BY OLIVER P. NEWMAN. GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 12.—The battle of Gettysburg, the greatest in American history, is to be re-fought, but in memory this time, not with bullets. The blue and gray will join, instead of oppose, forces on the historic spot on July 1, 2, 3 and 4, half a century, to a day, from the time the same men struggled for each other's life blood in the decisive battle of the Civil war.
