Outbursts of Everett True

NOW YOU HAVE IT.
Some people call him "Villa."
The "y" and "l" like "village."
They mean, of course, the Mexican.
Who loves to shoot and pillage.
Old Scout calls him "Villa."
And this is how he spells it:
"V," double "e," and then "a-h."
Hugh Jennings almost yells it.

AN EXAMPLE.
The Governor (sternly)—When I was your age, my boy, I was making an honest living.
The Boy—And now look at you.

SALVAGE.
Two Scotchmen had been having a good time on the heather downs of a little island and were rowing back home across the firth.
Angus had clung to the boat and Jock, who had clung to the bottle, was floundering bravely in the deep. Although a poor swimmer, he struck out for the skiff, holding the bottle in one hand. After a few strokes he began to falter.
"Angus," he cried, "I dinna think I can mak' it."
"Well, if ye canna mak' it, Jock, throw it," called back Angus.

A SELECT AUDIENCE.
The Rev. Dr. Poladexter Smith Henson, who died last week in Chicago, was widely known in Philadelphia, says the Bulletin, as a lecturer and wit. One of his best known lectures was entitled "Fools," and Dr. Henson would have the ticket printed as follows:

TONIGHT at _____ Hall
Dr. P. S. Henson will Lecture on
"FOOLS."
(THIS TICKET ADMITS ONE.)

What sounds like a cackle from a man's own wife is rippling laughter if it comes from some other man's wife.

Justice a Luxury

Speaking of Gompers' victory before the supreme court, after seven years' fighting to keep out of jail, Gilson Gardner says: "It was simply a question of money to hire lawyers to fight the case. Query: Is justice obtained equally by those who have and those who have not the price?"

"No" will be the answer to this question given by every person of intelligence, especially the lawyers. The common man who walks the streets and the uncommon man who runs a big corporation know, equally well, that litigation in the courts depends upon the purse. Money, money, money, and delay, delay delay! After seven years of expenditure, anxiety, embarrassment and public exposure, Gompers gets what is called justice, but it is a mere skeleton of justice, with no redress to him for what he has suffered. He might have spent those seven years in jail, had he not had money-backing, and still come out a free man without redress, simply because an inferior judge erred or was viciously prejudiced.

There are attacks on the courts. Popular disrespect of the courts, and, hence, of the law grows apace. Justice is acquiring the reputation of a harlot with her price. Underlying these things, as a basis, is the popular conviction that justice is not obtained equally by those who have and those who have not the price. The remedy lies largely with the legal profession, whose reputation as an honorable profession is rotting away under the abuses of justice which it has promoted and fostered.

The Great Adventure

The top of the morning to Uncle Jimmie Corcoran and his good wife, of Belle Plaine, Minn., he 89 and she 84—they've just celebrated the 62d anniversary of their wedding, and look good for many happy returns of the day.

Seven children, 42 youngsters once removed and 13 in the third generation live to bless the day when Uncle Jimmie, a bold buck of 23, came to this country from Old Erin, the flame of love in his heart for the bonnie lassie of 18 who came over upon the same ship and later linked her life with his.

And say, maybe it wasn't some celebration when four generations met to wish them well!

Sixty-two years of joy and trouble, storm and sunshine—62 years in the most interesting period that the human race has ever known. And through it all, lovers and comrades, share and share alike.

Nightfall finds them still together, rich in memories, calm in acceptance of what is to come.

No question there that marriage pays.

Two Horses

On a certain farm are two horses. One, as dainty as a woman, is tenderly petted, kept in a padded stall and never has to do a stroke of work except once in a while to run. Then it is expected to run its head off because on one race whole fortunes depend.

The other is a plain, plodding pack horse. Like the man with the hoe it goes to its routine of toil with machine-like precision every morning at sunrise, works steadily throughout the day, and returns to the stall at sunset, wearied and spent.

The horse that does the useful, necessary work is valued very cheaply. You can buy one any day for $200. The dainty thoroughbred, on the other hand, comes high. You can't get a speedy one unless you spend thousands of dollars.

But, then, an American Beauty rose costs more than a dandelion. It has always been our luxuries which have threatened our incomes.

Be kind to work horses. They don't expect justice.

Turkish soldiers are all broken up over an order to use knives and forks at their meals, instead of their fingers. They call it French barbarism and expect to be ordered to arm themselves with handkerchiefs, next.

Take this warning to your heart! Tomitaro Watanabe, sentenced to life imprisonment at Tokio, recited a poem in court and his sentence was changed to the death penalty.

If Bryan's leaving his calling cards at the hotel of Huerta's delegates isn't recognition, what in thunder is it?

Emilio Rabasa, chairman of Huerta's peace delegates, is talking of Huerta's elimination with a buoyancy that indicates that Emilio may reside in Canada for some time.

Bloody old Mars took a holiday, Sunday, while U. S. and Mex. baseball teams fought it out at Vera Cruz. Why not settle it by baseball?

Holland pays old age pensions to eighty thousand persons over seventy.

SHATTERED IDOL

"I understand you are to be married to a motion picture actor?"

"Not now. I've seen him in a film where he threw matches on the carpet after lighting his pipe. I don't want to go through life cleaning up after any man."

A WISE PROVISION.

Diner (in a cheap restaurant) —Why do you have such massive cups and plates here? Why, they're an inch thick!

The Waitress—Well, when the gents get lively and bonces 'em off each other's heads, we don't want no breakage do we? That's why.

A REBUKE.

"Well, chile, seein' as I nebber warned yo' agaln' stealin', you kin bring dat fine ripe watermelon in de house dis time."

"But it ain't ripe, daddy."

"Den yo' just take it right back. How often I done told yo' not to tech anybody's watermelions!"

SYNOPSIS OF PROHIBITION BILL

It shall be unlawful to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors. IT SHALL BE UNLAWFUL TO GIVE AWAY LIQUORS, EXCEPT TO GUESTS IN PRIVATE DWELLINGS OR APARTMENTS, WHICH ARE NOT A PLACE OF PUBLIC RESORT. LIQUORS ARE TO BE BARRED IN CLUBS.

Owners of premises, vehicles or boats where liquors are unlawfully disposed of must put up bond of $1,000, which, upon second conviction, may be assessed as fine.

Intoxicating liquor is defined as "whiskey, brandy, gin, rum, wine, ale, beer and every other liquid, whether medicated or not, patented or not, containing intoxicating properties." It does not include vinegar, sweet cider, fermented fruit juice or denatured alcohol.

It shall be unlawful to solicit orders for purchase or sale of liquors, or to display any sign naming or describing quantities of any liquor, or giving the names or addresses of any manufacturer or place where liquors may be obtained.

Registered pharmacists may sell liquor on physician's prescription, or for religious purposes, or for mechanical and chemical purposes. Druggists must keep record of such sales, with names and addresses of purchasers.

Druggists may sell liquor without prescription in emergency cases for sick persons, where delay may be dangerous to patient. Druggists violating prohibition law lose right to sell liquor for two years, and, on conviction, lose right to practice pharmacy. On second conviction physicians lose right to prescribe liquors.

Any person with or without the consent of the prosecuting attorney, may swear out warrant to enforce the prohibition law. At the trial such person may employ attorney to act as assistant prosecutor. Penalty for violations is confiscation of all liquors and fixtures incidental to sale of liquor, and the sale of any other fixtures, the money to go to the school fund.

IT SHALL BE UNLAWFUL FOR ANY ONE TO ORDER OR BRING INTO THE STATE FOR PRIVATE CONSUMPTION, NOT MORE THAN ONE-HALF GALLON OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR OTHER THAN BEER, AND NOT MORE THAN 12 QUARTS OR 24 PINTS OF BEER AT ONE TIME, BUT A PERMIT TO SO ORDER THE SAME MUST BE OBTAINED FROM THE COUNTY AUDITOR ON PAYMENT OF 25 CENTS.

PERMITS WILL NOT BE ISSUED IN LESS THAN 20 DAYS OF ONE ANOTHER.

No transportation company shall be permitted to deliver such shipments in this state unless such permit is attached to the package, and upon delivery, the permits must be canceled. No permits to be issued by auditor to those convicted of violating the prohibition law. The law, if passed, is to take effect January 16, 1916.

Who Had a Picnic?
A bill from a Tacoma firm charging the county for 15 cents worth of paper plates has caused an inquiry to be made by the county commissioners to find who has been picnicking at the expense of the county.
