

"Huh!" said the W. M., scornfully. "Mebbe somebody told you it was Dry, but believe me, Ole Sox, I say Wet, good and plenty. Wet tonight and Friday, anyway."

ALL ENGLAND TREMBLING

LONDON SAD AS CITIZENS AWAIT RAID

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Unprecedented activity prevails in the admiralty here. The censorship concerning all British naval movements has tightened to the very strictest sort of lines. Rumors are current that a fight is pending with the kaiser's fleet. The authorities did not try to disguise anxiety concerning the report that four German dreadnaughts and four armored cruisers have steamed, cleared for action, from their base, out to sea. Unless the British squadron quickly locates this sea force it is admitted there is grave danger in their presence along the coast.

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY. LONDON, Nov. 5.—Antwerp has fallen—Antwerp, the pistol aimed at England's heart. "Let us be masters of the channel for six hours and we are masters of the world," said Napoleon in 1803. "We will show our enemies what it is to provoke Germany," cried the kaiser to a Berlin mob in 1914.

England Unafraid? Antwerp, a city as large as Liverpool and quite as rich, was besieged and depopulated merely to furnish a base against England. Yet England remains unafraid. The man in the street measures coolly without exaggerating or minimizing the naval and military consequences of the taking of Antwerp. By Berlin reckoning November will see London under the terror—fleet and submarines in the channel, Taubos and Zeppelins in the air.

Await Zeppelins. But, says the man in the street, Germany cannot use Antwerp as a naval base without violating the neutrality of Holland. The city on the Scheldt has no advantage over Brussels for an air fleet. Zeppelins will come; they will not return. It is emperor against emperor; Englishmen can protect their own.

"Invade England," was the war lord's order. Englishmen believe that the only invaders will be aerial enemies. Therefore London is watchful, but behind the courageous silence lurks the knowledge that North sea harbors are crowded with waiting ships. Should these be destined not for Cossacks on their way to France, but for Uhlans en route to England then, in very truth, the Teuton is at the gate. For the landing of Uhlans at New Castle, or Hull, would find the British army fighting in France, the island garrisoned by boy recruits.

Citizen Soldiers. London, without adequate fortifications, depends on its citizen soldiers. Millions that might have gone into forts and guns have been lavished on royal sycophants. For a radius of 30 miles London is completely surrounded by troops, 300,000 territorialists being strategically linked in a formidable ring. At Barnes Heights, 20 miles away, other militia with artillery defend the city's ancient immunity.

Nearer still, lies the Welsh Harp from which an immense moat around the metropolis could be created within a few hours. And at Hampstead and Finchley Heights are the last defences, so near that they are in the suburbs. London waits and the waiting presses hard.

Wage paying work grows scarce, unfindable. Within a week sixty thousand Belgians, many of them highly educated, have landed seeking any wage that will save them from starvation. All sorts of shops are closing. Only staple foods are in steady demand at prices fixed by the government. No one has money to spend, no one any desire for amusement. Armies of refugees arrive daily to spread new reports of horror.

The preliminary symptoms are so familiar. It was precisely like this in Brussels and Louvain and Trier.

City is Unreal. After dusk appears a new London, a formless, mysterious city spectra; and unreal. The bridges are dark, the asphalt velvet black, the street lights visored.

LUCK CAME EASY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Sixteen-year-old Marie Helm's mother prospected for gold in Alaska and made a lucky strike without ever leaving her home here. Her mining was by proxy. She grubstaked the husband and wife who located the fabulously wealthy Ophir group of properties.

That is how Marie Helm is today heir to $6,000,000, the courts here having confirmed her mother's right to half the mining wealth owned by Jeremiah L. Wilson, his wife and several other associate millionaires.

Mrs. Ella Helm grubstaked the Wilsons in their quest for gold in the far north years ago, under an agreement, as the court has held, to share half the proceeds from any strike of ore made. She claims her share in the Ophir and other properties is $6,000,000. An accounting has been ordered by the court.

EVANS SLATED POLICE JUDGE

Justice of the Peace DuWitt M. Evans will probably be the next police judge for the city of Tacoma.

Police Judge Frank Magill was defeated at Tuesday's election, and the three republican candidates for justice—Evans, Link and Graham—were elected. The justices get $1,500 a year, but the police judge, selected by the mayor, gets $50 a month extra.

Mayor Fawcett today declared he would not appoint Link to the job, although Link, besides being a former mayor, was once police judge. Fawcett intimated that he did not want Graham in the job. Evans has already served two terms as justice of the peace. Councilmen today urged the mayor to appoint him to the police judgeship.

N. G. SAYS WILLIE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—William Rockefeller, multi-millionaire, accompanied by his personal counsel, appeared before United States Judge Foster today and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with conspiracy in connection with his duties as director of the New Haven railroad.

Two Dry Ones

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Latest reports this afternoon from states that were in doubt yesterday indicate that Colorado will go dry by a majority of anywhere from 10,000 to 15,000, that woman's suffrage was defeated in Nebraska by a heavy vote, and that Arizona went dry by a small majority.

Pierce County Voted Wet By Narrow Margin

With all but two city precincts reported, election returns from Tacoma and Pierce county at 1 o'clock this afternoon showed that the entire county gave only a "wet" majority of 2,310 votes. At midnight last night with 14 precincts missing, the "wets" had a majority of 3,093 votes, but every precinct that was reported today gave a "dry" majority and cut down the earlier figure.

With the exception of the third precinct of the First ward and the eleventh precinct of the same ward, both in the North End, which had not been reported this afternoon, the "wet" vote in Pierce county was 18,225 and the "dry" vote 15,915.

Jones Easy Winner. With 176 of the 179 Pierce county precincts reported this afternoon, election returns indicated that Ole Hanson led W. W. Black for second place in the senatorial race by 1,300 votes, with Senator Jones 2,400 votes ahead of Hanson. The vote, with all but three precincts returned, stood: Jones, 11,707; Hanson, 9,376; Black, 8,087.

Congressman Johnson outran Stanton Warburton in the Third district race practically two to one, in Pierce county. With three precincts missing this afternoon, the vote stood Johnson, 12,417; Drury, 10,060; Warburton, 6,838.

Morris Is Auditor. Further check of votes in Pierce county today merely confirmed yesterday's report that all republican candidates had been elected. With three precincts unreported, Robert Longstrete this afternoon led R. W. Jamieson for sheriff by 13,145 votes to 8,462. Thomas N. Morris, candidate for auditor, defeated J. L. Wadsworth, present incumbent, by 12,667 to 11,333. With one precinct missing, Ralph Metcalf this afternoon showed a lead over Govnor Teats for state senator in the 26th district, by 3,993 to 2,368, with Metcalf's precinct still unheard from—the third of the First. Calvin J. Carr, republican treasurer, was re-elected by the most tremendous majority of any candidate. He received 12,601 votes, in all but three precincts of the county, and his nearest opponent, J. H. Wylie, received 6,004.

Dow Is Defeated. A slight race for office of prosecuting attorney and justice of the peace developed last night, with the possibility that Lorenzo Dow might defeat Fred Remann for prosecutor and that Frank A. Magill might nose out ahead of Judge John W. Linck.

With three precincts to hear from at 1 o'clock today, Dow was 846 votes behind. Remann received 13,053 and Dow 12,107 votes, with Dow running ahead of his ticket. With two precincts missing Judge Magill was 223 votes behind Linck and had no chance of overcoming the handicap.

HIDES IN ATTIC

Declaring that he was afraid to go home because he had lost the money that he had used for selling papers, Arthur Thomas, a 15-year-old newsboy, was found by Officers Calkins and Ellison at 1 o'clock this morning hiding in the attic of an apartment house at 907 South 11th street. The officers had been summoned by occupants of the apartments who heard him moving about upstairs.

Oregon a Desert

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5.—Sixty per cent of the Oregon votes have been tabulated today, with the result that prohibition has carried by at least 40,000 majority. The latest figures on prohibition are 67,243 for prohibition and 32,674 against.

Mexicans Expelled by Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 5.—Listed as "undesirable aliens" by the federal department of justice today are names of many Mexicans prominent in the days of Diaz and Huerta. This city has always been largely Mexican and here many revolutionary plots have been hatched. The latest break between Villa and Carranza resulted in unusual activity in local Mexican political circles. Then came the announcement that federal agents were determined to resort to deportation and extradition of all Mexican refugees believed to be aiding either by counsel or money in sowing revolutionary seeds in Mexico.

A general exodus followed and today the gathering places heretofore thronged with one-time prominent Mexicans were noticeably quiet. Dr. Urrutia, former Huerta cabinet member, has left the city. Several others are known to have purchased tickets for out of Texas points. A clean up in El Paso is also in progress. The report that the followers of Carranza were likely to demand the extradition of those who pledged allegiance to Huerta and were suspected of connection with executions in Mexico City hastened the departure of several prominent Mexicans.

Demos Retain House Majority

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Although republicans carried the entire United States at Tuesday's election, the democrats will still have a majority of 23 in the house of representatives and of 14 in the senate. There will be 226 democrats, 192 republicans, 10 progressives and one socialist in the house, according to latest available figures, with the republicans and democrats expected to divide evenly the six missing districts.

With the large republican increase in both houses of congress, it is anticipated that a stubborn fight will be made against democratic legislation, and that one of the hardest fought sessions of congress can be anticipated when the new members take their seats.

Dry Precincts Are Numerous

Exactly 50 precincts out of the first 160 Pierce county precincts reported, gave majorities in favor of statewide prohibition. Of this number, 29 were city precincts, nine of them being in the south end, ten in the north end, and ten in the west end or 7th ward.

The "dry" precincts of Pierce county follow: Anderson island, Artondale, Buckley, Eatonville, Fox island, Graham, Milton, Parkland, all of Puyallup, Regents park, Roy, Rosedale, and all of Sumner.

The "dry" city precincts are: 1st, 2nd, 8th and 10th of 1st ward; 4th of 2nd ward; 18th of 3rd ward; 11th, 13th and 14th of 4th ward; 4th, 11th, 13th, 17th and 18th of 5th ward; 4th of 6th ward; 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th of 7th ward; 1st, 2nd, 4th and 6th of 8th ward.

POOR OLD SULTAN

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Great Britain has declared war on Turkey, the war office announced officially today. It is expected that France, Russia and Montenegro will follow the example immediately and possibly Japan and Belgium. Turkey withdrew all her diplomatic representatives from England, Russia, France and Servia on Wednesday.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass.

Nov. 5.—It is announced that the stork will soon be a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre. Mrs. Sayre is a daughter of President Wilson.

WASHINGTON STATE VOTE 20,000 DRY

Pierce county's senators and representatives in legislature next January will all be republicans, as a result of Tuesday's election.

The delegation will be as follows: State Senator, 26th district—Ralph Metcalf. State senator, 29th district—Jesse S. Jones. Representative, 35th district—G. Dowe McQuesten and C. W. Schuh. Representative, 36th district—Guy E. Kelly and W. H. Hehny. Representative, 37th district—J. H. Davis and Calvin S. Barlow. Representative, 38th district—Daniel E. Gilkey and E. J. Croft. Representative, 39th district—J. B. Hawthorne and Claude A. Young.

Additional returns today from all state precincts indicated that, with only four-fifths of the vote counted at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the majority in favor of prohibition would reach at least 20,000.

Jones' plurality for the senate over Black and Hanson is large and conclusive everywhere. Congressman Johnson, Humphrey and Lafollette, republicans, were all easily re-elected. Dill, democrat, and Hadley, republican, were the other congressional choices from the state. Prohibition leads by 16,011 votes, according to latest returns from the state precincts. Eight hundred precincts indicate the election of Judges Chadwick, Crow and Holcomb to the supreme bench.

All initiative and referendum measures were beaten, with the exception of prohibition, and the possible exception of the abolition of private employment agencies, and first aid to the injured measures, which are still in doubt. The vote on the blue sky law is close, the present state figures being 30,188 for and 30,019 against.

SIX CREMATED

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Six people were cremated and many thrilling rescues made in a fire which destroyed the Waverly lodging house here last night. The victims were caught in bed and in hallways. A dozen firemen were injured in futile efforts to save lives. The cause of the fire is unknown but a terrific explosion took place in the building several minutes after the fire was discovered.

KAISER PLANS RAID ON ENGLAND

THE HAGUE, Nov. 5.—A raid on the British coast is believed to be included in the kaiser's plans in connection with his campaign against France's channel ports. As their naval base in Belgium the Germans are using Bruges, a town far inland, but connected with the sea by the Zeebrugge canal. Seven German destroyers are reported off the Belgian coast.

GERMAN ADVANCE IS STOPPED

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The allies are at least holding the Germans in check all along the line in France and Belgium and in some places they are advancing, it was announced this afternoon in the Bordeaux war office statement. Advances by the allies are especially mentioned east of Neuport and between Dixmude and the Lys. The Germans are reported to have renewed their assaults between Labasse and the Somme. It is said they are accomplishing nothing, despite their violent exertions in which men are recklessly sent to death.

SEN. COTTER DEAD

Yielding to an attack of heart trouble, State Senator W. D. Cotter, 60, died at his home in Puyallup early today. He was a progressive and well known in the city and county. He had been afflicted for some time with heart trouble.

PIERCE AND KING WERE WET, ANYHOW

Pierce and King counties were the only large counties in the state of Washington that voted against statewide prohibition at Tuesday's election, according to returns today. Spokane county voted for prohibition by a majority of about 3,000, according to latest reports.

The only other counties giving a majority against prohibition were Thurston, where the state capital is located, Jefferson, Garfield and Mason.

Today's Best Joke

POOR GEORGE!
Mrs. Youngbride—George, banks are frauds. Didn't you tell me they would loan money on notes?
Her Husband: Yes, dear.
Mrs. Youngbride—Well, they won't. I took in those beautiful ones that you wrote to me before we were married, and the cashier read them and laughed, but he wouldn't give me a cent for them.
