ASKS ENGLAND BE HELD ACCOUNTABLE

United States decided not to accept these proposals. Had it accepted, it would have been instrumental in preventing most of the accidents Americans have met with in the meantime.

"Germany made several proposals to the United States to reduce the inherent dangers of naval warfare. Unfortunately the arms of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.

"Germany, agreeing with the German people, fails to understand this indiscrimination. The German people know the United States has power to confine the war to the armed forces of belligerent countries."

Rockefeller Foundation Owes U. S. $1,000,000 of Dodged Taxes, Is Charge

By Basil M. Manly

My charge that the Rockefeller foundation gives the treasury of the United States more than $1,000,000 income tax is based upon the testimony of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., already quoted, that the foundation is regarded by the Rockefeller as a "PRIVATE INTEREST" upon the absolute control of the foundation's funds by the personal staff and salaried employees of Rockefeller, and upon the evidence which I present today that the foundation is not operated EXCLUSIVELY for "religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes," and that thousands of dollars of its funds have been expended for the benefit of Rockefeller or the corporations in which he is interested.

The only clause of the income tax law under which the foundation can claim exemption is Article 9, sub-section (a), which provides that:

...in this section shall apply to any corporation or association organized and operated EXCLUSIVELY for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes. NO PART of the net income of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

If the foundation has transgressed this clause of the act in any particular, it thereby becomes liable for taxation upon the whole of its income.

First, THEN, is the foundation operated EXCLUSIVELY for "religious, charitable, scientific, and educational purposes?"

In 1914 $50,000 of the foundation's funds were appropriated to pay expenses connected with the drafting of the reactionary New York state constitution which was rejected at the polls by an overwhelming vote.

At best, this expenditure was purely POLITICAL, but inasmuch as the main features of the constitution were the practical prohibition of any taxation reform and the protection of property interests, it does not seem unreasonable to believe that this expenditure was made for the benefit of Rockefeller interests.

Let us next consider what may at first sight seem the most disinterested of the foundation's activities—the China medical board.

In order to understand Rockefeller's activities in China it is necessary to know that the estimated value of the Rockefeller-Standard Oil holdings and concessions in China is GREATER EVEN THAN IN THE UNITED STATES!

Now with that fact in mind the purpose of the Rockefeller's becomes clear, when we read in a memorandum prepared by Frederick T. Gates for the guidance of the China medical board:

"The plan also utilizes to the full through generous co-operation with the missionary boards the whole power of Christian sentiment in this and other lands and enlists this sentiment in greater PRACTICAL service."

"This plan promises also the largest ECONOMIC ADVANTAGES. It will awaken enthusiasm at home; it will command confidence abroad."

That the Rockefeller foundation's activities are not restricted to "religious, charitable, scientific and educational purposes" is most conclusively proved by the testimony of Jerome Greene, secretary of the foundation, before the United States commission on industrial relations, in which he admitted the power of the foundation to any of the following things:

Conduct a propaganda against trade unionism.

Circulate literature against workmen's compensation.

Champion free trade or protection.

Champion trusts.

Promote programs of political parties.

Thousands of dollars, moreover, have been expended for the promotion of activities which directly benefit the Rockefeller interests.

The most conspicuous is the employment of W. L. Mackenzie King in activities for the sole benefit of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. and for which he should have been paid by that corporation.

The letter from Jerome D. Greene, secretary of the foundation, stated that Rockefeller and Greene "as directors of large industrial enterprises" desired King's service. Nothing was said about any philanthropic purpose.

Yet King has been paid a large salary and liberal expenses by the Rockefeller foundation, although his only active service has been advice to the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. as to the settlement of labor troubles.

Other corporations pay large fees for such advice to other similarly qualified experts. In the same manner, propriation of thousands of dollars for the construction of Y. M. C. A. buildings in the camps of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., although in a letter to Welborn, president of that corporation, Rockefeller had previously urged the construction of such buildings at the expense of the company.

This expense has now been shifted to the TAX-FREE foundation, while the company directly benefits by this "welfare work" among its employees, which other corporations must pay out of their own funds.

It must be remembered that in dealing with the activities of the foundation we are limited to the very brief period in 1913-14 for which it has rendered a public report.

Although four months of 1915 have now elapsed, no report for 1915, the first year of real activity, has yet been published!

I contend, however, that the evidence which has been presented in these columns constitutes far more than a sufficient basis for Secretary McAdoo to demand that the Rockefeller foundation pay the United States treasury an income tax of more than ONE MILLION DOLLARS, which this nation needs in its "preparation" bills are not to stagger American working people.
