BONNER SHOWS SOME BETTER

Al Bonner showed considerably more class at Vancouver yesterday than he did in Tacoma Sunday. At that, Tacoma's three runs and Vancouver's one tally were not earned, and Bonner is really not entitled to a victory.

Errors by Bohne and Leard in the fourth gave Vancouver a run. The Tigers played runless until the seventh, when three of them managed to circle the bags on two errors and a couple of infield hits.

Half of the Vancouver crowd walked out of the park in the middle of the game to show their disgust for the work of Umpire Howell. Tacoma fans who watched Howell's work last week thought that he was using good judgment.

Eddie Fries played left field, and Joe Connolly, former City leaguer, worked in the right garden. This is because Martin Killay, who joined the Tigers to replace Wolfer, a 300 hitter, had been going badly with the stick and was released Sunday night. Connolly is a good young player, and may stick with the Tigers until the end of the season.

Al ("Babe") Hartman was also dropped by Hall, after Rickey Williams had been signed. Hartman has a world of speed and lots of control, but he is weak in the pinches, and needs more professional society before he will steady himself. Although he was loaned to Tacoma by McCredie of the Portland Beavers, Portland now doesn't want him. Babe may sign on with a Tacoma semi-pro team for the remainder of the season.

PLAN MATCHES FOR NEW MEADOW PARK GOLF CLUB

The committee is composed of Duke Campbell, chairman; T. A. Burditt and Ross V. Palmer.

DAILY CHATS WITH FAMOUS BALLPLAYERS

HI JASPER, ST. LOUIS CARDINALS: "Talking about superstitions players reminds me of Slim Sallee's notions along these lines. Sal's pet superstition is that it's bad luck for him to warm up with any catcher but the one who is to work in the game with him.

"If the playing backstop has batted last and has put on his shin-guards and armor before warming up, Sal will never throw a ball to the plate to any man who may come out of the dugout with a mitt. He will throw either to the first or third baseman.

"When Steve Evans played with the Cards he tried to josh Sal out of these notions but was unsuccessful."

CITY IN GRIP OF TENNIS

Tennis is the prevailing sport in Tacoma this week. More persons have been attracted by the Northwest championship tournament, being played at the Tacoma Lawn Tennis club course, than in any recent years, and interest is keen in the event.

Yesterday's matches were of a preliminary nature. Elimination matches will continue until Thursday, when the more experienced players will come together. John Strachan, San Francisco wonder, is scheduled to meet C. Pessemier, one of the Tacoma stars, today.

There are a total of 40 matches on today's program, including men's and women's singles and doubles. Drawings for the mixed doubles will be made tonight.

JAP PLAYER NEARLY GETS INTO FINALS

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—Putting up a game exhibition, despite the intense heat, I. Kumagae, the Japanese champion, nearly won a place into the finals of the Longwood tennis tournament yesterday. He was defeated by J. J. Armstrong of Philadelphia, 6-3, 7-5, 7-5, in one of the stiffest contests here this summer.

RACE CAR MAKES 100 MILES PER HOUR IN TESTS

Barney Oldfield, known under the A. A. A. ruling as the "Master Driver of the World" is expected to arrive in Tacoma from Los Angeles tonight. Oldfield will arrive a day ahead of his DeLage racing car, but has announced that his car is in shape to take the track as soon as it arrives in the city.

Oldfield has earned his sobriquet by winning in more kinds of races than any other man in the racing game. His showing last season here was a disappointment, but he raced in a borrowed Peugeot car that proved unable to go through the race at anything like its normal speed because of engine trouble.

"I am going to show the fans in the Pacific Northwest that I can race," Oldfield has written to friends in Tacoma, "and at the same time I am out for a large slice of the prize money that will be given for those who finish out in front. This new DeLage car I have is the fastest thing on four wheels and I am going to wear lead boots throughout the race and have my foot on the throttle from start to finish."

Oldfield will have a battle on his hands. Everyone knows what De Palma can do and he and his Mercedes car are ready for the test. Eddie Rickenbacher yesterday spun around the saucer hovering around the 100 miles per hour mark for three laps and the rail birds that clocked his performance had a wise look as they watched their stop watches while he buzzed by. "Lead Foot" DeAlene had his Dusenbergs out for the first time and it ripped around the track at better than 90 miles per hour, with DeAlene coasting on the curves.

Practically every driver entered in the races will be on the track this afternoon and the racers should have a chance to show each other what will be staged during the race itself. Of course the long grind will not be staged in the practice, but before Thursday night there will not be a crew in town but what will have a pretty good idea of what the various cars can be expected to do.

August Dusenbergs, designer of the Dusenbergs racing cars, is one of the new comers in the racing camp. He will be consulting engineer of the Dusenbergs team and will have charge of the pits for DeAlene and Milton during the races.

THIRTY-TWO TIGER PLAYERS HAVE HIT BALL DURING PAST SEASON FOR AVERAGE OF .271

Russ Hall, manager of the Tacoma Tigers, has probably used more players during the present season than any other team manager in the Northwestern league.

Records show that he has played 32 different men since the season opened in the Stadium April 28. With a player limit of 14, he has kept the Tiger manager on the jump hiring and firing men.

The 32 men who have played on the Tiger team this year batted for an average of .271, which is considered far above the average. There have been 894 hits in 3,297 times at bat.

Following are statistics showing the batting averages of all Tiger players, and the pitching records: Batting averages to date of present Tiger team:

GILHOOLEY IS ORIGINAL HARD LUCK BALL PLAYER

man of the first-place Broadway contingent seemed on the road to his first success in three trials with major league society misfortune overtook him. Sliding to third base in a game at Washington, the midget right fielder broke a small bone in his leg and according to Manager Donovan will probably be out of the lineup six weeks.

Turned back by the Cardinals in 1912 and by the Yankees in 1914, Gilhooley came back to make his third fight for a big league berth when the Gothamites went south last spring. In certain quarters it was freely predicted that the Irish lad, though a corking minor leaguer, wouldn't make good in the exclusive set.

How Gilhooley silenced his critics is a matter of much ribald comment. Instead of fizzling again he has developed into the best lead-off man in the junior circuit.

Gilhooley might have passed the summer a bench warmer but for the injury to Fritz Maisel who broke his collar bone May 15. Entering the lineup that day the former International leaguer proceeded to shine with pronounced luster and in addition to getting on bases oftener than any of his

Scene From Famous Baby Film

One of the big scenes from the much talked-of drama, "Where Are My Children?" at the Apollo this week.

Just picture in your mind if possible a court room filled with people—a prominent physician being tried for baby murder—the trial over and the judge pronouncing sentence of 15 years as punishment. Picture the rage of the doctor about to be carried back to his cell, as he shrieks "Look to your own home" to the district attorney who is stunned by the blow of the accusation of his own wife. This and scores of other scenes you'll see in "Where Are My Children?" at the Apollo.

Africanders To Present New Program

Those who have already seen the performance of Reese Brothers' Africanders at the Hippodrome theater this week will readily see that a minstrel show given by the same company will be a thoroughly enjoyable feature. Such an act is scheduled for the last half of the week, beginning with the new bill tomorrow. There will also be a complete change of photoplay program, the Forrest Taylor picture closing tonight.

Tacoma Made Film Returns

Following the Charlie Chaplin film at the Melbourne this week will come "Go-Glo-Hi-Te" the made-in-Tacoma motion picture for a return engagement. This film will be the feature of the bill opening at the Melbourne Thursday.

Riot Scene Is Thriller

A riot rarely equaled in film history is seen in Triangle's new Charles Ray play, "The Deserter," at the Regent, in which a horde of gamblers and hangers-on at a dive near an army post "mix it" with a somewhat inferior number of soldiers who come to the rescue of Ray when he gets into a fight with a gambler.

Has Role as "Miss Nobody"

Excellent acting by a small cast of carefully chosen principals makes "The Dupe," now being shown at the Colonial theater, one of the best pictures of the season. Blanche Sweet is featured as a little "Miss Nobody from Nowhere," and it is the best role she has had in months. Thomas Meighan is seen as the leading masculine character, a part which enables him to win the good graces of any audience.
