CHARGES OF BRIDE MAY FORCE SALE OF TWO BASEBALL TEAMS

Mrs. Jack Coffey and her husband, above, former manager of the Denver baseball club, who have sued for $40,000 damages from James McGill below, owner of the Denver and Indianapolis clubs.

James McGill, who bought the Denver club of the Western league and the Indianapolis club of the American association, from his uncle, "Pittsburg Phil" Smith, a race track man, may have to sell both clubs as a result of suits filed against him, by Jack Coffey, former Denver manager, and Mrs. Coffey.

Mrs. Coffey alleges she was induced to enter McGill's auto when he told her Mrs. McGill was to go with them. She charges that when she noticed McGill was driving into the country she protested, but that McGill overpowered her, then returned to the city in his auto, leaving her to walk a great distance before she could reach a street car.

Mrs. Coffey resigned management of the Denver club in the midst of a hot fight for the pennant. The reason was not given at the time and was not known until a few days ago when McGill and his wife arrived in Denver from a trip to the Pacific coast. McGill was served with notice of the suits.

MUCH INTEREST IS DEVELOPING IN AMATEURS

Amateur baseball is rapidly coming to the front. Following an announcement by The Times several days ago of plans for the organization of a league among McKinley Hill amateur teams, many inquiries have been received from other clubs.

That the amateurs desire this year to get well organized into several leagues, with schedules of games instead of the uncertain match-making that has prevailed before, is apparent. The young players want to arrange their teams and leagues by ages, and as a result many teams failed to land games, and often had to take matches with other teams that were not in their class.

The South Tacoma Middlets are one team that is already getting organized for the 1916 season and is anxious to get into a league with other clubs. The players are a sturdy bunch of boys, between the ages of 15 and 18.

If any other amateur teams are forming and would care to get together with the Middlets, they are requested to send word to the sporting editor of The Times. All amateur clubs are invited to make The Times office their headquarters.

MORELAND HAS IDEA

George Moreland, of Chicago, sporting authority and publisher of "Sporting Records," is back of a new scheme for deciding the three-cushion billiard championship of the world.

Moreland would have the player who finished highest in the Inter-State Billiard league each year declared world's title-holder. His argument is that as titles are decided now, the champion might be beaten in a match in which he is off form, while in a season play, such as afforded by a league, the most consistent player is bound to finish on top.

HE'S SOME BOWLER

Bob Scholtz of Detroit has set a mark for the season for bowling in all parts of the country to shoot at. He rolled 1,151 in five games, an average of 230 1-5.

In the last frame of the last game, two pins failed to fall and Scholtz was robbed of a perfect score. His marks were 224, 223, 227, 190 and 287.

Tout Tobin As Better Than $30,000 Kauff

JOHNNY TOBIN

There was a grand scramble for the services of Benny Kauff, called the "Ty Cobb of the Feds," and the Giants had to pay $30,000 to land him, but baseball men say the St. Louis Americans will show an outfielder next season who did not cost a nickel and is a better ball player.

The outfielder is Johnny Tobin. He was with the St. Louis Feds two seasons and gets into the American league through purchase of the Browns by Phil Ball, Fed magnate, and the combining of the Fed and Brown teams.

There was no scramble for Tobin and he did not get much publicity, because it was known Ball would buy the Browns and there would not be a chance to buy St. Louis Fed players.

The only place Kauff has anything on Tobin is in battling. Tobin is as fast on the bases, plays fly-hit balls better and throws better.

Tobin batted .299 in the Fed league last season. He made more hits than any other player, 16. His nearest rival was Ed Konetsky, who made 179.

Tobin ranked second in the number of bases made on his hits, third in scoring runs and fourth in honors.

Combination of the two St. Louis clubs gives the Browns a pretty sweet looking outfield. Besides Tobin, Manager Fielder Jones will have Armando Marsans, the Cuban, who also comes over from the Fed club; Shotten, Red Walker and Howard.

COULD BE A WHITE HOPE

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 31. — Michael Tuholksi, a Cleveland steel mill puddler, was turned down yesterday by the United States marine corps here because he was too big. Tuholksi stands 6 feet 5 inches high and weighs 257 pounds. Although officers pronounced him a perfect physical specimen, they said they did not want the corps disrupted by placing a giant in the ranks.

Tuholksi said he had no desire to become a white hope and would return to the mills.

To Organize 1916 Parkland Ball Team

A meeting of the Parkland Athletic club baseball team will be held at the Parkland gymnasium Tuesday, Feb. 1. All members of the 1916 team are requested to be present, as business of importance to the team will be transacted. The election of a manager and captain will also be held. As this team won the 1915 amateur title there should be considerable interest taken in the coming meeting.

Cameron Coffey, Mere Baby, Is World's Champ Child Swimmer

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31. — Cameron C. Coffey, four years old, is a human fish. He began his career in aquatics at the age of two and has now mastered all of the difficult swimming strokes and most of the fancy dives. He is champion child swimmer of the world.

Here is his water repertoire: Back stroke. Breast stroke. American crawl. Overarm side stroke. Spiral crawl.

Master Coffey also holds the high diving record for kids. His highest dive was 28 feet. The boy's time for the fifty is one minute 39 seconds. He did this recently in the tank of the Los Angeles Athletic club, where he is an honorary member, swimming the American crawl for the entire distance. He won a silver medal.

"I got two medals now," said the youngster, as he pulled himself out of the tank. "I got two silver cups, too, an' nine bath-in' suits besides. An' I can count to a hundred if I want, an' to a thousand, too—if I want."

When he swam his fifty yard race against time, his daddy went out of the plunge so that the diminutive merman couldn't see him. "He always does better when I don't watch him," explained the father.

Cameron Coffey does not require a bathing suit. He swims just as well in all his clothes as he does in no clothes at all. He took part in a water carnival recently in which he was required to rescue a tiny girl of his own age, who had supposedly fallen in the water. He answered his cue by plunging into the tank with all his clothes on and pulling the little girl out to safety.

"Some swimmer, this boy; he's part duck and you simply can't drown him," says F. Vance Veith, swimming instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic club, who taught the child what he knows about watercraft.

BIDDING FOR GREAT MATCH IS FRENZIED

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Bids for the Willard-Moran bout to be held in this city within the next two or three months are becoming frenzied. The champion is offered all the way from a flat offer of $32,500 with motion picture guarantees to $60,000 for two 10-round no-decision bouts. Moran, the challenger, has been offered from $15,000 to $30,000 for two bouts as his end of the purse with Willard.

The most money ever paid boxers for a 10-round match in New York was $32,500 which was recently given McFarland and Gibbons. Now the promoters are willing to pay Willard more than this amount alone.

SKATING IS BEST EVER

Despite the snow which fell during a greater portion of the day yesterday, skaters thronged the lakes near Tacoma. Lake Wapato was swept early in the day and several hundred persons crowded on the ice. Spanaway lake drew a large crowd.

The small duck pond in Wright's park and the lake at Point Defiance drew hundreds of people. While Stellacoom and American lakes were not frozen over completely, skaters found portions where the ice was strong enough for skating.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO BRING OUTSIDE BOXERS DOOMED

Another attempt to match big boxers in Tacoma, the very thing that has put the fight game here on the blink many times before, is again being made.

This time the promoters are dangling before the public Joe Bonds and Willie Meehan, San Francisco heavyweight, in order to learn how Tacoma will stand on the proposition of a match between the two.

The fight scheme has all the earmarks of being backed by the Washington Athletic association, a mushroom fight club which sprang up recently and died within a week when some of the men who had been urged into it learned the identity of the fight promoter who was the real "boss" of the organization.

Both Prosecutor Remann and the police have said that they would not agree to allowing outside boxers of reputation to take part in matches here. They have little objection to matches between local boys, however. Nevertheless, some of the promoters, blindly striving to fill their pockets with lucre, continue to try to override the words of the officials by announcing prospective matches, THAT NEVER COME OFF.

I boxing had been left to the class of men in Tacoma who like it because it is a clean, manly sport, and not to the money-grabbers, we'd be having regular matches every fortnight.

TWO DROPPED BY BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Joseph Chabel had William Zimmerman, pitcher and outfielder, were released today by the Brooklyn National league club to the Oakland Consters in part payment for James Johnson, who was owned by the California team before he jumped to the Federals.

Three Cleveland players released," says a headline. We would say "pardoned" is a better word than "released."

Schuyler Britton has placed a price of $400,000 on the St. Louis Cardinals. Citron certainly is high these days.

When Frank Gotch meets Joe Stecher he will rely on sheer strength while Joe will use the scissors. There's a difference.
