

Who's Baby's Mother?

CHICAGO, May 12.—Is Mrs. Dolly Matters the mother of the child which she claims is the heir of the late Fred Matters, wealthy Chicago banker and movie theater owner? Testimony was introduced today to show that the baby was substituted by Mrs. Matters in order to get a bigger share of her husband's $400,000 property.

Dr. Mark Goldstein, the family physician, testified that he performed an operation on her in 1914 which lessened the possibilities of child bearing 50 per cent. The state claims the baby is that of Miss Jessie Bryan, a young girl who was confined in the hospital at the same time. It is alleged Miss Bryan was told that her child died and that it was substituted for one said to have been born to Mrs. Matters.

For Strong Arm Raids

SEATTLE, May 13.—Mayor Gill's course in wrecking drug stores which violate the prohibition law was given the unqualified approval of the city council finance committee today. The committee voted to approve appropriation bills to pay the expenses of the strong arm raids, and will introduce a resolution in the city council to give approval to the mayor.

Prosecutor Lundin announced he would prosecute managers of warehouses where druggists have been storing large amounts of liquor. Attorneys for the Erres Storage Co. appeared in court yesterday and asked that Mayor Gill and Chief Beckingham be cited for contempt of court for seizing booze stored in the company's warehouse.

Masons Here In June

Masons of Tacoma are already making arrangements for the grand lodge sessions, to be held here starting Tuesday, June 13.

Delegates from all parts of the state will be in attendance, and local lodge members are making elaborate plans for their entertainment. The Order of the Amaranth will hold its annual session here June 14, and the Order of the Eastern Star meets June 15.

The grand master of the state, Robert L. Sebastian, will have headquarters at the Tacoma hotel. Harry M. Smith of Evergreen lodge has charge of the arrangements for hotel reservations of delegates. All railroads have offered a reduced fare to Tacoma.

Defend Work for State

OLYMPIA, May 13.—Defending their work as industrial insurance commissioners, and declaring that there was no reason to hold them or the governor responsible for the frauds of Claim Agent Gillies, Clarence Parker, Floyd Daggett and A. B. Ernst, deposed members of the commission, issued a signed statement today. The statement intimated that an effort will be made by the state to recover from the banks which cashed the fraudulent warrants. "No business of large proportions can do other than trust employees," said the statement.

Cummins Raps Hughes

EUGENE, Ore., May 13.—Senator Cummins of Iowa is at it strong in his campaign here for support for the presidency. Last night he scored President Wilson's dealings in Mexico as the "blackest page in American history," and referred to Justice Hughes as "a man of whose views the people knew nothing." He termed the Underwood tariff pass "the greatest compound of ignorance and incompetence that ever came from the human brain."

Many Dogs Poisoned

A dog poisoner is playing havoc in the North End. At least five residents in the district of 30th and Proctor lost valuable pets within an hour yesterday, and in the South End one dog was poisoned. A number of valuable dogs were poisoned in the same manner last year in the same district. The dogs were poisoned while out on the streets and came home to die. The heaviest loser was J. C. Boldt, 3732 North 29th st., who lost a bulldog worth $500.

Can They Be Naughty?

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., May 13.—Should members of the Methodist Episcopal church be expelled if they play cards, dance and go to the theater? This is the question which is stirring the Methodist general conference here. A sub-committee on amusements has recommended that members should not be expelled and has met strong opposition from delegates opposed to "letting down the bars."

New Ocean Warehouse

Because of the remarkable increase in Oriental trade, the Milwaukee railroad will build another ocean warehouse in Tacoma, to cost $300,000. It probably will be completed by June on the company's terminal property in Tacoma harbor. At present the Milwaukee is receiving and exporting Oriental freight at five docks here. Construction on the new warehouse on the Milwaukee waterway will begin at once.

SEATTLE IS LONG WAY FROM DUBLIN, SO THEY'RE SAFE

SEATTLE, May 13.—At a mass meeting of the Seattle branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom, resolutions were adopted pledging the meeting to its best effort to aid in freeing Ireland.

MORE POWDER ON NOSES THAN IN THEIR ARMY RIFLES

Learning to operate a machine gun in camp where maids and matrons are training for defense.

BY IDAH M'GLONE GIBSON

CHEVY CHASE, Md., May 11.—No ammunition, but plenty of powder! That's the situation at the Chevy Chase service camp—the first great feminine "preparation" outpouring, which is attended by women from all parts of the United States, mostly girls between 18 and 30.

There is plenty of powder, I said. A pretty girl would not go into any kind of a battle nowadays without the wherewithal to rub the shine off her nose, and I saw at least 20 of them do it the first few hours of their visit to the camp.

But as soon as they donned the uniform, powder and make-up were forgotten and they looked quite as well without it. "Set up exercises" and a course in caring for the sick and wounded will be their fortune here. They will also have to do the entire work of the camp, cooking the meals and keeping the tent clean.

I saw three gray-haired women in the camp. The women take themselves very seriously, much more so than did the men at Plattsburg and other camps of the same sort.

On the opening day they lined themselves up in the starting sun and stood at attention for nearly an hour before the president and Mrs. Wilson made their appearance.

For some inscrutable reason an escort of men from the regulars were lined with their backs to the sun, while these girls who had probably never been so uncomfortable in their lives, faced it—and I did not hear a murmur. There are 300 women in camp, mostly recruited from the class of wealth and leisure. All listened with great attention to President Wilson's speech, in which he congratulated them upon their exhibition of patriotism. He said they were making sacrifices of themselves, and they really are!

One stunning looking girl who, before she donned her khaki uniform, was elegantly dressed, told me that she had washed dishes and peeled potatoes all the morning—something she had never done before in her life.

The Chevy Chase service camp will make for something even greater than preparedness. It will make for democracy, and as the president said in his speech of welcome, it will make each one understand that she is more than an individual, that she is a unit of the greatest country on earth.

Vampire's Boudoir Is Done In Sapphire and Old Ivory

filters the sunlight. My two toilet sets are, I believe, unique. One, of 14 pieces, is of amber monogrammed "T. B." in tiny brilliants.

"This was made for me in America and sent to me by a man of immense wealth who had been confined in a sanitarium by scheming relatives.

He visited a motion picture theater on one of his first days of freedom. The feature that night was "A Fool There Was."

He was impressed by the wonder of moving pictures and the personality of the vampire woman. A month later I received the toilet set. I have never seen the giver.

The bedroom of a vampire! The very phrase has a thousand thrills.

One has a mental picture of a divan spread with tiger skins, black satin sheets and huge incense burners.

It suggests a room where the light of day never penetrates and every corner shelters the memory of a soul torn from the body of an innocent.

With a very obliterating brush, my reader, sweep the surface of this untruthful canvas.

There are other colors on the palette. We will outline the semblance of a real bedroom—the one in which I sleep.

The general tone is sapphire blue and old ivory. The sapphire blue is velvet.

It hangs from my windows and doors, covers my bed, couch and cushions.

The old ivory is furniture. A large sapphire blue velvet rug, without design, is studded with white fox skins. At the side of my bed is a huge silky polar bear rug.

Cobwebby lace, old ivory in tone, shrouds my windows and

Grandmother Knew

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as MUSTEROLE.

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. MUSTEROLE does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage MUSTEROLE in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia.)

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitation—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland Ohio.
