russell says any woman who has wrinkles before she's 75 is herself responsible for them. Sunshine and air, she considers more valuable as complexion preservers than nostrums and cosmetics. The chief objection to cosmetics is that at best they only temporarily cover up defects. There are certain true aids to Nature, which may be applied with directly opposite effect. Ordinary mineralized wax, for instance, actually removes a bad or old complexion, by gradually, almost imperceptibly, peeling off the worn-out scurf skin. Just one ounce, procurable at any drug store, will soon unveil an entirely new and natural complexion, with an exquisite girlish color. Of course cutaneous blemishes like pimples, freckles, fine lines, moth patches, liver spots, disappear with the discarded skin. To prevent or remove wrinkles, a face bath which also produces natural results, is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in half pint witch hazel. This is immediately effective and gives no untoward after-effect.

Dainty Gown

A dainty lingerie gown is made of skirting embroidery, with a ruffle of net underneath the scollops. This skirt is two yards around the waist line, which is around the bottom and gathered very low. A plain, old-fashioned baby waist, made of the embroidery, with three-quarter "set in" sleeves, make this little frock very quaint and charming. About the waist is a narrow belt of dark blue fallie ribbon, with one end looped under the draping in the front of the skirt. With this costume is worn a lingerie sun hat, lined underneath with navy blue crepon.

The Perplexity of Two Girls. Dear Miss Grey: We are two girls of nineteen, and have been engaged once; the boys wanted us to clope and we couldn't see things that way, so that was the end of that. Now, Miss Grey, we are awful anxious to have a boy friend, but for some reason or other the boys don't seem to see things that way. They all like to talk and joke

Fairy Play is Favorite Of Most Beloved Actress

"DO YOU BELIEVE IN FAIRIES?" SHE ASKS YOU IN THIS WONDERFUL PLAY

MAUDE ADAMS IN "PETER PAN." Isn't this quite the prettiest picture you ever saw, boys and girls? "Peter Pan" is a fairy story, children. It was written to make us all see and love the happy things in life. Everything in it makes you feel joyful. I might tell you the story. But I think it will be much nicer for you to wait and see it. "Do you believe in fairies?" says Miss Adams in this play. And you surely will if you see it. Miss Adams has played "Peter Pan" many times already. This season she is playing it again. And everywhere she goes crowds of little folks and big folks are waiting to see her.

Letters To Cynthia Grey

Puppy Love. Dear Miss Grey: I am a girl of 14 and am in love. We love each other dearly, and all the people talk about us.

Is it all right to go with boys at the age of 14? Is it all right to be married at the age of 15 or 16 years? Yours truly, BROWN EYES.

A—It is positively wrong for a girl of your age to go with the boys in the sense of beaux as your mind is not sufficiently developed at this time to know anything about love.

A girl cannot legally marry under the age of 18 years and a boy under 21. A advise you to apply this surplus energy on your lessons and develop yourself into a woman worth while. It will keep you busy if you do.

"Fell in Love With Her." Dear Miss Grey: I will take your advice to settle my question. I am a young man of 20 and never went with a girl steady in my life; have always tried to be a good boy and have a lot of girl friends.

I went out the other evening with a young lady whom I have known for some time, but never went with before. I fell in love with her, but never told her so. She told my sister she was in love with me. I know if I go with her while I will fall in love with her, so I cannot get away from her.

Shall I go on with her, or shall I tell her the story and drop her? I know I am too young to get married, and she is a real, nice, quiet young lady of 19.

I will anxiously await your advice. J. O. U.

A—You realize that you are both too young to marry for a few years; then you should not keep steady company. You keep your friends and let her keep hers and if each of you have the will power you may associate without appearing ridiculous, even though you think a great deal of each other. Unless you can do this, it will be best not to further the acquaintance.

Kindly give me an idea, as I have a great deal to be happy if necessary, and also want something proper in with us and are very nice, but they never ask us to go to a show or take us any place, and I am sure we treat them just as nice as we know how. When we go out to a dance or party, they all seem to pay so much attention to us; then when it's time to go home they all disappear for some reason or other, and that's the way it goes.

Now, Miss Grey, I wish you would advise us what to do, for we are alone in the world, and feel very much hurt over the matter. Thanking you very much.

KITTY AND DOLLY. A.—Don't appear too anxious to have boy friends. Boys, as a rule, do not care for a girl whose acquaintance is gained too easily. Appear more reserved; it is not a wise plan to joke too much with the boys as it makes you very common in their eyes.

You cannot expect a boy to take you home from a party or dance if he did not accompany you there. Invite some of your girl friends and some of the boys you wish for friends to your home occasionally and entertain them, and I am safe in saying if you are refined young ladies they will ask you to attend social functions with them now and then.

A Basket Social. Dear Miss Grey: Will you please answer this letter as soon as possible?

There is to be a basket social in our neighborhood soon and as I have never attended one, do not know how to behave. When one buys a basket, is it supposed to have a lady's name therein? Must I hunt up said lady and eat the contents of the basket with her?

Are all the ladies supposed to bring a basket of eatables with them at a basket social? Does one eat out of the basket, or should the contents be put on a table? What should one put in such baskets to eat?

Kindly give me an idea, as I have a great deal to be happy if necessary, and also want something proper in them. Thanking you. A GREEN CLOTHOPETER. A—A card bearing the lady's name should be placed just inside the cover of the box, and the man who purchases it is supposed to find the lady and eat supper with her. The lunch is eaten from the basket, unless tables are provided for same.

Each lady is supposed to bring a basket if she expects to eat supper.

Four sandwiches—olives or small pickles, four pieces of cake, fruit and candy is sufficient lunch to put in a basket.

Wrote a Note; He Regrets It Now. Dear Miss Grey: There is a nice girl who has passed the place I work for the last ten months, and I tried my best to get acquainted with her through friends, but failed, so I wrote her a note asking if she wished to get acquainted with me, to write a note.

Since I gave her that note I seldom see her pass and she doesn't even look at me. I believe me, Miss Grey, I am sorry I wrote to her, for I am puzzled. I did what I thought was right.

Please advise me what course I shall take and print as soon as possible. SUBSCRIBER.

A.—You are probably ignorant of the fact, but you will never get acquainted with a nice girl in this way. I have no doubt but that you are a gentlemanly, sincere boy, but a strange girl does not know that you are, and she would be taking many chances if she picked up acquaintances in this way.

The girl surely attends some social gathering; find out where she goes and meet her in this way. Or get acquainted with someone where she works and have them introduce you, then apologize for your former act.

Avoid Too Much Sun

The small hats that we are wearing this summer will have a bad effect upon the eyes.

A hat should be really used more for shading the eyes than for protecting the head. If it is to be a useful article of apparel, (in the case of women we know it is not).

However, if it be only for ornament it is much prattier if it shades the eyes. It makes blue eyes blue; brown eyes darker and black eyes softer to partly hide them under a hat brim.

We have almost gotten out of the notion of carrying parasols nowadays and we have grown to love the sun as much as our grandmothers feared it. But we must remember that like everything else in this world but love and health we can have too much of them.

The sun directly in the eyes day after day will weaken them and also plant a nice little network of wrinkles about them, making one old and ugly before one's time.

If you wear a small hat out in the sun be sure that you have given your complexion a slight coating of powder and wear a veil.

For tennis, golf or other outdoor sports always wear a hat that shades the eyes, and if you can, wear loose gloves. A woman who tans her hands and burns her arms at the sea shore or on the tennis court will find that the skin is never so fine and white again. Don't try to get a "fine healthy coat of tan," as you will regret it
