Give $5 For Hansen Family

Five silver dollars, donated by five kind-hearted men of South Tacoma, were sent to The Times office today as a nucleus for a fund for Mrs. Christina Hanson, whose sons, Truman, age two, and Irwin, age four, were incinerated Saturday in a fire that destroyed the Hansen home, 6803 Junett street.

"This is a very deserving case and worthy of any assistance that you may give it," wrote the five men.

Mrs. Hansen is employed as maid in a North End residence, and the fire, besides taking from her the two small sons, also destroyed every worldly thing that she possessed, except the clothing she wore.

The donors of the five-dollar contribution are George W. Piper, O. P. Mathews, Charles W. Reid, Dr. G. O. Ireland and Edward P. Leonard. These men have started a movement in South Tacoma to raise funds for the funeral expenses, and to provide Mrs. Hansen with a new home. If a member of the family will call for the money it will be handed over at once.

Capt. Whitaker of the South Tacoma fire department declared today that the fire had been burning Saturday for 20 minutes before an alarm was turned in. The two children, who were playing in the kitchen when the fire started, had taken refuge in a pantry. Had the alarm been given in time, Capt. Whitaker said, the children could have been saved.

"Neighbors stood about waiting for fire apparatus to come, each thinking that the other had turned in an alarm," declared the fire captain today. "The result was that we knew nothing of the fire until someone telephoned to know why the apparatus was delayed. We reached the burning house in three minutes, but it was already burning like a packing box, and the children had been roasted to a crisp."

VICTIM OF AUTO TOOK ALL BLAME

Unless more convincing evidence of reckless driving is found against Edward Cushman, son of U. S. Judge Cushman, who ran down Elmer Nelson last week on No. 26th st., the inquest ordered by Prosecutor Remann will be dropped.

Coroner Stewart, who has been investigating with Deputy Prosecutor Cramer, said today that young Cushman was undoubtedly driving too near the car tracks and probably was going a little too fast.

He said, however, that Dr. Charles James, who attended the Nelson boy, declared the dead youth had admitted repeatedly before his death that the accident was his fault. He said he ran around the street car because of the rain, without looking for an approaching street car.

The boy is said to have removed all blame from Cushman the night of the accident when he was being taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

H. H. Taylor, 3616 No. 26th st., who got off a Point Defiance car behind Nelson, said he would have been hit if he had been a moment quicker. He also thought that the car was running too near the tracks.

Edward Cushman, who is only 16 years of age, is suffering from the shock of the Nelson boy's death.

 The Commissioner of Light and Water reserves the right to reject any and all bids as the interests of the City may appear.
 JAMES C. DRAKE, Commissioner of Light & Water.

ANOTHER STALL IN STALL CASE

News stands and confectionery stalls on the sidewalks of downtown streets were given a new lease of life today.

According to a resolution adopted last month by the city council all stands operating on walks were to have gone out of business last night, and the police had instructions to tear them down today.

Police Captain Read asked Commissioner Woods today for two carpenters to assist in tearing down the stalls, but Woods refused on the grounds that it would be unfair to make carpenters work in a snow storm.

Then Commissioner Mills asked the council to defer action for two weeks because some of the stall owners could not get new locations until saloon buildings had been vacated.

City Attorney Stiles made a strenuous objection, declaring that the council had promised Mayor Fawcett to abolish the stalls Jan. 1.

All the councilmen agreed that it would be unfair to force the stall proprietors to move today while the snow storm was on. It was decided to wait until Tuesday before taking definite action.

Speed Plan of Reorganization

Warmed in their work by the lively interest and encouragement which they have met with on every hand, the reorganization committee of the Tacoma Commercial club met again today to discuss the phases of their campaign for a greater Tacoma. Tomorrow the board of trustees will meet to go over features of the reorganization preparatory to submitting to the members as a whole.

A letter has been sent to every manufacturer in Tacoma urging the importance of an early answer to the industrial questionnaire. The list of questions put to the manufacturers is intended to bring out not only the good points of the industrial situation here but the handicaps that exist and how to overcome them.

A tabulation of the answers will not constitute an industrial survey of Tacoma, though this is about as much as most cities have accomplished when they announce an industrial survey.

The asking of information is but the first step in deciding on further investigations, says the committee. It is believed an opinion as to a prejudice may exist among the majority of manufacturers here which may be entirely disproven when minutely surveyed or analyzed.

Steal Wood For Penniless Widow

After remaining in jail since Saturday noon for stealing wood which they were taking to a penniless elderly widow, Thor Kyvik and Frank Warter, laboring men, were released at noon today through the clemency of Police Judge Evans.

They refused to make any apology for their crime when they were tried today in court, but the widow, Mrs. Mary O'Dell, 1740 E street, had already visited the judge in his private office and explained the case to him.

Kyvik and Warter are neighbors of Mrs. O'Dell. Saturday they learned that the widow was entirely out of fuel. Besides her own three children Mrs. O'Dell has been taking care of several children in the neighborhood, but these had all been taken home for the holidays and the widow had not been paid for her work. She was also practically out of food.

The two men went to a wood-yard of the Griffin Fuel Co., when Police Sergeant Guy arrested them.

Judge Evans told the prisoners that although their charity was a worthy one, they had, nevertheless, violated a law by stealing the wood. He released them on a five-day suspended sentence.

MILLS WON'T APPOINT ANOTHER POLICE CHIEF
 If Chief of Police Loomis resigns March 1, as announced he would, no successor will be named for him. Commissioner Mills said today that he would appoint an acting chief of police to take control of the department until the end of the administration in May.

Chief Loomis' salary dropped from $175 a month to $25 on the first of January. Rather than appear to be quitting under fire, Loomis says that he will direct the police department on a $25 salary for the first two months of 1916. Loomis was ill again today and confined to his home.

Officer L. B. McCoy, 72 years old, who has served on the Tacoma police department for nearly 25 years, was officially granted a police pension today by members of the police pension bureau. McCoy will draw $42.50 a month from the city as long as he lives.

Back to Baby Bottle Days

"G'wan, I was raised on a milk bottle," proudly asserted Jack Brown, noted linotype operator of the Times composing room, as he drained the last drop of the snowy fluid today.

But today was the first time in 13 years that the something wet has not been of amber brew.

The milkman must have done a lively business in the vicinity of The Times this morning.

The popping of milk bottle corks all noon hour came as a faint echo of days gone by.

The thrifty lunchers are joining the stars of the milky way.

Bomb Wrecks Italian's Home

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 2.—A bomb hurled by unknowns through the window of the home of Peter Apostolo killed three Italians today and fatally injured another. The front of the house was completely blown out.

The bomb landed beside Mrs. Apostolo who was holding her baby. She screamed and thrust the dynamite in the stove, where it exploded. She and her child were unhurt.
