HENRY LOEFFLER

Is your name Webber? If it is you may be worth millions. Henry Loeffler, a young Australian lawyer, is searching the four corners of the earth for Webbers who are heirs to a $20,000,000 estate in Holland.

Here's the story: Over 200 years ago Webber, "the Merchant Prince of Holland" disinherited his daughter because she married below her station. The fortune then amounted to $20,000,000. As a result another woman had the headache and wanted to go home.

TACOMA MEAT CO. BIG PACKING HOUSE MARKET,
1508 Pacific Ave.

This steer will be held on exhibition until December 24. Every man, woman and child making a purchase will be allowed to guess on the dressed weight of this steer. There will be three prizes offered, as follows: First prize will be Ten Dollars in Gold; second prize, Five Dollars in Gold; third, prize, a splendid Prime Fifteen-Pound Turkey. The prizes will be awarded Christmas eve at 9 o'clock.

In addition to some of these prize cattle hung up whole, will be carloads of other choice meats on exhibition for the public's inspection. We want every person that is interested in this wonderful display of the finest meats obtainable to make us a visit. Everybody is welcome, whether they purchase or not. It will be a splendid opportunity for the public in general to get acquainted and visit Tacoma's best stocked, cleanest and best refrigerated market. You have the opportunity to purchase your meats for cash through this packing house market.

We furnish butchers, hotels, restaurants, camps, steamboats and the consuming public. We are slaughterers of the finest beef, pork and mutton. We are pork packers, lard refiners and sausage manufacturers.

"His Last Christmas Gift"

It was from Jim, the wounded, mountaineer feudsmen!

It was sent from Jim's death-bed to "the old girl" back on the hills!

"The old girl's" life—that was Jim's last Christmas gift!

She took his from him—but he gave hers to her—that Christmas day!

That's the great, heart-throbbing Yuletide tale written by John Fox, Jr.

It is the Times' "Lamp-light Story for Christmas Day."
