Prosecuting Attorney Hudspeth declares every railroad flagrantly violating the laws regulating storage of high explosives.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Officials of the Lehigh Valley Railway and of the National Storage Co. say reports to them today indicate that the explosions of munitions stored in Black Tom Island, a small strip of land jutting into New York bay off Jersey City, at 8 minutes after 2 o'clock Sunday morning, were caused by a fire which started shortly after 1 o'clock on a barge belonging to an independent towing company.

The barge had been moored alongside a dock used by the railroad company in transferring the munitions from trains to vessels.

The barge, it is said, was there without authority from either the railroad or the storage company.

Its name has not been given out, as investigations are under way to ascertain whether the fire was accidental or "the result of a plot."

Warrants charging manslaughter were issued late Sunday evening for Albert M. Dickman, agent for the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co., Theodore B. Johnson, of the Johnson Lighterage & Towing Co., and Alexander Davidson, superintendent of the National Storage Co.

They are accused of having illegally permitted explosives to be stored where human life would be endangered.

Their cases have been postponed until Friday and they are at liberty on $5,000 bail.

Following is a graphic account of a man who lived through the explosion:

BY HERBERT A. DELIMA.
JERSEY CITY, July 31.—I was jarred from bed by a titanic burst Sunday morning.

My first drowsy thought was, "An earthquake!"

Thousands fled into the street in their nightclothes, and remained until dawn, expecting the buildings to collapse.

Lights went out, many clocks and watches stopped, doors crashed inward, roofs were ripped off, brick chimneys fell, flashes as if of lightning shot 100 feet skyward, and the flames rose to the zenith.

Roosters began to crow; ambulances and fire engines clanged past.

Crash Upon Crash.
Suddenly the entire world seemed split open. My ear drums almost broke. A pillar of flame shot skyward, with a huge smoke ring whirling above, which assumed a mushroom shape.

Unions Consider Strike Situation

An appeal for organized labor to stand together in a fight against the so-called "open shop" agitation was made by speakers at the public mass meeting at Wright park Sunday afternoon. Nearly 1,000 men, women and children attended.

The menace to the unions of the present "open shop" campaign was pointed out by organized labor leaders.

Rea Last, secretary of the Tacoma Central Labor Council, who presided, declared that the purpose of the meeting was to give the public a clear-cut idea of the labor situation attending the strike of the longshoremen.

Tells of Shipping Profits.
A history of the Tacoma union of longshoremen, and the improvement in working conditions which it has brought about was given by W. E. Morris, representing the lumber-handlers.

The work of the longshoremen was also explained by J. Taylor, member of the union executive board for this district, who told of big profits in shipping which have led the union to demand increased wages.

backing the longshoremen morally and financially was the statement of Ernest Newsham, vice president of District 10, United Mine Workers.

David Irwin, international organizer for the United Mine Workers, denounced the courts, saying there was no justice in them for the laboring man.

Homer Bone of Tacoma, the last speaker, pointed to the long fight before organized labor on the coast, urged collective action in casting the ballot in the coming election of county, state and national officers.

JUSTICES ENTITLED TO 4-YEAR TERMS

A decision of the state supreme court Saturday, in a King county case, is believed to defeat the filing of three Pierce county men, C. L. Westcott, R. G. Hoge and F. A. Magill, for justice of the peace. The decision holds that justices are entitled to four-year terms.

Like War Scene.
The bombardment started from the harbor. There were continuous heavy explosions, and many smaller ones.

Nurses who were rushed to the scene kept their heads and worked coolly, carrying the policemen who had been injured from the houses.

When day came, the ground for miles around resembled the war correspondents' descriptions of ruined fortresses.

Twisted steel bars weighing 15 pounds were found three miles from the scene.

Dems Bid For Good-Will of Progressives

NEW YORK, July 31.—Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, has given out the following statement:

"The democratic party can reasonably put itself forward in the present national campaign as the one available instrumentality for progressive service. Its record of performance and its declared intentions justify a confident feeling that the great body of voters who identified themselves with the progressive party in the hope of being enabled to promote a definite set of principles will now look to the democratic party as the party of progress. When there is full appreciation of the extent to which the democratic party has consummated the purposes set forth in that wonderfully human document adopted as the progressive platform in 1912, when the progressives actually realize how closely their purposes, declared in 1912, coincide with the purpose which have animated the democratic party since that time both in the formulation of the
