

The Next Novel a Week in the Times

Is a story of love and intrigue that holds the reader in suspense to the very last word. Every element of interest possible in a novel appears in Phillip Oppenheim's story.

"Jeanne of the Marshes"

The scene of the story is laid, principally, in an English country house, which has a subterranean passage and secret doors that open unexpectedly out of paneled walls. These give to the story a romantic turn not often found in fiction.

Starts on Monday Ends on Saturday

WHEN TIMES GET A BIT TIGHT EVERY SANE BUSINESS HOUSE CUTS EXPENSES. BUT YOU'LL ALWAYS NOTICE THAT THE FELLOWS IN CHARGE OF THE GOVERNMENT BLITHELY GO ON AND INCREASE THEM. MOST OF THOSE FELLOWS PAY NO TAXES.

The Tacoma Times

THE ONLY INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN TACOMA
VOL. XI, NO. 142. TACOMA, WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1914.

VARIOUS FOLKS, WITH VARIOUS AXES THEY WANT US TO GRIND FREQUENTLY DEMAND WHY WE DON'T DO THIS OR THAT FOR THE PEOPLE. OF COURSE, WE CAN'T DO EVERYTHING, BUT SHOW US A PAPER THAT IS DOING MORE, BROTHER.

For Tacoma and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Friday.

NEWS SUPPLEMENT. (Issued as often as it comes out. Free with every copy of the Times. All the LATE news. Everything absolutely incorrect.)

SCOUNDRELLY OUTRAGE.
Police officers and detectives have been scouring the city day and night for traces of the hardened villain who held up Chicken Inspector Charles Maybin and robbed him of his badge of office. Unless he is caught today, Chief Loomis will take the field and personally guide a posse himself. Captain Fitzgerald has instructed his men to lose no time in bringing the scoundrel to book.

Mr. Maybin is very indignant over his loss, and he intimates that he has an idea who is responsible for the outrage, and while he will not confirm the rumor, it is noted that unsuccessful candidates are guilty.

WHAT'S THAT?
A list having been published of "Who's Who" in Tacoma, we publish today celebrities who have been left off the list through an unaccountable oversight. Many notables are included.

William B. Askren, famed all over the civilized world as the owner of the one Ford.

Lorenzo Dow, the only living American with the genius and mastery of the piano possessed by Paderewski.

Major C. O. Bates, famous as a poker expert and buyer from book agents.

Wayne Keyes, proud owner of the worst looking green hat ever manufactured.

Rev. S. S. Healey, the scrappiest minister that ever pulled on a boxing glove.

William H. Reed, nation-wide authority on the uses and abuses of the flag.

Commissioner Mills, the man who can never understand when he isn't wanted.

Owen Woods, celebrated for his inability to get a meal in a cafeteria.

Roy Cagley, the last word in regard to the correct enunciation of French phrases.

Charles Woodworth, whose red Sox, red tie and red vest are the wonder of five continents.

"After Bogey" Comfort, the champion golfer of the Stella-loom links.

Harry H. Johnston, a confessed poet and therefore Tacoma's leading expert on nuts.

Homar E. Edwards, famed for his knowledge of snakes and their habits, both wild and domestic.

Edward Ramsdell, owner of shrieking tan shoes that compel universal admiration.

Jack Ledwidge, renowned because of his seeming dislike of publicity. (Lack of space compels us to omit many others.)

BERT, BERT!
Bert Timmons says the report he has a great show this week is founded on "The Truth."

OUR OBJECTION.
We object to the Elks building a fine new home. Not that we don't want 'em to have it, but we hate to see Frank Leslie and Pete Daly permitted to enter.

OUR SHORT STORY.
By Governor Morose.
Without, the battle raged. Cannons roared, rifles and dogs barked, and smoke poured from gun and chimney on every hand. Little Ella Cottor crouched in her room, terror-stricken. A bride of two weeks, three days, one hour and 34 minutes, her husband was outside fighting for his country and its great corporations. At every report she trembled, and with so many of them she shook as if with the ague.

Suddenly her brother rushed in. His face told her to expect the worst. He nodded sadly to her unspoken question.

"Dead!" she screamed. "Oh, Heavens! And his life was not insured."

She fainted dead away.

The End.

Q.—How can I make lemonade for a party?—Young Hostess.

A.—Squeeze one lemon through a mangle. Add a handful of seeds and a tub of water. Season with white sand and pour into glasses after adding a toothpick.

BACK ON DESK.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—William G. McAdoo and bride are back from their honeymoon.

TELL US WHY IT IS, FOLKS---

Why is it, folks, that WHEN A CORPORATION FINDS FAULT with a man in its employ it takes less time than it takes to tell it to bounce him from the job.

Why is it that when THE PEOPLE FIND FAULT with a man in their employ they have an awful hard time getting rid of him?

Why is it that when the senate passes a $42,000,000 bill for building a couple of battleships they'd tell us to forget it if we asked them to come through for the starving masses in all our big cities?

Why is it that hundreds of mighty busy men in this city find it possible to handle their business affairs without the use of automobiles, while some public officials we know just can't do without $2,500 machines to perform the duties of their office?

Why is it that so many office seekers persist in running for office when they know real well there isn't enough gray matter in their heads to run their own business?

Why is it that Commissioner Mills, in the face of the charges made against him, is trying to prevent the people from taking a whack at the question whether or not he ought to be bounced?

Why is it that it took an ordinance to prevent Chief of Police Loomis from using the city auto for private purposes when just a little common sense on the chief's part would have served just as well?

Why is it that when we have the finest power plant in the U. S. with the cheapest power and light, the Lincoln school, a public institution, is installing its own plant to light its buildings and run the machine shops?

Why is it that Mayor Fawcett, who was elected to serve as mayor for four years, comes out less than two months after his election, seeking the nomination for United States senator?

CRUELTY, ABUSE, THREATS FIGURE IN FOUR ACTIONS FOR DIVORCE IN COURTS

After 41 years of married life, Robert Kelly was granted a divorce from Sarah E. Kelly by Judge Easterday this morning. Kelly did not appear to contest the case. The plaintiff himself is well over 60 years of age.

Nagging and cruelty were the grounds alleged for divorce. Kelly declared on the stand that he had been severely injured several times and his life despaired of, but that it gave his wife little or no concern.

One occasion, after he had been crushed in the mines and was not expected to live 24 hours he stated his wife had taken the children and had gone to a dance. The couple were married in Baltimore in 1873, and have eight children.

Many acts of cruelty and abuse,

Principals in Sensational Case of Missing Catherine Winter

A new picture of Catherine Winters, her stepmother and Mayor Watkins.

DR. WINTERS, WIFE AND A BOARDER HELD FOR TRIAL

NEWCASTLE, Ind., June 4.—Dr. W. A. Winters, his wife, and W. H. Cooper, a boarder at their home, cannot escape trial in the circuit court on the charges of conspiracy to commit a felony.

The three persons are accused of complicity in connection with the disappearance of Catherine Winters, 9 years old, daughter of the dentist by a former wife. The girl dropped out of sight a year ago, and recent discoveries of bloody garments hidden in the basement of the Winters home have led the officials to believe that she suffered some fate other than that of kidnapping.

Mayor J. L. Watkins, who recently instituted a nationwide search when the child disappeared, issued the following statement: "A solution of the Catherine Winters mystery—the most baffling child disappearance this country ever has known—is at last at hand.

"Some person in this city knows what became of the child. Hundreds of citizens have

WOMAN SLAYS 2 CHILDREN; KILLS SELF LEAVING NOTE IMPLICATING A PHYSICIAN

LONG BRANCH, June 4.—Leaving a note implicating Dr. Walter B. Hill, a prominent physician and active church worker, in alleged illicit relations with her as the cause of her deed, Mrs. Fred Lamb, wife of an automobile top manufacturer, last night slew her two children and then committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor. She spared her infant son.

Dr. Hill's friends believe him innocent and that the woman's letter is an utterance of insanity.

The triple tragedy occurred at the Raab residence during the absence of her husband. When the discovery was made by a neighbor and reported to the police Dr. Hill was taken into custody and detained all night, it being alleged that it was for his protection and as a guarantee that he would be on hand at the inquest this afternoon. He was released early today, however.

SPAIN PLANS PROTECTION FOR ROOSEVELT IN SPAIN

MADRID, June 3.—(By mail to Hendaye, France).—The police here and at all points along the railroad that Roosevelt will travel between the frontier and the Spanish capital are planning elaborate precautions to protect the distinguished visitor from violence while he is in Spain to attend the wedding of his son, Kermit, to Miss Belle Villard, daughter of the ambassador.

That the authorities suspect a definite plot is denied, probably truthfully. Not even in Russia, according to men who know Spanish politics and sociology well, are there as many agitators who consider an occasional assassination a good thing on general principles for the various revolutionary propoganda to which they belong.

Declaring that his wife has stolen money from his business and is not in need of cash, Herbert Jeffery has filed an affidavit showing why it is impossible for him to pay temporary alimony before the divorce case brought by Mrs. Hazel Jeffery comes up for trial. He states that his wife is trying to delay the trial all she can.

Placed On Trial

Edward Hogan, a union leader, charged with assaulting a non-union man April 24, at 24th and A streets, was placed on trial before Judge Clifford this morning. The case was appealed from the justice court.

FIREMEN

ON TACOMA'S FIRE DEPARTMENT ARE VICTIMS OF TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is making appalling inroads upon Tacoma's fire department. Half a dozen firemen have been forced to discontinue their work recently because of the white plague, and another one was given a leave of absence by the firemen's pension board today.

Commissioner A. U. Mills today reported to the pension board that the ravages of tuberculosis were speedily undermining the fire department, and requested that all prospective firemen in the future be put through the most rigid possible physical tests before being given positions.

On motion of Commissioner Mills, who declared that the situation had become unusually grave, Mayor Fawcett was requested to appoint a committee of three members of the board to select a physician and formulate plans for rigid medical tests of all prospective firemen.

A. F. Wright, superintendent of the fire alarm system, was recently taken down with tuberculosis and is now in Arizona. Fireman J. B. Smith today presented a physician's report showing that he was suspected of having tuberculosis, and unfit for work. Smith was also given a leave of absence. The pension salaries amount to $300 per month, and are constantly increasing, because of the number of tubercular firemen who are forced to leave their work and seek a change of climate.

SINGER EVEN SCRUBBED IN HER HOUSE!

CHICAGO, June 4.—Madame Schumann-Heink was her own witness today in the hearing of her suit for divorce from William Rapp, Jr. "In the course of her examination, she told something of her home life.

"What are your occupations at present?" asked Rapp's lawyer. "Oh," replied the songstress, "I help clean house, wash, scrub, cook and do whatever else there is to be done."

"What," exclaimed the lawyer, "do you mean to say you scrub and cook?" "Yes, certainly. Why not?" was the reply.

In his opening statement her lawyer, Elias Mayer, accused Rapp of intimacy with Mrs. Katherine Dean of New York and with other women. He declared that the defendant had been frequently seen entering the Dean apartment at night and leaving in the morning.

VET FIREMAN VOTED $10.50 FOR ILLNESS

Turned down at the last session of the firemen's pension board, M. H. Pakenham, the aged fireman who acts as day telephone fire alarm operator at fire headquarters, was today granted $10.50 expenses for a cold contracted while on duty.

"This man is very old, and has only one arm," explained Chief McAlevy. "He has been a fireman for 25 years and lost his arm in service. We want to keep him on duty as much as possible. The central fire station is drafty, and the old man is frail. I think the board should pay him his expenses while he was sick."

Every member of the board reconsidered his previous vote and gave Pakenham his money.

Warrant Out For Militia Man

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Herbert Crossman, a member of the state militia, who is charged with stealing a blue and olive uniform from the armory. The warrant was issued by Justice Evans and given to Constable Fred Shaw to serve this morning.

It is said that Crossman has taken a large quantity of clothing and has been taking ammunition by the bucketsful and selling it.

Julius Using Axe

Charged with having driven his wife out of the house and broken down the front door with an ax, Julius Johnson, an Old Town longshoreman, was arrested early this morning by Patrolman J. Mills. Johnson fought the officer desperately when arrested.

STATE BOARD AFTER MOSER

As a result of his arrest in Tacoma recently for having signed prescription blanks, and turned them over to Victor J. Malstrom, a druggist, Dr. H. M. Moser, a physician in the Jones building, must appear before the state medical board in Seattle July 7 and show cause why his license should not be revoked.

The medical board's action results from Prosecuting Attorney Dow's complaint to it against Moser. The physician was arrested after a woman drug fiend had purchased cocaine at the Malstrom store, and the officials had discovered the scheme of Moser and Malstrom to evade the law by their fake cocaine prescription blanks.

CHOIR LEADER WAS NAUGHTY LITTLE MAN

CHICAGO, June 4.—Homer Rodeheaver, choir leader for Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist, testified today in his own defense in the breach of promise suit for $50,000 brought by Miss Georgia Jay, a striking blonde.

Rodeheaver admitted that he had kissed and hugged Miss Jay and that he had held her hand a few times during a five weeks' revival meeting at Sioux City, Iowa. He admitted that he had seriously considered marriage but that he changed his mind before he proposed.

Special Cops For Big Festo

Commissioner Mills was authorized by the council today to hire as many extra policemen as are needed this summer to handle the crowds during the Montanara Feste.

Mills reported that he had been asked by the Carnival association to send officers to the race tracks. He said that since the entire carnival was this year handled by a private corporation, he saw no need of sending the city's men outside of the city limits to work at the race track, and that he would ask the race officials to pay all officers for their services.

ACCEPTS MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—President Wilson late today accepted for the government the monument contributed by women of the South to the Confederate dead at Arlington.

Lost Cycle Found

A motorcycle stolen last night from I. M. Pakenham, 2905 South I street, was found at 5:30 this morning at 2282 Tacoma avenue.

Want More Room

Members of the Union High school at Vaughn want another room added to the building so that they will have more teachers.

Fern Hill Has a Fire Department

Fern Hill has a fire department. The citizens of Tacoma's prosperous little suburb got together this week and organized a real hustling volunteer department, with Theodore A. Cram as chief, Charles A. Brown, first assistant, W. Ferre, second assistant, and Walter Coblenz, third assistant.

The fire department is building a hose house and bell tower at Fern Hill, and will place a hose reel there with several hundred feet of fire hose.

MILLER GUILTY
MONTESANO, June 4.—Otto Miller, slayer of Frank Aschberg, Elma saloonkeeper, is today convicted of murder in the first degree, the jury having decided his fate yesterday after deliberating for less than half an hour.

TODAY'S CLEARINGS.

Clearings	$ 367,765.32
Balances	45,106.86
Transactions	1,124,194.75