

SPECIAL FEATURES OF INTEREST TO WOMEN READERS

Personal and Social

Mrs. J. H. Holme will entertain the Women's Ethical and Unitarian society tomorrow afternoon.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stevens, Friday evening, C chapter of the P. E. O. will entertain husbands of the members.

Mrs. Franklin B. Gault will entertain the Neska club a week from today at her summer home near Sumner.

Husbands of the members of the Thursday Auction club were entertained last week at the home of Mrs. F. L. Spear.

Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding Saturday evening of Miss H. Charlotte Nelson of Los Angeles, and Mr. Alfred T. Heard of Seattle.

The bride looked charming in a gown of embroidered crepe voile with sash girde of white satin and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and asparagus ferns.

Topaz circle's guard team will give a benefit masque ball April 28. Earl Kilgore's orchestra will furnish the music.

Let 'Em Be Lazy and Grow, It's Good

Let the boys "loaf" and grow up. Forget the morning song—"time to get up, children!" Sleep is a tonic. Children need it.

THE CONFESSIONS OF A WIFE

(Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Some day, little book, I'm going to have a serious talk with you about "the long arm of coincidence."

It seems to me that things happen every day to most of us in a way, that if the novelist would take advantage of it, he would be called exaggerated and untrue to life.

I had hardly read Donna Tenney's letter telling me about her re-marriage with Bill when I received one from Kitty Malraun from whom I had not heard in a long time.

"You know that some poet has said that a woman in her first love always loves her lover; ever after, all she loves is love. I am not quite sure I have quoted the exact words, but I have written the meaning. Sometimes, my dear, I think that always, first and last and all the time all a woman loves is love.

"Men seem to grow interested in other things. They can, after their first youth is over, make business, art, philanthropy, philosophy, their profession or a thousand and one things take the place of love. Sometimes I think

FASHION LIKES STRIPES

Fashion has garbed herself in stripes for the early summer season. Sometimes these stripes are blue and black, sometimes red and brown, but more frequently they are black and white.

Walter is absolutely perfect as men go. His whole life is given to right and the uplift of the masses. I am sure that he loves me and would be greatly surprised if he dreamed that I was not as satisfied with my marriage and my vocation, my life as he is with his.

CYNTHIA GREY'S LETTERS

G. L. B.: The last man hanged in the courthouse was in 1900 or 1901. He was a restaurant man named Michael.

Q.—I would like to know if there is any chance for a girl to learn to be a watchmaker. I love this trade, for my father was a watchmaker. I am a foreigner by birth.

A.—American watches are made in great factories, and there is no demand for the foreign work done by individuals. There is no way of learning the trade, except by favor of some watchmaker who has time to instruct an apprentice. It is not probable that the work would prove profitable for a woman.

Q.—I have been calling on a young lady for two years, and for some time have called at her home twice every week. I have taken her to many places of amusement, but have never kissed her.

A.—You were absolutely right. The girl is a coquette, and ought to be checked by exactly the kind of reserve she is terribly disappointed in you, but never mind. If you surrender she will rule you forever. Resist now, and you will remain in command should you ever decide to marry the girl.

Q.—I know a dear little girl which I think the world of. I have kept steady company with her for about three years. I am of a well-to-do family and she belongs to a poor family. I have bought her many fine things to wear which she could not afford herself; in fact, I have treated her just as if she were a society girl.

Q.—I am a girl of 18. Like company of both sexes very much. Could you tell me how I could get acquainted with some nice boys of my own age?

Q.—I am 17 years old and have auburn hair and a very clear skin. I have written a motion picture play. Where shall I take it or where shall I address it?

The Man Who Started "An Appeal to the American People"

Doubtless you have read in the press very recently the one-page advertisement published in 200 American newspapers at a cost of over $100,000, and which had as its keynote:

"Let Us Alleviate Human Suffering and Preserve Life---Not Help to Destroy It" signed by the editors of 431 foreign-language newspapers published in this country.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for April 17th there are many interesting details of this propaganda including a statement from the man who acknowledges having inaugurated it.

Besides throwing light upon this important movement, under the following headings there is much to interest you in other directions in the current number of THE LITERARY DIGEST:

- Business Boom Impending
Germany's Dissatisfaction with Our Protest to Britain
Omens in the Chicago Election
A Chronology of the War from January 1st
A Day-by-Day History of the Important Happenings
War and Drink at Odds

Every subject of interest to the average man and woman is dealt with in this foremost American weekly, including the War News, Science, Invention, Literature, Politics, Religion, Foreign Comment, Motoring, Drama, and Sports.

THE LITERARY DIGEST is an ideal magazine for the home--young folks thrive mentally upon it. Ask any school-teacher anywhere, and he or she will be sure to admit that bright children are the rule where THE DIGEST is a visitor.
