JOHNSON ASKS TO GO BACK

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—Albert Johnson, congressman from southwest Washington, today announced he was a candidate to succeed himself.

Simultaneously he issued the following statement to the voters of the third district: "If renominated and re-elected, and should the next congress be republican, which I confidently expect, I shall receive an important chairmanship through my length of service.

"There are but 25 important chairmanships in the house, and there are 435 members. As chairman of a committee, I feel that I can still better serve the people of the district and state. No far wetsman now holds a chairmanship.

May Not Get Home. "Congress is still in session. If adjournment is reached by the middle of August, I can get home in time to visit some of the points in the 10 counties of the district. If congress does not adjourn soon, I shall be unable to make a personal campaign, but must ask the voters generally to give consideration to my desire to continue to serve them in the congress of the United States.

"I hope that my record is such as to merit re-election. I have worked long and hard for all parts of the district. No request has failed to receive attention. I have been successful in passing bills of interest to the district.

"My part in the enactment of the bill giving $1,000,000 a year for roads in the forest reserves is well known. "My interest in all measures for the good of the far west has never been questioned. My views and my votes on all public questions are known to all of you, and these views are in accord with the views of a great majority of the voters of the district.

"On all recent votes in congress I have neither dodged, paired nor been absent. I have voted according to the dictates of my conscience for the best interests of district, state and nation.

"I belong to no ring or faction. As your representative, I have endeavored to represent all of the people, and shall continue to do so.

"I subscribe without equivocation to the planks of the national republican platform, and to our state platform, and will work for their enactment into law."

BABIES FORM A UNION TO FIGHT FOR LIVES

The president of the International Babies' union, Bobbie Chase, age eight months, and his mother, Mrs. Stuart Chase of Boston.

BY K. W. PAYNE.

BOSTON, Mass., July 12.—"My grown-ups have been making a mess of your duty to us babies," exclaimed the president of the International Babies' union, just organized here.

"Tens of thousands of us are wiped out like flies every time a hot spell hits the country, not taking into account the infantile paralysis epidemic.

"Why," he ah-goohed, "you call us into the world, then you don't even give us a decent chance to LIVE, much less to ENJOY life!

"That's why we infants had to organize." "The foregoing is not fiction. It is a bona-fide interview with one of the most advanced thinkers in babyhood!

He is Bobbie Chase, 8 months of age, and president of the International Babies' union. Of the recent developments in unionism—actors' unions, authors' unions—this babies' union is the most significant.

Sons and daughters of Boston organized it. Robert Stuart Chase, son of Stuart and Mrs. Chase, leaders in the society, was elected president; Jaqueline Coryell, who can dance and talk at 13 months of age, secretary.

The most logical organization in the world to take part in the nation's summer baby saving campaign is this International Babies' union and the union has taken a determined stand.

HERE'S PLATFORM OF BABIES' UNION

"Babies are the most important things in the world.

"Only by bringing up babies better can you make the world better. All progress depends on babies, for the babies of today will constitute the population of all your cities in 1940.

"And yet you spend more money and time to keep your cattle and hogs and food crops healthy than you do to give babies the pure milk and fresh air babies need for health!

"Society must eliminate poverty and fear of want. In the bunkers of the Good Ship Earth there is more than enough to go round, but the problem is how to distribute it.

"Take the case of little John Jacob Astor, whose mother told the surrogate court she needed $27,593 a year for his expenses, and compare it with the case of poor babies who can't have more than $60 or $70 a year spent on them.

"If those poor babies are to have the rights to life, health and happiness that our union was organized to fight for, and that more fortunate babies have in profusion, society has got to step in and help them.

"Babies perish by hundreds every year in every city, simply because they are jammed into oven-like slums and don't have pure, cold milk and healthful surroundings!"

Irish Gain Near Loos

LONDON, July 12.—A party of Irish fusiliers today penetrated German trenches and strongly fortified positions southeast of Loos. They remained 20 minutes, killing many Germans and retreating with slight losses.

Since the beginning of the offensive the allies' heavy artillery has completely pierced the German lines in several points.

Gen. Haig reported the Germans are being heavily reinforced.

SEATTLE, July 12.—A negro strikebreaker was severely beaten and stabbed last night by strikers, who stopped a car running past their hall and took him off.

THE SEAFORTH HIGHLANDERS SUCCESSFULLY RAIDED A HOHENZOLLERN REDOUT TWO MILES SOUTH OF LOOS, FORCING A PORTION OF THE GERMAN TRENCHES AND KILLING MANY OF THE ENEMY.

ROLLER ON TIME

PARIS, July 12.—The allies' steam roller is moving eastward through the German lines exactly on schedule time.

The highest French military authorities declared today that the offensive is proceeding with the mathematical exactness originally planned.

It is admitted frankly that the allies have copied from the German attack on Verdun, smashing their way through the lines purely with heavy artillery and trench mortars. It is declared, however, that while the Germans were unable to keep up their maximum progress after the first onslaught the allies are making continued progress.

Since the beginning of the offensive the allies' heavy artillery has completely pierced the German lines in several points.

LONDON, July 12.—An enemy submarine last night bombarded Seaham harbor, Durham, killing one woman, the war office announced today.

Babson In Nicaragua

BY ROGER BABSON

MANAGUA, Nicaragua. — Thrown upon the world like a destitute child without government, commerce or industry, following 30 years of revolution that ended in 1856, Nicaragua has accomplished things in the last 60 years which call for the respect of all nations!

Nicaragua's real history dates from 1524 when Cortez and his men came from Mexico and killed the Indians of Central America. For 300 years after that the country suffered under Spanish rule. The yoke was thrown off in 1821, and in the same year internal revolutions began.

In the minds of Nicaraguans of today, however, the real history of the country began in 1855 when William Walker of California, after making an alliance with Castellon, the last of the revolutionary leaders of that period, raised an "army" in the United States and continued the revolution in Nicaragua, finally overthrowing the constitutional government.

In 1856 Walker proclaimed himself president and was recognized by the United States.

Walker's "army" numbered less than 100 men. With this number to start he won over many natives and experienced little difficulty in defeating the regular army which numbered less than 1000.

"If 100 men from the United States could do this, what would 100,000,000 of them do?" the Nicaraguan asks himself when we talk Pan-Americanism.

Walker ruled with an iron hand. He took away from the rich Nicaraguans their farms and houses, giving them to his men and the natives who had joined under his command.

He re-established slavery—an act which Nicaraguans will never forget.

But it was this despicable action that led to Walker's downfall. The people of Nicaragua appealed to Europe for help. England, France and Spain protested to Washington and sent gunboats to Nicaragua. Even Brazil, Chile and Peru sent arms and money to help Nicaragua.

The information was contained in a message from Gen. Garcia.

Walker surrendered in May, 1857, and sailed for the United States. He raised another army and sailed again to recapture Central America.

The wise, conservative element in the United States waked up about this time and Walker was brought back to New Orleans under arrest.

Walker was not convicted, however, and was on his way to Nicaragua a third time when his ship was wrecked and he was obliged to return to the United States.

Even then he was undaunted. In 1860 he organized a fourth expedition. But he made the mistake of stopping at Honduras, which was under British control. In response to an appeal from the Central American people he was arrested, tried and shot by order of the Honduras government.

Is it any wonder the English are today more loved in Central America than are people of the United States?

EL PASO, July 11.—Villistas were repulsed with heavy losses in an attack on the Carranza garrison at Parral, Gen. Gonzales announced this afternoon.
