Dance Contest At Pantages

"Walkin' the Dog," quite the latest in the dance craze, will have its inking at the Pantages theater Friday night. It happens that Brooks and Brown, the blackface comedians on the bill this week, are the originators of the song and its accompanying dance, and tomorrow has been set aside for a contest and demonstration of the new dance. It will be a feature of the bill. The Pantages has an excellent bill this week. Brooks and Brown are a comedy riot. "The Divorce Question" is a dramatic playlet with a decided punch. It is a strong story on the divorce evil and is well acted by a company of five players.

SENATOR HAS KEPT PLEDGES

Realty Dealer Marlow, at Renton, during Senator Poindexter's visit there, the other day, dug up the card which bore Poindexter's pledges of six years ago.

Reference to those pledges shows how consistently Poindexter has adhered to those principles. They are as follows:

"The policies for the common good developed under Theodore Roosevelt, and bearing his name.

"The reorganization of the federal house and senate, so that both shall be responsive to public opinion, and no longer be dominated by privileged interests.

"Strong and effective control of railroads and the just regulation of their rates.

"A protective tariff, measured by the difference in the cost of production here and abroad.

"Federal conservation of natural resources.

"An issue of bonds for such amount as will enable the reclamation service to complete without delay the government irrigation projects now in process of construction.

"A liberal and practical policy of internal waterway improvement, and, if necessary, the issue of bonds for that work.

"A limitation which will end child slavery in the factories, mines and sweatshops of the land.

"The proposed amendment of the constitution, giving congress the power to tax incomes."

Morgan & Co., of an aggregate value of at least $300,000,000, calculated on the basis of prevailing market prices, sterling securities being valued in dollars at the prevailing rate of exchange, viz:

Stocks, bonds and/or other securities of corporations organized in the United States, value $100,000,000; bonds and/or other obligations of the government of the Dominion of Canada, either as maker or guarantor, and stocks, bonds and/or other securities of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, $100,000,000; bonds and/or other obligations of the several following governments, either as maker or guarantor, viz., of Argentina, Chile, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland and/or Holland, $100,000,000.

The government is to reserve the right from time to time to sell for cash any of the pledged securities, in which event the proceeds of sale are to be received by the trust company and applied to the retirement of notes by purchase, if obtainable at prices not exceeding the then redemption price, and otherwise by redemption by lot at the redemption price. The government is to reserve the right also to make substitutions of securities, but such substitutions are not to vary the relative amounts in value of the above-indicated three several groups of securities at the time held by the trust company.
