

SMOKE, SPRAWL AND EAT

All the prominent physicians of the state—200 of 'em—at a hearty breakfast at the Hotel Tacoma today, sat down and smoked a cigar or pipe, and then walked over to the Tacoma building, a whole block away, for exercise.

There they lit more cigars, seated themselves in soft cushioned chairs in postures that must have been a fright on their spinal muscles, and listened to a number of addresses.

One of the most surprising was by Dr. E. O. Jones of Seattle, who said that goitre around Puget Sound was more startlingly prevalent than almost anywhere else in the country. Especially, he said, this was so with the young folks.

He had statistics from Dr. D. C. Hall, who examines all students at the University of Washington, to the effect that in various years from 15 to 23 per cent of all those who came from Puget Sound suffered from this disease.

Once away from the sound, there is practically no goitre in the state.

The automatic spread of the disease, which many persons mistakenly regard but lightly, is one of the causes.

WANTED HIM HOME NOT IN BASTILE

Unfamiliar with the operation of the wheels of justice, Mrs. Julius Borched of Tacoma swore out a warrant in police court yesterday charging her husband with abandonment. When Borched was jailed, however, she went crying to the office of Judge Evans, begging that hubby be released.

Evans finally discovered that Mrs. Borched merely wanted her husband sent home. He had been "hitting it up" for several days, she said. Borched was released on $10 bail and started home with his wife.

JAPS GET JOBS; WHITE MEN IDLE

ANACORTES, July 22.—All the saloons are closed today as the result of the demonstration of more than 200 unemployed men against the employment of Japanese in canneries. Mayor F. V. Hogan closed the saloons.

WANT MEXICANS TO KEEP FIGHT IN OWN COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—Reverting to the agreement made last winter that there should be no fighting in Naco, on the Mexican-American border, the occupation of this city by Carranza was brought to the attention of the state department by Secretary of War Garrison and it was suggested Carranza be asked to vacate.

Last winter it was decided there would be no fighting in the vicinity as shells fell continually on American soil, causing considerable damage.

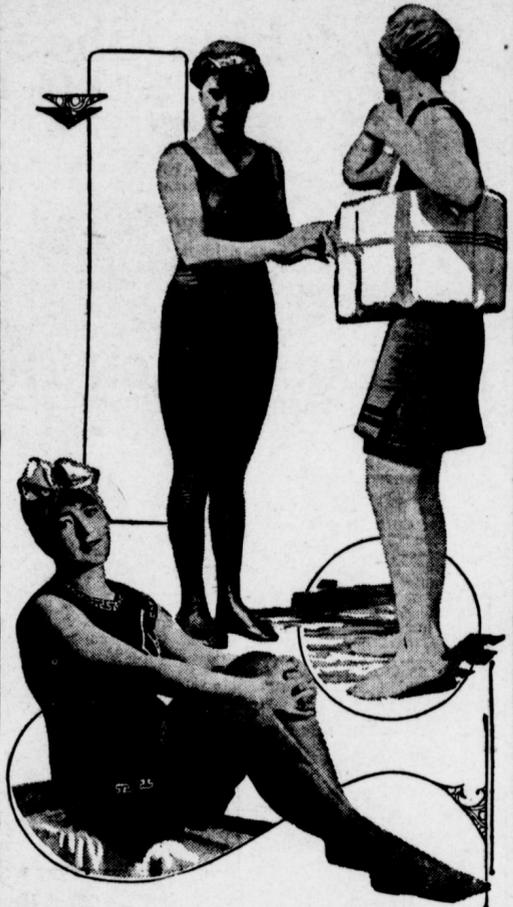

FLAG NOT HURT, SAYS U. S. A. MAN

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 22.—A statement here today by Maj. Elwood W. Evans denies that the American flag was desecrated at Naco, Sonora, by Carranza troops. It is claimed that the rumor was floated by Villa followers.

WARSAW CAPTURE NEAR

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—That American Consul De Sota has taken over the interests of Belgium and Serbia at Warsaw, Ambassador Mays reported to the state department, intimating that the capture of Warsaw by the Germans was imminent.

Portland Censors Decide Some Bathing Girls Wear Just a Little too MUCH

The girl in the black professional bathing suit is the one the censors thought had "too much" on. And the bathing suit without the stockings the censors thought sensible. They didn't object even when the suit was minus the short skirt. But the censors DID object to the suit in the lower picture. They thought the stockings were "immoral" and too "attractive." The stockings should be removed, they decided.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—When Mayor H. R. Albee received complaint from Chris A. Reichen, a physical culture faddist, that the girls at Portland river swimming resorts were wearing immodest bathing suits he appointed a censor committee to investigate.

The mayor received the shock of his life when the censors reported—not that the girls wore immodest or too tiny bathing suits—but that THE GIRLS HAD TOO MUCH ON.

"The girls at Willamette river bathing resorts are very vulgar," wrote Reichen. "They garb themselves in scanty boys' bathing outfits, no skirts or stockings helping to hide their legs or shapes. This should be stopped."

"Awful! Awful!" ejaculated the mayor when he read the letter. "BHI! BHI! BILL!" he yelled to his secretary. "For heaven's sake, tell Harbor Captain Speier to take a censor committee up the river and find out about this."

A general inspection of all bathing resorts resulted in a verdict that Portland's bathing girls on the whole were dressed modestly enough, BUT THAT THE MEN WERE IMMODESTLY GARBED! The censors did not think boys' bathing suits on girls were immodest—they declared them safer and saner than the clumsy old style bloomer suits.

But the censors did object to "boys' bathing suits on men. They said some of the men bathers wore tiny suits which made their legs and

CHIEF WOLF PLUME

Fancy addressing a six-foot Indian chief clad in beaded buckskin, feathered headdress and red blanket as "Your Honor."

Yet Chief Wolf Plume, head of the 3000 Blackfoot Indians on the reservation at Glacier National Park, can insist upon that salutation and produce a federal judge's appointment to support his claim.

For the last 12 years Wolf Plume has dispensed justice to the members of his tribe as a United States judge.

He has never been known to grant a divorce, although many have been brought before him. His formula is to jail the offending husband until he promises to mend his way, or order the husband to forgive his wife and continue to live with her, should he be the plaintiff.

Horse thieves and peddlers of "fire-water" constitute the majority of prisoners haled before him. Judge Wolf Plume requires the thief to restore the horse in the one character of case, and in the other confiscates the liquor and sends the offender to Fort Leavenworth for four or six months.

THAT AUTO ROAD ALL RIGHT NOW

—OLYMPIA, July 22.—Word was received yesterday by Governor Ernest Lister from those in charge of repairing the damaged section of the Snoqualmie pass highway that the road is now in excellent condition. The heavy rains in the early summer made travel nearly impossible.

CHILDREN'S HOME IN REAL NEED OF HELP

Patronesses of the Children's home of Tacoma, who are giving a country fair at the Clover Park station on the American lake line, near Gravelly lake, declare that statements were made at the city hall recently concerning the home that were misleading and harmful.

A request of the home for free light and water caused the statements to be made. It was announced at a council session that the home was self-sustaining, the women declare, when in reality they are forced to resort to charity to operate it.

The fixed charges at the home are $6 monthly a child, $5 apiece for two or more children from the same family, and $10 for infants requiring nursery care.

But the patronesses declare that in most cases they are getting no revenue from the care of children. They cite the month of June, when monthly bills to the amount of $1,400 were sent out to parents of charges at the home, and less than $200 was received.

The country fair is being given July 30 and 31 in an effort to raise sufficient funds to operate the home through winter.

PAY $6,000 RANSOM

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., July 22.—One of the most daring of kidnaping feats this country ever has known came to success today when the relatives of E. A. Empey, wealthy cattleman and sheepman, paid $6,000 ransom for his release.

The money was paid over in such a manner that the sheriff, his posse of cowboys, and other volunteer forces which have been trying to rescue Empey have no chance to capture his abductors.

The ransom was paid only after residents of all this part of the state and western Wyoming had become convinced that the bandits who have Empey in their power in a mountain wilderness will kill him, just as they have threatened.

Indications are that there are at least three desperadoes in the party which caught and is holding Empey.

A sheepherder arrived here late yesterday with news that three men, armed, had visited his camp Monday night, stolen his horses and provisions, and left him helpless out on a hot, dry Idaho flat.

REFUSE WAR ORDER FOR 80 MILLIONS

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 22.—All the folks are blinking their eyes here today.

The Republic Metalware Co. refused an $80,000,000 order for cartridges for the allies.

J. F. Foster, a director and treasurer of the company, explaining why it was refused, said: "We held a meeting of the directors and they decided that the company would not undertake to manufacture any article for this war that would involve the loss of human life. There are higher standards in business than the accumulation of profits."

MOTORCYCLIST IS HURLED THROUGH WINDOW; UNHURT

Swerving sharply to avoid striking a woman at 11th and Tacoma ave. yesterday afternoon, while coming down the hill on his motorcycle, Paul Haniger, age 18, lost control of his machine and crashed through the plate glass window of a vacant store, 1108 Tacoma. His only injuries were a few cuts and scratches from broken glass.

WEST IS STILL WILD IN SPOTS

This photograph shows how the recent holdup in Yellowstone park was accomplished. The picture was made at the scene of the robbery and shows two of the stages that were halted. The figure in the foreground is posing as the bandit. Five coaches were held up, most of them occupied by women. There were three robbers in all; two "lookouts," who guarded the road, and a third who went through the passengers. A man in the fifth coach refused to throw up his hands and jumped out and dashed into the woods. The robber shot a him, but he escaped and gave the alarm to the coaches following. This prevented the robbing of the other stages. The road agents gathered up his coach and plunged into the heavy timber. It is estimated that they obtained $800 to $1,000. It is believed the outlaws escaped to the Jackson Hole country.

MASHER HIT, JAILED; ALSO LOSES STAND

With the trial for "mashing" in police court late yesterday of George Pavlakas, bootblack at the Municipal dock, it developed that his victim Monday night was Miss Mabel Moore, niece of former Assistant Attorney F. R. Baker. Miss Moore had kept her identity a secret until she was called to the stand.

When Pavlakas attempted to flirt with Miss Moore at Ninth and Tacoma av., she doubled up her fist and struck him a vigorous blow on the jaw. The bootblack reel and she struck him again. Then Orville P. Cary saw the fracas and hit Pavlakas so hard that he had to go to a hospital.

14 Rioters Are Killed

LISBON, July 22.—Fourteen persons were killed and 15 were wounded when soldiers today fired on a mob attacking the municipal offices at Lamego.

The meager reports do not state the cause of the riot.

IRONDALE MANAGER IS DEAD

William Price, a mining engineer of great prominence in the steel industry, died last night at his home, 3011 North Warner street.

He formerly was employed in the steel mills of Pittsburgh and came to the coast a few years ago as manager of the Irondale plant, near Port Townsend, which gave promise of becoming a large factor in the steel trade of this section.

Following the collapse of the company he came to Tacoma.

His illness is said to have been brought on by worry over the company's smash.

He died at the age of 59. He leaves a widow, a son, Roy, and a daughter, Mrs. E. W. Steele.

URGES CONCERTED EFFORT

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 22.—Frank Jennings, vice president of the International Machinists' union, today appealed to the eastern officers and organizers to concentrate upon New England for shorter hours and more pay.

He suggested that Boston, Springfield, Worcester, Providence and Bridgeport be points at which campaigns should be started.

Jennings declared that strikes would be declared in many cities unless the workers are permitted to share in the benefits of the war orders being filled by the various factories.

WELCOME ITALIAN-AMERICANS

NAPLES, July 22.—A huge crowd welcomed 2,000 Italian volunteers from the United States upon their arrival to fight for the land of their birth.

ST. LOUIS FIRM GETS ARMS ORDER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 22.—An order was received yesterday by the Western Cartridge company from the Spanish government for a large order of cartridges. It will require several months to fill it.
