Cynthia's Letters

Dear Miss Grey: After reading over the letter from a flirt, I would like to answer a few words in flirting.

My opinion is that there is a certain attraction between the sexes which is rarely discussed or understood. It seems to me that men are more susceptible to it than women, and in flirting a woman consciously or unconsciously works on this weakness. My idea is based on experience of my own. I have known married men who had great respect for me, in an unguarded moment say things which were better left unsaid. I think it is up to a woman to call up all her dignity at such times. I have not felt hurt, disgusted or mad at what has occurred, but only sorry for the individual, for I can imagine his feelings afterwards. It seems to me that this attraction is at work in other forms of flirting.

She speaks of the blandishments of a hardened woman of the world fighting for her living, and as I have been earning my living 12 years I feel I am of this class, but I can find no reason for it within myself.

Of course, I have met the man who is looking for a good time, and the new acquaintance who, having no knowledge of character reading, is merely trying me out, but I think there is this other attraction too, and would be glad indeed if some other working woman who has probably had similar experiences would offer her solution of the cause.

Thanking you, I am, sincerely yours, WORKING GIRL.

Dear Cynthia Grey: Pray pardon me if I keep a senseless discussion going. But there have been so many letters in your column to the effect that there are no more "regular fellows" and "just girls" that I cannot resist saying that the only writer in the entire lot that seems—to my point of view—to have hit the mark is "K. C.," who declares that there are still a great many left.

There are. Lots of them. You will find them in every walk of life. Of course, they are not as easy to find as the others. They are not always recognizable at first glance. For they do not advertise. They are seldom in dire need of company, as they usually travel with others of their kind. You will find them at the theater, in the churches, at dances and parties, as well as at work in all sorts of places of employment. They are penniless, they are wealthy, and they are in that great middle ground which harbors most of us.

How may one find them? That is easy. Go to any of the respectable places where young men and women congregate. Be a home treatment. Some of them may at first be very bashful. Do not say, "He (or she) is stupid." Some may be a bit breezy. Do not set them down as "sports." Give them a trial. They will improve with acquaintance. And, above all, don't feel superior. They may be thinking things of you similar to the thoughts you have of them.

I declare, and believe that almost everybody agrees with me, that if we are cheerful and kind and try to meet everybody half way we shall find humor radiating from the most "impossible boob," and goodness in great quantities springing from those whom we are apt to consider "sports." W. S. H.

Is Your Stomach Clogged With Waste?

Druggists Guarantee to Return the Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Relieve You. It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when customers come in afterward and tell you how much good it has done them. Druggists everywhere can tell of this experience in their sale of Mi-o-na, the well-known stomach remedy. And that is the reason why they are always glad to sell and recommend Mi-o-na. It does the work and ends all stomach distress just like the Mi-o-na people say it will. As a result of this success most every druggist goes a step further and sells Mi-o-na on a positive guarantee that unless it helps the purchaser he can have his money back. That may seem rash, but customers have said so many good words in Mi-o-na's favor that very few packages are likely to be returned. Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at any drug store and take home a box of Mi-o-na and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money. This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since it was introduced in Tacoma shows that it does all that it is claimed to do—relieve dyspepsia, regulate digestion and enables those who use it to eat just what they want with no fear of trouble after. Sold by Crown Drug Co., Tacoma, Wash., and any other leading druggist in this vicinity.

how good it is to be able to be honest with somebody beside my self—that my first thought was, "I hope Herbert will let me give it to Margie."

"Oh, Kitty, you don't mean that when you looked at your baby you wanted to give it to me—"

"Yes, dear, I knew you would love it and 'tend it! I did not know then I was going to die, but now that I know, I want you to have baby more than ever; will you take it?"

"If Herbert will let me have it I'll take it and love it as I would my own," I said solemnly, my hand on hers. (Continued tomorrow.)

Achy Joints Foretell Trouble

A creaky joint often predicts rain. It also foretells inward trouble. It may mean that the kidneys are not filtering the blood and are allowing poisonous uric acid to clog the blood and cause trouble. Bad backs, rheumatic pains, sore, aching joints, headaches, dizziness, nervous troubles, heart flutterings, and urinary disorders are some of the effects of weak kidneys and if nothing is done there's danger of dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the most widely used, the best recommended kidney remedy in the world.

TACOMA PEOPLE TESTIFY S. C. Calkins, railroad switchman, 2133 South E St., says: "I had a dull, heavy ache in the small of my back. When I tried to straighten, pains darted through me, and my back was very lame and sore. I had dull headaches, too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved all the trouble."
