Find "Doctor" Guilty of Betraying Tacoma Bride

STRONGER CHARGE IS PROBABLE

(United Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, Sept. 12.—A new charge will be filed against "Dr." Percival Allen, Prosecutor Alfred Lundin said today, if it can be ascertained that strychnine, said to have been found in the body of Miss Anna M. Danielson was administered prior to her death here last July. Lundin said there was a bare possibility that the fluid used to embalm Miss Danielson's body might have contained a quantity of the poison. Word that a chemical analysis conducted by Dean Frankforter, of the University of Minnesota, had disclosed the presence of strychnine was received in a telegram from Minneapolis by Lieut. Wilnot A. Danielson, the dead girl's brother yesterday, within a few hours of the time a verdict had been returned in superior court here declaring "Dr." Allen guilty of a statutory charge in which Miss Danielson was his victim. According to facts revealed at the trial of Allen Monday, the "doctor" who claims to be an osteopath, came here with Danielson in June from San Francisco. They occupied the same apartment. On July 5 they went to Tacoma and obtained a marriage license. Without a wedding ceremony being performed, they returned here and took apartments together. Miss Danielson became ill. She died on July 15. After her death the physician who had been hurriedly summoned refused to sign a death certificate.

G. O. P. CARRIES MAINE BY REDUCED MAJORITY

ELECTION AT A GLANCE
On the face of returns from almost all of the voting precincts, the republicans made a clean sweep. Frederick Hale (republican) has a plurality which will probably reach 9,500 over Senator Charles F. Johnson (democrat) for the long term in the senate. Bert M. Fernald (republican) will probably have a plurality over Kenneth C. M. Sills of 13,000 for the short senatorial term. Carl E. Milliken (republican) is elected governor by 13,000. All four republican congressional nominees elected, according to present returns, although the vote in the second district is exceedingly close. Biggest vote recorded in Maine's political history for 36 years, running considerably above 148,000. Republican majority less than republicans had hoped.

(United Press Leased Wire.) AUGUSTA, Maine, Sept. 12.—Return of progressives to the republican fold will make the G. O. P. majority in Maine's election yesterday over 12,000, practically complete returns today showed. The reunited party made a clean sweep of it—gubernatorial, senatorial and congressional. It increased republican strength in the state legislature. The republicans claim that practically 100 per cent of the Bull Moose returned to the old party.

On National Issues.
The republican victory was made impressive in the fact that their fight and the democratic defeat.

NAME OF WILSON ON BALLOT WOULD ADD 10,000 VOTES

(United Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Chairman McCormack, of the democratic national committee, today said: "You must remember the Maine election was local. President Wilson's name was not on the ballot. I am sure that if it had been, the democratic party would have polled 10,000 more votes."

M'NEELY NOT IN A HARTLEY COMBINE

F. D. Hill, of the McNeely campaign committee, issued the following statement Tuesday: "It has come to our attention that cards are being circulated in Tacoma urging the electors to 'Vote for McNeely and Hartley.' We wish to say that Mr. McNeely has no combination with anyone, and is on no slate with any other candidate."

HUMPHREY TRIED TO GET TEA OFFICE

Frank C. Ross came in today to remind us that it was Congressman Humphrey who, only about a year ago, was engaged in trying to move Tacoma's federal tea testing office to Seattle.

fense was waged exclusively on national issues. Headquarters for both parties here tabulated figures showing that the majority attained by the republican gubernatorial nominee, Carl E. Milliken, was 13,400 ahead of Governor Curtis. Col. Fred Hale, who opposed probably the strongest democratic candidate in the state—Senator

HE SHOWS UP G.O.P. 'BOARD OF CENSORS'

Millard T. Hartson, chairman of the republican state central committee, recently sent a letter to Lorenzo Dow of Tacoma, asking Dow whether it would not be a good idea to get the names of former progressives who are now republicans, as an offset to those names now being used by the democrats with such telling effect. Dow drove home a reply Tuesday. It may make Mr. Hartson sit up and take notice. "I quite agree with you that such a course would redound to the benefit of the republican party, and I will take the matter an endeavor to secure for you such a list," says the reply to Hartson. "The great difficulty has been that every time a progressive has shown his head, your organization has endeavored to squelch him because he had been a progressive. Perhaps the most conspicuous example of the above method of attack was and is the treatment accorded to Senator Miles Poindexter. Your organization has throughout the length and breadth of this state for a long period of time, and in a systematic manner, belittled and misrepresented the men who can do more than anyone else to put the state of Washington in the republican column. "In other words, your machine used the same tactics that were used in California to defeat Gov. Johnson. And now that he has won out, influential republicans throughout the east are clamoring for him to come and help save your doubtful states. "I am willing to do all I can in my humble way to bring into the republican party all former progressives possible, but when they do come back I want to know that they are going to be treated fairly. "Since when has a board of censors been established to say who shall belong to the republican party?"

Three Charivaris In An Evening For McGregors

Supt. of Streets and Bridges H. J. McGregor was married a few days ago. About 8:30 Monday evening, the peace and quiet of Mr. and Mrs. McGregor's new home, 3314 18th street, were shattered by what sounded like a polite form of the old-fashioned charivari. Investigation led to the recognition of a number of relatives of the pair, who were gathered round the house. They were bribed to silence by being invited inside to play cards and have supper.

THE OLD STRAW HAT GOES THE WAY OF ALL FLESH

By A. STRAW.
I pen these few words sitting within the shadow of the gallows. Soon, oh, soon, I am to die! Have you ever been condemned to die, gentle reader? If so, you know my feelings. I urgently request everyone to take warning by my example. Let it not be said that I went to my death without endeavoring, at least, to make life easier for some other, who, but for the lesson learned from my downfall, might have met a similar fate! Once I was young, gay and innocent. Also, I was fairly high priced. Originally I cost $3.50. And I was worth it. I will pardon this seeming conceit, but I repeat it—I was well worth the price. Yet on that never-to-be-forgotten day when I was bought and paid for, when I lit comfortably but firmly upon the noble head that was to be my home—on that day I was a trim, light and beautiful-to-look-at thing. And he loved me. Zounds, how that man loved me! His "lid"

ZAIMIS CABINET RESIGNS

(United Press Leased Wire.) ATHENS, Sept. 1.—Premier Zaimis has submitted the resignation of the Greek cabinet, it was officially announced today. The prime minister said various incidents of an international character have prevented him from dealing satisfactorily with the external situation. King Constantine is making every effort to persuade him to reconsider.

GREECE NEARER WAR

(United Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Sept. 12.—Greece moved nearer to war today with the beginning of the allied offensive in the Balkans. Despatches from the Greek capital said the capture of four villages by the British and the defeat of the Bulgars on both wings have created a profound sensation. The Vienna Arbitrator Zeitung warns its readers that ex-Premier Venizelos, leader of the pro-ally party, probably will become Greek minister of war, and that Greece will at once make ready to join the allies. Despatches from Berlin said that the attitude of Greece is being discussed by the kaiser and the Bulgarian king and crown prince at the kaiser's headquarters.

Talk o' the Times

Greetings, have you told your wife how to vote?

From an advertisement labelled, "This ad is paid for by former students of Dr. Bryan," we call this interesting, if ungrammatical information: "I stands for Peace, but Poindexter don't. "I stands for Harmony, but Humphrey don't." Why do they take that underhand way of ridiculing an educator?

With the Bear on the rocks and the Beaver catching fire at sea, these be strenuous days for the menagerie ships.

A MARRIED MAN SELDOM GETS THE LAST WORD, BECAUSE OF HIS INABILITY TO REMAIN AWAKE.

FAWCETT SAYS HE WILL LEAD BY 5000
"I predict that I will carry the district with at least 5,000 majority."

This was the confident statement Tuesday of Mayor A. V. Fawcett, candidate for congressman. "I am sure of a majority of the votes in Tacoma, and all reports indicate a good lead in other parts of the district," said Fawcett, who has been made this week, but the commissioner has refused to accept any compromise, according to members of the council Tuesday.

The board of strategy is the kind you get at—well, we won't be too specific, but at a certain Tacoma avenue boarding house.

A Tacoma paper which considered it necessary this morning to plead on page one that the election of Humphrey is "Western Washington's Opportunity," will be remembered as the same paper which, two years ago, supported North Yakima Jones against a Western Washington man.

The main conclusion to be drawn from the Maine election is that there isn't any.

Any kind of weather the weather man hands out to Puyallup this week will be fair weather. The only question is whether it will be bad fair weather or good fair weather.

DRAKE MATTER TO COME TO HEAD NOW

Members of Tacoma's city commission will vote Wednesday morning on the question of impeaching Commissioner James C. Drake. During the past week all commissioners have studied the transcript of testimony. Efforts to induce Drake to agree to accept some other commission than that of light and water have been made this week, but the commissioner has refused to accept any compromise, according to members of the council Tuesday.

POINDEXTER EXPECTED TO WIN EASILY

When the polls opened at 11 a. m. Tuesday, everything pointed to the most non-partisan primaries in the history of Washington voting. Interest in returning Miles Poindexter to the United States senate by an overwhelming majority, and in putting forward a people's governor, led to predictions everywhere that a heavy vote will be cast, and that a big proportion of this vote will be rolled up on the republican primary ballot. Progressive democrats in Tacoma and throughout the state, confident that the showing made by their party in the primaries will have little effect in the election of President Wilson in November, discarded party lines for the day and cast their vote for the state representative in Washington who has not let party lines stand in the way of supporting beneficial measures of the administration.

All a Bluff.
Progressives who have not returned to the republican fold also forgot old differences to aid in the downfall of mileage-grabbing Humphrey.

Because the polls did not open until late in the morning, it was expected that most of the voting would be done this evening, after business hours.

Voting started out light during the mid-day hours. Although republican bosses had sent out veiled threats that voters from other parties calling for the republican primary ballot would be challenged, there were no attempts to carry out the threat up to this afternoon. County Auditor Morris declared emphatically that such attempted challenges, if they should be made, could not stick.

It was generally predicted that Poindexter would get better than 50 per cent of the first choice votes in Pierce county.

The horizon is dark for Will E. Humphrey. With the bluffs called at every turn, his chances have been diminishing ever since the day he started on his state-wide attack on Senator Poindexter.

The last bolt that put the crimps into whatever hopes he had was the exposure this week of his raw piece of grafting in connection with the franking privilege and the fake speeches "in congress" sent broadcast by him as campaign material at the expense of the government.

Almost equal in interest to the senatorial vote was the race for the republican nomination for governor. The fight to put McBride at the top, as the most progressive of the candidates, with Arthur W. Davis for lieutenant governor, met with a popular appeal and aided further in smashing strict party lines.

On the non-partisan judiciary ballot there were three candidates for supreme court judges to be chosen out of seven in the running. Also four superior court judges from a field of 14 candidates.

One Scrap Close.
It looks as if the race between Mayor Fawcett and Albert Johnson for the nomination for congress, would be one of the closest fights of the day. Charges by Fawcett at the close of the campaign that Johnson has been standing idly by while Seattle has been dipping into the pie added zest to the fight.

The polls will close at 8 o'clock tonight. Election officials have been urged by the county auditor to send in returns from their precincts at the earliest possible moment.
