

You'll Surely Find Some Favorites In This Group of Film Stars

Beatriz Michelena

BEATRIZ MICHELENA, prima donna, who deserted the stage a year ago for a career in the movies and became the start of "Sally Jane," "Mignon" and other California film productions, is going back to the footlights.

"Not because I do not love my work in the pictures," says Miss "Bea," "but because I love my music more!" She is now preparing a grand opera repertoire and will shortly appear on the legitimate stage.

Filmland is losing one of its most popular stars.

"Polly" Moran

PRETTY "POLLY" MORAN is the latest Keystoneite to buy an auto. She drives it everywhere and anywhere (and stops for nothing). Recently she drove it down to the beach, but did not turn out for the ocean. On and on went the car until the briny thinned out the gasoline and she was a hundred yards from shore. After being towed in she continued her mad way until she ran through the front of a grocery store and stopped.

And Polly still insists she's SOME driver.

Dorothy Gish

DOROTHY GISH, popular movie actress, recently received a letter, which was written in Spanish and postmarked in Spain. It cost her $4 to have the letter translated and it proved to be a request for a photograph and words of admiration for her recent film portrayals.

Ethel Barrymore

MISS ETHEL BARRYMORE, favorite stage star, has heard the call of the movies and will shortly appear in screen productions of her stage successes. Miss Barrymore's efforts in filmland will be released on the Rolfe-Metro feature program.

Al Jennings

AL JENNINGS, once famous bandit, will supervise the thrilling train and bank holdup scenes that are to be introduced in the filmization of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, "Jordan Is a Hard Road." The town of Askaton, Canada, the locale of the story, is being reproduced at the Fine Arts studio near Los Angeles.

Mary Alden

MARY ALDEN, popular Mutual actress, is devoting considerable time to the studying of conditions that exist in Western suffrage circles. Miss Alden is writing a series of articles to be published soon in a leading magazine. She has numerous similar articles to her credit, which have been published in prominent publications.

Mae Marsh

MAE MARSH, who figures prominently in "The Birth of a Nation," film classic, is a keen admirer of the works of Edgar Allan Poe. Next to Poe, in her estimation, comes O. Henry, for short stories. Miss Marsh is never seen without a book in hand, when not actively engaged in picture acting.

Chas. Chaplin

CHARLES CHAPLIN asserts that he has taken unto himself a new pair of old shoes. He has trussed about in the famous old pair until there is hardly anything left of them. Chaplin will now spend all his spare time cultivating a characteristic shape to the shoes, and his old ones will be sold to the highest bidder at a movie actors' ball to be arranged next month.

Now, girls, don't crowd!

POLICE CHIEF IS DECLARED TO BE UNFIT

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—Mayor Gill today faced the problem, for the second time in two mayoralty terms, of firing or retaining an alleged unfit chief of police.

Louis M. Lang, incumbent, yesterday afternoon was seriously censured by the city council, six votes to three, for his participation in a drinking-bout at a local cafe, and a visit to a cafe entertainer's room at 2 a. m.

The three votes which opposed the resolution favored the removal of the chief. Four favored this course originally, but when it was found that five were opposed to it, the compromise was affected.

The charges were brought by The Star, sister paper of The Times.

Political friends say Gill will retain Lang.

NEED AID FROM SMALL DONATORS

Those in charge of the collecting fund of the Y. W. C. A. say the rest of the money must come from the small contributors. All who could be expected to give large amounts have been called upon.

More than $100 was taken in yesterday, making the total slightly more than half the required $5,000.

SAMUEL M'CALL LANDS G. O. P. NOMINATION AS BAY STATE GOVERNOR

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Samuel McCall, former congressman, was an easy victor in the republican gubernatorial primaries yesterday, with Grafton D. Cushing second and former Governor Foss, who has oscillated between the democratic and republican parties, a bad third. David I. Walsh was easily renominated in the democratic primaries.

Auto Damage Lawsuit Goes To Trial Today

Trial of a suit by H. M. Soule against James C. and William J. Freeborn for $10,000 alleged damages for injuries sustained when the plaintiff was hit by an automobile, which, he says, was owned by the Freeborns, was started today in the superior court.

Soule was returning from a smoker on the night of Nov. 17. When he was crossing the street at 48th and M he was knocked unconscious by a machine driven by unknown persons, he claims. The Freeborns then came along, and thinking Soule's body was a bunch of rags, crashed into it, dragging him across the street.

The case was transferred from Judge Clifford's court to Judge Card's, to take advantage of the jurors drawn for this month in the latter's court.

Witness Gone; 8-Hour Case Is Postponed

The disappearance of the prosecuting witness led to the postponement today of the criminal case against E. E. Hazen, proprietor of the Thistle hotel on 11th st., charged with violating the eight-hour working law for women.

Hazen was found guilty and fined $50 in the justice court for overworking Miss Tomlinson, a chambermaid, but appealed the case. Prosecutor Selden said today she left town shortly after the first trial, but was to write him about Sept. 1.

SHOPPING DISTRICT COMEDY OPENS TODAY AT COLONIAL

Three big attractions, two of them sufficient for a big bill at any photoplay house, begin four days' run at the Colonial theater today. "Helene of the North," featuring that ravishing beauty, Marguerite Clark; "Mr. and Mrs. Potts Shopping in Tacoma," and the Paramount travel pictures of South America, constitute the bill.

Hundreds have watched the making of "Mr. and Mrs. Potts" and laughed heartily at the antics of the actors on Tacoma streets, so it is safe to assume that thousands will find just twice as many laughs when these antics are viewed, as it were, through the eye of the camera, on the Colonial screen. Those who watched the filming of the comedy on the streets will find things that the naked eye overlooked.

Spokane Society Folks Start Amateur Moving Picture Show

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 22.—Spokane society has found a new plaything. Bored to death by tango teas, and afternoon bridge parties, the leaders in this city's five hundred have taken to scenario writing and the production of motion pictures in which they themselves are the principal actors.

Miss Virginia Riblet, young society maid who has a hankering for the stage, started the fashion. Miss Riblet wrote a scenario and invited her friends to pose for the motion picture machine. The film was produced on the estate of her father on the Little Spokane river and one of the managers of a local motion picture theater acted as stage director.

Five hundred society men and women acted as "the mob."

The film was exhibited at a motion picture house for three days and it did a rushing business.

Society folks here plan to make this a regular feature of their entertainments this coming fall.

PROTEST WATER RATES FOR SPRINKLING UNFAIR

Declaring that the Tacoma schools had been charged full rates for water used for sprinkling purposes during the summer, while private consumers were given free sprinkling water, Secretary Alfred Lister of the school board appeared before the council yesterday and asked for a rebate of the summer water bills.

Lister asserted that the schools used water on the understanding that they would not be charged for sprinkling. He complained that the city had withdrawn its sprinkling charge against private residences.

Members of the council agreed that the charge for sprinkling was
