Tahoma to Print Vacation Issue

Vacation stories and vacation pictures, will fill the first issue of the Tahoma, which is to make its appearance Oct. 6.

At a joint meeting of the staffs from the Lincoln Park and Stadium high schools Monday afternoon it was decided to make the first edition one to be remembered.

Generally the first issues are rather skinny and short of material, due, it is said, to the lack of time to gather the necessary money from advertisers.

This year the staff intends putting out a large paper, figuring on recouping later in the semester with Tahoma dances.

These dances have not yet been sanctioned by the faculty, but it is thought they will meet with approval.

Staff artists began immediately after the meeting to spill the India ink in queer and exaggerated caricatures of the "most prominent ones" of the sister high schools; students with pictures of their summer lazy days, or working ones, were urged to hand them in.

And the Answer Is "Ice Cream"

SEATTLE, Sept. 14. — The school board has expended many thousands of dollars equipping the high schools with lunch rooms where good, wholesome food is served the students at low cost.

But the lunch rooms are surprisingly unpopular. The corner stores get the business.

"Why?" asked the school board.

"Why?" questioned Principal Cole at Broadway. And he appointed a committee of senior girls to find out.

Yesterday the answer came twice. Once in a report to Principal Cole by the girls' committee. The second time in a petition read at the school board meeting. And the answer is "ice cream."

Last year the school board decided ice cream twice a week was sufficient for the students. Immediately thereafter the popularity of the lunch room began to wane.

Soccer Coaches to Meet

Coaching meetings of the Tacoma grammar schools will be held at regular intervals throughout the early part of the training season in the central school, according to an announcement made today by Supervisor Kelly of the city schools.

The great efficiency developed by the 66 teams in the grammar league last season was accredited to the expert training received during the early training period from experts who are old in the game.

Tacoma schools, despite the fact they have been playing soccer only two seasons, have developed the finer points of the game to a far greater extent than schools in many cities where the game has been in vogue for years.

Will Meet Thursday.

The first meeting this year will be held in the Central building Thursday at 4 o'clock when Robert McDonald, a Scotch player, will be the instructor. Any boy, either in the city or country schools, is welcome. All captains are expected to be present.

Supervisor Kelly said today that the grammar school player will be forced to conform more closely this year to the rules as observed by the college and international soccer teams.

One rule in particular which will be strongly enforced this season will be the "outside play" for the ball to be passed to them for a try at goal.

No goal shot, or assisted by the player who has so waited for the ball, will be allowed by the referee.

Wants Volunteers.

The players will be warned by the referee, who will be the final authority in the enforcement of this rule. Supervisor Kelly urges all captains to bring this rule to the attention of the players at once, thus saving many disputes later in the season.

He also requests that all expert soccer coaches or experienced players in the city who can help the boys with coaching or refereeing games communicate with him at once.

Many coaches will be needed this year, as so many teams are being started for the first time and the players are in total ignorance of the fundamentals.

Mr. Kelly's phone number is Main 510.

Letters will reach him if addressed to the Central school building.

After a trip throughout the east where he visited many of the largest and most widely known departments, Mr. Miller said he believed the Tacoma departments, especially the modern one of the south side institution, to be the equal of any he saw.

Truly some were larger, he said, but none better equipped.

Eight new lathes were added this week to the four already installed in Stadium, and yet the quarters are cramped so great is the demand for instruction.

The large staff of teachers find the entire day taken up with classes.

STAR WOMAN PLAYER WINS

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14. — It was no difficult job yesterday afternoon for Miss Mollie Bjurstedt, national champion in women's singles, to defeat Miss Iris Wilder of Cincinnati in the second round of the tri-state tennis tournament here. She won in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2.

Is Work With a Purpose

Manual training as it is taught in the Tacoma high schools is not merely a conglomerate of unimportant instruction, given for no particular reason, other than to keep a boy interested in school, but a definite line of instruction for definite purposes.

This is Supervisor C. T. Miller's statement regarding the object of the course which is fast becoming one of the most important in the high school's curriculum.

Three-Fold Purpose.

"The manual arts covers a three-fold purpose," said Mr. Miller, who has charge of the department in both the Stadium and the Lincoln Park high schools.

"It is intended first for the good of the community, with an object of turning out better equipped men. Its second function is preparing men for college where they will go on with the momentum they received in high school. The third purpose of the vocational work is to give the student some definite view of a work he is going to choose for his life's vocation."

Gives Wide Choice.

The present course at the Stadium High school has been changed greatly during the last year or so, according to Mr. Miller. During the first two years of the course the student has the choice of the wood turning, tin smithing, carpentry, forging, cement work, pattern making, forging, cabinet making and shop work.

These courses may be interchanged each semester, giving the student the opportunity of selecting the one for which he is best fitted.

During the latter part of the course drawing is given more attention. The courses which are offered are along lines of architectural and machine drawing, with the student specializing on some particular phase of shop work, each being taught during alternate weeks.

40 Pct. Register For It.

Forty per cent of the newcomers this semester registered in the manual arts department, said Mr. Miller, believing this to be a strong testimonial of the growing benefits to be derived from the course.

A large number of outsiders have registered in the course this year than ever before, it is said. Many have heard of the wonderful equipment of the Tacoma schools and taken advantage of them.

The course is tending towards a better equipment for those who expect to go on with engineering work at college.

One of the Best.

The step isn't so great now, but is merely one in advance, the colleges going on where the high schools left off.

After a trip throughout the east where he visited many of the largest and most widely known departments, Mr. Miller said he believed the Tacoma departments, especially the modern one of the south side institution, to be the equal of any he saw.

Truly some were larger, he said, but none better equipped.

Eight new lathes were added this week to the four already installed in Stadium, and yet the quarters are cramped so great is the demand for instruction.

The large staff of teachers find the entire day taken up with classes.

Teachers to "Talk Shop"

Faculty members of Stadium and Lincoln Park manual training departments are hunting high and low for a suitable place to break bread amongst themselves and discuss their wares one night a month.

The club, known as the High School Manual Training Teachers' club, with C. G. Colas as president, boasts of a membership of 11 members.

They will meet at least once a month throughout the year at some hotel or grill in the city for a social evening.

700 OUT FOR GYM

Gymnasium classes at Lincoln Park High school will be extremely crowded this semester if the rush of boys and girls in registering for "gym" classes is any indication.

Already 350 boys and as many girls have signified their intentions of taking the exercises prescribed by Captain Carter and Miss Catherine Winslow, heads of the departments.

The girls' tennis tournament was postponed yesterday on account of rain, but will be resumed again today providing the weather will permit.

NEW GOLF CHAMPION IS ONLY 25; BEGAN WINNING AS KID PLAYER

Robert Gardner, new amateur golf champion, business man and former pole vault champion of the world.

Robert Gardner of Chicago, the new amateur golf king, has been a champion twice before, although he is only 25. He won the amateur golf title in 1909 and in 1912, as a member of the Yale track team he was the champion pole vaulter of the world.

Gardner is the typical college man with the typical college spirit. He goes into everything with the idea of making good. He went into the golf tournament, just completed at Detroit, as though it were a battle and seemed ready to almost lay down his life for it.

He goes into golf with the same indomitable spirit that made him a great pole vaulter and star runner and jumper.

To win the title at the Detroit meet, Gardner figured in a play that will live as long as golf tournaments are held.

He was pitted against Max Marston, who, one up on Gardner at the thirty-sixth hole, drew a perfect lie, two feet from the cup. Gardner drew a difficult lie. It was 1,000 to 1 Marston would win. All he had to do was push the ball into the cup and he could do it 9,999 of 10,000 times. He pushed the ball, it rolled to the edge of the cup and stopped.

Gardner, with a wonderful show of nerve, shot his ball into the cup, evened the score and won when an extra hole was played.

The new champion is tall and lean. He plays the shortest stroke on his irons of any player of note in the country. His follow-through and strength give him distance. He is a long hitter, and as a rule his iron shots are wonderful. His work on the green is liable to be erratic at times.

Gardner is a single man, in business at Chicago and a member of the Hinsdale Country club.

If You're Going Hunting Here's a Few 'Don'ts' You Should Remember

If you are planning to take advantage of the first day of the hunting season tomorrow, remember these "don'ts":

- Don't kill for hides or horns.
- Don't shoot from any launch or power boat of any description.
- Don't set steel trap larger than No. 4 without posting notice.
- Don't rob any nest of eggs.
- Don't hunt on Lake Washington or within a mile of its shores.
- Don't hunt water fowl after sunset or before sunrise.
- Don't use any gun other than one fired from the shoulder.
- Don't refuse to permit warden to inspect your bag.
- Don't offer for sale or sell any game birds or game animals.
- Don't shoot deer in any river, lake or body of salt water, or run deer with dogs.
- Don't molest game animals or game or other game birds on any island in fresh water lake surrounded by navigable fresh water and of greater area than 500 acres.
- Don't molest game birds, deer or discharge a rifle in the Pierce county game preserve, around the lakes.
- Don't use a sink boat or sneak boat or build any blind for hunting.
- Don't use any trap, snare, set gun, artificial light, etc., for hunting game birds and game animals, except decoys or blinds for ducks, geese and brant.
- Don't kill seagulls or any non-game bird.

Any of these acts is violation of the game law, and will mean punishment at the hands of the state.

RITCHIE TRAINS FOR MATCH BY DEER-HUNTING IN CALIFORNIA

With a busy winter campaign before him, Willie Ritchie, former world's lightweight champion, has started on an invasion of the east, and early in October, after a layoff of almost six months, he will meet Joe Shugrue in New York.

To prepare himself for a hard training siege, Ritchie put in a couple of weeks stalking deer in the mountain fastnesses of Northern California, bagging two big bucks. The outings, he says, put him in splendid condition, although weighing 146 1-2 pounds stripped on his return to San Francisco.

While in the mountains Ritchie had opportunity to do a lot of thinking over the oft repeated charge that he is money mad. He has arrived at the conclusion that his long vacation, for the sake of which he refused many lucrative offers, has thoroughly dispelled that belief.

"The public is as fickle as fortune," says Ritchie. "First I am accused of running my legs off after money when I am doing a lot of fighting, and when I take a vacation I am knocked for not fighting more frequently. It's a case of damned if I do and damned if I don't."

"When I fight I train as if I were to fight as often as the critics think I should. I would be in almost constant training. That would mean that every time I trained I would take so many weeks, or months, perhaps years, off my life."

"Like every normal person, I like money, but I like health and life far better."

When the first turn out was called for yesterday afternoon, 78 candidates reported on Soldiers' field for preliminary practice. There were 12 coaches, who will whip the team into shape as fast as possible. There will be two football sessions daily for two weeks, starting today.

7TH INNING RALLY WINS FOR TIGERS

SPOKANE, Sept. 14. — Spokane led up to the seventh inning yesterday, with a 2-0 score, but Stokke's triple with Kippert on first started things for the Tigers. Two doubles and two singles in the eighth gave the Tacoma team three more runs.

McGinnity demonstrated before a large crowd at the Inter-State Fair grounds that he could still pitch on two successive days. Although Meikle was going well, McGinnity took the mound in the sixth inning. In the ninth he nearly suffered disaster, when two singles landed runners on bases for Spokane, with no out. The next three batters, Murphy and two pinch hitters, hit to the sky, however. The score:

CRESCENTS ARE SPEEDY BUNCH

The Crescents won the deciding game of a three-game series with the Badgers at Manitou Sunday afternoon by a score of 11 to 7. Danielson and Isenberg both pitched good games, but poor support on both sides made the score large. Besides a little social gathering after the game, another feature was a shotgung catch by Rudd, the Crescents' centerfielder. This makes 16 victories for the Crescents out of 19 games played this season and ranks the team among the fastest in the city. (Parkland A. J. please take notice.) The score:
