TIGERS SLUG IN DOUBLE BILL BUT ONLY GET THE FIRST GAME

VICTORIA, Sept. 19.—The Tigers outslugged the slugging Honeycreepers in a double bill yesterday but only managed to copy one of the games.

Josephus McLonman twirled the first struggle and although he encountered trouble in the last few chapters, he managed to get through all right. A double by Young Wild West first put the Cits in the lead.

Harry Meek and Tony Brottem were sent in for pinch hits in the ninth, and Tony responded with a single.

Charlie Swain capped his 34th home run of the season and was presented with a diamond-studded locket by the fans between battles.

In the second game Giro and Belford allowed the Bees to take a long lead, and although the Bengals attacked young Brown so savagely that he was driven from the mound, Barham, his successor, did better, and the feltnes were unable to overtake the winged insects.

Bert Lamb of Victoria was one of the stars of the day. Out of seven times up he secured two doubles and three singles. Clyde Keller did even better, getting six hits out of eight trips to the disk.

Kid Kurff played shortstop most of the two games.

The Tigers return to Tacoma tomorrow and will play the Bees there. They will also play a double-header Sunday in Tacoma.

GOOD LITTLE GIPE!
SEATTLE, Sept. 19.—Gipe was sent in for a pinch hit in the eighth inning yesterday and singled to center, scoring two and giving the game to Seattle 3 to 1.

Reardon was outpitched by Martini, who struck out 11 men. Bancroft sprained his ankle in the seventh.

Chirps & Chatter

BY JAMES W. EGAN.
English scientists are scrapping over men's skulls. Now if any of our s: e Ivory experts let them take a look at the skulls of some of our prominent ball-tossers.

REALLY, THEY DO
An authority on the subject says no one ever swears playing billiards. They don't act that way playing pool.

Said authority claims that billiards is as interesting as golf. This puts the game on the same exciting level with chess.

AND WE DON'T CARE
We do not know if Arthur Pelkey is doped, drunk, or just crazy today.

While some people may think Arthur is trying to avoid the limelight, the fact is that he is probably dodging the searchlight.

A LITTLE CAMEMBERT
Lives there a wrestler with a soul so dead That he never once to himself hath said: "This is a cheesy business."

Mike Lynch says the most cheerful and optimistic man he has ever met is the fellow who yesterday told him he expected to see the Indians finish in fourth place.

HARD LUCK, MIKE
There are too many teams in the league or Mike would finish fourth at that.

With Willie Ritchie calling Harry Pollok a crook, and Harry branding Willie as a coward, it begins to look as if the best training for a lightweight nowadays is a course in debating.
