Styles Hark Back to Colonial Days and the Luxurious Court of Louis Quatorze for Inspiration in

The Court of Fashion

Continued Thursday and Friday

—Every woman who wishes to gain first-hand information concerning authentic Spring Fashions should attend the exhibit tomorrow.

A SPECIAL FEATURE WILL BE

The Living Models

FROM 2:30 TO 4:30

Displaying in Actual Life the More Exclusive Models in Costumes, Suits, Wraps, and Dress Accessories.

ALL THE BEST STYLES ARE REFLECTED IN

The Suits at $25 and $35

—We pride ourselves especially on the extent of the showing at these two prices—the correctness of every style detail, the excellence of the fine materials and the high character of the tailoring.

—The fact that so many women have "looked around" and returned here to buy convinces us that the suits are above the average in every respect.

THE MATERIALS

—It's a wonderful season for shepherd checks—checks of every size—many with a touch of color running through. Then come the serges, poplins and gabardines in the order named. In navy, French blue, green, putty and black.

THE STYLES

—Suits jackets may be short or long; from the short very full box coat to the full skirted belted styles showing the Russian influence. Leather trimmings are a new feature and the use of many buttons and contrasting silk collars.

10 SMART STYLES

In Silk Blouses at $250

—All values of unusual merit, styles of exceptional charm. At the very moderate price a business woman can afford a number of changes. There are—

—Check taffetas in four colorings in tailor effect.

—Candy striped tub silks in dainty colors.

—Blouses of crepe de chine and Habutai in white, flesh, Nile and rose, embroidered in neat designs.

—Pleated styles of crepe de chine and Habutai.

—Self colored satin stripe tub silks in white, maize, Nile and rose.

—The collars are nearly all in the adjustable style which can be worn open or buttoned to the chin.

—On account of rapidly advancing silk prices we will not be able to duplicate these for a long time at $250

CHAMBERLAIN BILL OFFERS THE WAY TO SAFETY OF COUNTRY

By Chas. Edward Russell
The kind of argumentative dope against preparedness that has been showered upon the senate and house committees doesn't get very far with anybody that was in Paris in 1913 and 1914. I was there and saw the first shot of this great war drama, and I may say to inquiring friends that in the most effective way it knocked the dreams out of me.

Chas. E. Russell

If every American could have seen that play, congress would pass a military training bill within the next week. To every observing person in Europe in the spring and summer of 1913, the fact was as clear as day that war was close at hand. It had, in fact, already begun. To all practical purposes, the German reichstag declared war in April of that year when it passed the extraordinary war credit of $250,000,000. Every thinking person knew what that meant.

In France were many thinking persons. There always are in France. They now diligently warned the rest of their countrymen of what was at hand and inevitable.

A vast number of amiable pacifists, as much like the American brand as one pea is like another, bobbed up in response with vehement protests. Then we heard every argument that has been uttered here against preparedness, only urged with greater force, earnestness and reason.

Some went far beyond all this. Representatives of millions of French workmen declared that under no conditions would the French workers fight.

There were even those (and they were not assassins of the wine bags, either) that exceeded all this. They said that if Germany invaded France, rather than fight their German brethren of the working class, they would refuse to bear arms, they would practice sabotage on troop trains, they would actively oppose their government.

In all this they were perfectly honest and well meaning. BUT WHERE ARE ALL

THESE MEN NOW? IN THE TRENCHES, RIFLE IN HAND, FIGHTING AND DYING FOR FRANCE.

The instant the nation was attacked, all the dreams of non-resistance vanished. Not a dissenting voice, not a disloyal thought among all those that had talked so amiably and well against the very idea of war.

It was so without exception. The most extreme radicals and pacifists went with the rest.

A radical editor who had served a prison sentence for denouncing attempts to defend the country became the most ardent and eloquent champion of defense. Two eminent men who had always opposed preparedness entered the national cabinet. Only one sentiment animated all France, and was to SAVE THE REPUBLIC!

But this was not all. The country as a whole had not taken seriously the warnings of the wise men in 1913.

It therefore found itself confronted with the imminent peril of destruction and WITHOUT THE WEAPONS with which to save its life.

WHILE the Frenchman now that would not willingly die to bring back the days when the nation might have prepared and would not?

So it would be with the American people. Let this country be invaded by any threatening foe, and the very pacifists who now with the best of intentions oppose military preparation would rush to the front to prevent the destruction of the republic and the tidal wave of an inferior civilization.

The only question, then, is whether we shall arm sanely, reasonably and democratically, or whether we shall wait until we attempt in the mad hurry of a great crisis to do in a month the work of years.

The military training bill of Senator Chamberlain offers the way to NATIONAL SAFETY AND SANITY.

It has been falsely represented as a bill for universal military SERVICE. It is nothing of the kind.

It provides only for universal military TRAINING, that our young men may be athletic, healthy, vigorous in mind and body, and that if ever, in spite of our desire for peace, we should be confronted with the terrible emergency that fell upon England and France, we should not be found without the tools of defense.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

C. F. W. Stoeber spoke to a large audience at the Milwaukee shops yesterday.

C. A. Cook and Leif Leifson were handed back their nomination petitions by the city clerk. Several signers were not registered voters. The law gives extra time for revising the petitions, in such cases.

Controller John F. Meads at first refused to appear before the Monday Civic club, because Fred Shoemaker, his rival, was listed to make an address. The club women were somewhat peeved. Meads finally consented.

The Slavonic Political club is showing a keen interest in the coming election and will endeavor to have every Slavonian in the city at the polls on election day. Adam Macek is president. A meeting will be held soon in Milwaukee hall, on Jefferson ave.

Fred Shoemaker, candidate for controller, spoke before the Scandinavian W. C. T. U. at Valhalla hall last night. He is addressing a neighborhood meeting in the West End this afternoon.

Although heads of the departments deny it, employees in the city hall assert that they have been told to vote for Woods and Jamieson. This is especially true in the light and water department. It is also common talk that automobiles in this department have been busy every evening carrying citizens to the city hall to register.

Hamilton F. Gronen, who has announced his preference for the light and water commissionership, is conducting a quiet campaign. "I am slinging no mud and making no charges," he says. Gronen was in charge of construction at the municipal power plant, and was commissioner for a short term. Friends have urged him to open fire on the present administration, but Gronen emphatically refuses. "I want to win on my own

"DRESSUP" WEEK

THE EVENT OF THE SEASON

TOMORROW, THE SECOND DAY IN OUR NEW STORE, WILL BE ANOTHER BARGAIN EVENT. WE ARE NOW COMFORTABLY INSTALLED IN THE NEW STORE, BROADWAY AND 13TH

THE NEW STYLE CENTER

The doors to our new store swung open promptly at 9 o'clock this morning with hundreds of bargains to greet our first patrons at first sight. A steady throng of shoppers and visitors kept the clerks on tip-toes looking after their needs. It's a store for everybody — all kinds of merchandise for all kinds of people—and in the future, as we have in the past—always selling reliable merchandise for a little less. There will be added features to the store for the accommodation of the public, such as a transfer desk, parcel check stand, information bureau, sub-postal station, etc. You are cordially invited to come in and inspect our merchandise.

GLORIOUS PAGEANT SPRING APPAREL

The Suits are fascinatingly fashioned this spring. There's a certain air of spring chic achieved by the short eton swinging just free at the hip or perhaps showing a pert little ruffle beyond. Belted, flaring ripple back; made up of lovely poplins, gabardines, serges and popular checks; also rich poplin and taffeta silks; priced from $14.75 to $45.00

The Dresses strike a note of festive springtime. Some simple little frocks of sheer material have outstanding ruffles of taffeta; others are printed in bits of brilliant colors. Many are plain—that is, as plain as a frock of awning stripes could be. A wide range of beautiful combinations are here. Priced $15.00 to $35.00

The Coats for street wear, for sport wear or for dress occasions we show a wonderful range of styles. Many of the new models are shown in the shorter lengths with front or all-around belts, checks, stripes, plaids and plain colors in wanted weaves. Many new models in silk poplins and taffeta. Moderately priced $4.50 to $45.00 merits, and not by running down someone else," says Gronen.

A total of 1,716 persons registered yesterday, and when the books closed at midnight exactly 25,575 voters had qualified to cast ballots at the April elections.

Although the registration is about normal for a city election, it is 6,000 lower than it was at the last presidential election, in 1912.

Republican committeemen for all city and county precincts of Pierce county were announced today by Chairman Dr. Charles James and Secretary Frank A. Latham of the republican county committee. There is a total of 196 names in the list.

The new committee, which contains about 100 new names, will hold its first organization meeting Saturday noon at the Olympian hotel. A complimentary dinner will be served the members. The time and place of the county convention will be determined, together with the question of whether delegates to the convention shall be chosen by precinct caucuses or by primaries.
