BOOZE SYNDICATE "SPOTTED"

TACOMA GIRL STABBED BY HER AGED FATHER

CHURCH WILL DISCUSS PLAN TO "BOIL DOWN" TEN COMMANDMENTS

How the Ten Commandments Look Boiled Down Thou shalt have no other God before me. Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image. Thou shalt not idly utter the name Jahveh thy God. Thou shalt remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Thou shalt honor thy father and thy mother. Thou shalt not murder. Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house. Now get out your Bible and see how God handed down the ten commandments to Moses.

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—SHALL THE TEN COMMANDMENTS BE BOILED DOWN? Shall the words of God, which were written on tables of stone when the great prophet Moses was living, thousands of years ago—and which have guided man through all ages—NOW be made to conform with "modern" ideas? For THIS is exactly what faces the religious people of America today! In St. Louis, next month, the convention of the Protestant Episcopal church is going to consider a proposal to REVISE the commandments! And, from present reports, it is likely that the proposal will carry, despite the opposition already encountered in many quarters to what is being termed by many as "a sacrilegious proceeding." But the Episcopalian clergy view this matter of boiling down God's ten commandments in a very different, in fact in a very matter-of-fact, light! Rev. Herbert M. Denslow, rector of note and professor of pastoral theology at the General Theological seminary, presents these as the generally accepted arguments FOR the "revision."

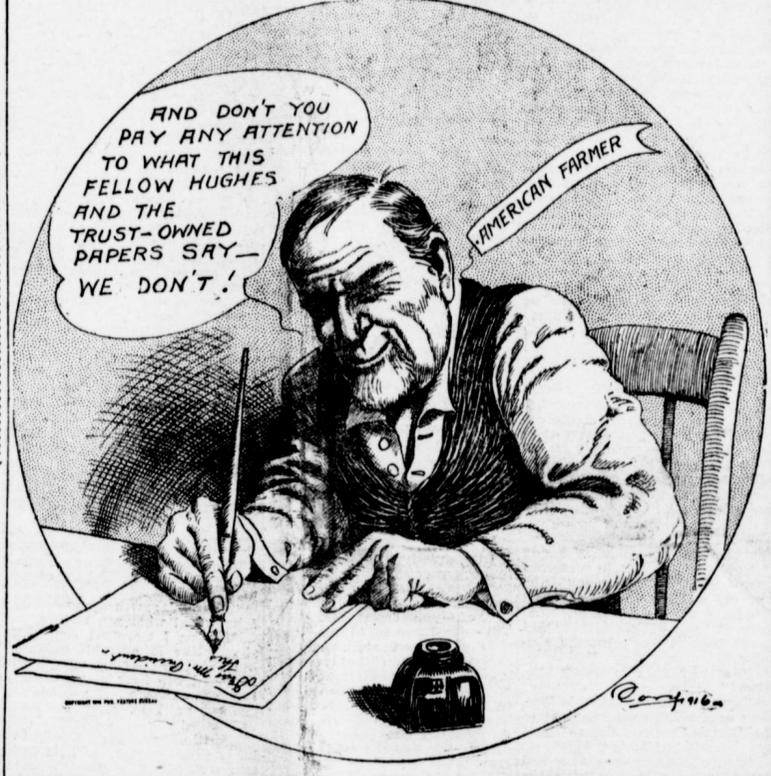

DELEGATION IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PLAN TO ABOLISH 'RAINIER'

Letters from Pierce county legislators and candidates, promising support of the joint memorial to Washington authorities, to be introduced in the state senate by Walter S. Davis and in the house by J. H. Davis, asking that the real name of the mountain be officially restored, continue to arrive at the Times office. Hold-over Senator Ralph Metcalf writes: Proposes Seattle Join. "There is no question in my mind that the proper name of the mountain, that is, the Indian name, should be restored officially by the same authority that officially blotted it. I will as a matter of course support a memorial to this effect at the coming session of the legislature."

TROOPS ON THE MARCH

With all preparations moving according to schedule, the greatest military exhibition ever held in the state is already under way, and assured of tremendous success. The troops at American lake put in the morning getting ready, and took the train for the city shortly after noon. The street parade started about 1:30, from the Union station. The gates of the Stadium were open at 1 o'clock, and the program will begin at 3 o'clock. The program will occupy about two hours. At its close the soldiers will be served with dinner at the Armory by Tacoma women, and a military ball will be held in the evening.

"WRITING TO THE PRESIDENT"

PICK DEM LEADERS

(Special to The Times.) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, today announced the appointment of the following Woodrow Wilson campaign committee for the state of Washington: Edgar C. Snyder, W. H. Gorham, Judge Richard Winsor, William A. Toner, Evan S. Stallcup and George E. Ryan. Stallcup is the Tacoma member of the committee. He is an attorney. It is considered significant that first place on the committee is given to Edgar C. Snyder of Seattle, until recently state chairman of the progressives. Winsor has been a socialist leader.

GREECE AGAIN ON THE BRINK OF WAR

(United Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Sept. 27.—A wireless dispatch from Rome this morning reported that the Greek cabinet has decided to resign and that the king will issue a proclamation immediately afterward. This report, though unconfirmed, was accepted as further indication that Greece may be preparing for an early declaration of war.

Owl Throws City In Dark

LANCASTER, Wis., Sept. 27.—A break in the circuit supplying electric current put the cities of Lancaster, Fenimore and Boscobel into darkness. When the trouble man reached the test box east of this city he discovered the source within the three-mile radius to consist of a monster owl hanging on the wire where it dropped after "kicking" out the breaker.

LOCATE SHIPPERS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Federal officers in Tacoma Wednesday are closing in on the extensive booze syndicate whose scheme to ship large quantities of liquor into Pierce county was nipped in the seizure of 3,000 quart bottles of whisky at Wilkeson Monday. U. S. internal revenue officers, acting on information from the Tacoma office, have the alleged shippers under surveillance in San Francisco. At the same time Assistant U. S. District Attorney George B. Fishburne announces that vigorous prosecutions probably will be forthcoming under the law which prohibits the mislabeling of alcoholics, and under the Webb-Venyon act which prohibits the shipment of booze into a dry state. The fact that the carload of whisky shipped to Wilkeson was labeled "grapes" is in itself sufficient evidence for prosecution. In running down the booze syndicate, Fishburne is co-operating with U. S. District Attorney Clay Allen of Seattle, where large shipments from California are known to have been received. "The Wilkeson shipment is the largest that we have had to deal with," said Fishburne Wednesday. In previous cases it has been very hard to learn the identity of the California shippers; but in this case the evidence is more conclusive who the violators are. Collector of Internal Revenue Woods is working on the investigation from the Tacoma end, and declares the government expects to call a halt to the sending of liquor into this state. The violators may be punished by a fine of $5,000. Authorities have evidence that Wilkeson is not the only town that has been getting carloads of "grapes." Records of the Northern Pacific show that two cars of the "fruit" passed through Tacoma consigned to Roslyn and Cle Elum, in Kittitas county, within the last two weeks.

NELL PICKERELL DYING

(United Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—Hot words led to a quarrel, and the quarrel to blows, which suddenly ended when Robert Pickerell, 79 years old, stabbed his daughter, Nell Pickerell, in the lungs at their home here last night. City hospital attendants said today there was small chance for the girl's recovery. The stories of the two, told to the police, differ. The old man said he was in bed, but kept a knife under his pillow and fought in self protection when the girl struck him in the mouth. The daughter told the police he fought when she told him to keep quiet. Nell Pickerell has been a police character, known as "Harry Livingston," for a number of years in Tacoma. (Continued on Page Eight.)

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE FIZZLE

(United Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Labor unions in New York today were standing by contracts they have with employers and there was little response to the call for a general walk-out in sympathy with the striking employees of the traction lines. Police reports up to 11 o'clock accounted for only one local, connected with the painters' union, going out as an actual step in the sympathetic movement. Probably 200,000 union workers remained away from work today, but a majority of them would not have reported had there been no strike call, being Jewish and observing the annual holiday of their faith. The longshoremen, stevedores and other workers who were expected to be among the first to respond, reported as usual. All indications were that unions having contracts were showing little sentiment in favor of a strike. The labor leaders expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the situation, but would make no estimate of the number on strike, or about to strike.

Talk o' the Times

Greetings, have you a little grape basket in your home? When Greek meets Greek they usually open a restaurant or a shine stand. We never could remember poetry and we haven't time to look it up, but for those who feel badly over the Wilkeson shipment incident we suggest a reading of Omar Khayyam. He made many remarks about "the grape" that we are sure would be delightfully pat. If a woman went down town with a cigaret in her mouth, stood around on the corners and squirted tobacco juice all over everything, swore every other breath, used foul language and swaggered around, she would soon be arrested. But a man can do it and get away with it. Why? Well, you know what kind of a —The Star (Va.) Enterprise.

How'd You Answer?

Cynthia Grey receives many matter-of-fact letters and many unusual letters. Here is one of the unusual type. She will answer it in her column tomorrow. She wants a day to think it over in. And isn't there plenty to think about in the case of this Milton woman? Dear Cynthia Grey: I want to come to you for advice. I am a divorced woman. My husband wanted his freedom and I gave it to him. Now other men make life a burden to me. I am frank spoken but I am an honest, good woman. I am willing to work hard for my living, all I ask is to be let alone. Is it possible that I will have to kill one of these brutes? I like to help the unfortunate, and for thanks I get insulted and am told that the person thought I was soliciting. Before I was divorced I followed the dictates of my own heart, but now I cannot. People tell me to meet other men and try to forget my trouble. Will you tell me how I am going to meet any when at every turn I am met with an insult? Perhaps the best way out would be to go to some man and sell myself to him for the protection of his name. You may publish this if you wish and my name also. I am not afraid to stand by what I have said. ANNA W. WOOD (Formerly DeVoe) Milton, Wash.

MAN WHO NAMED WILSON DEFEATED

(United Press Leased Wire.) TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 27.—John W. Westcott, who nominated President Wilson at the St. Louis convention and who is understood to have been the president's choice for democratic senatorial nomination, has been defeated by Senator James E. Marple. Incomplete returns today show.

INDIANS MAKE BIG PROFIT IN CATTLE

(United Press Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Indians on the Crow reservation, Mont., in the last 27 years have made a profit of $350,000 in cattle raising, said Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, who is here supervising the sale of 34 carloads of Crow cattle. He sold 15 carloads at Omaha Monday. The 15 carloads brought $87,993.42. TODAY'S CLEARINGS Clearings $ 312,466.38 Balances 72,832.36 Transportation 1,044,916.69

NEAR WAR IN GREECE

(United Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Sept. 27.—Wholesale desertions from the Greek army were reported in Athens dispatches today, hinting that a declaration of war may be expected at any time. Practically every garrison in Old Greece has joined the revolutionary movement, said one Athens dispatch, and the soldiers are leaving for Salonika. A large number of naval officers have left Piraeus, and the Greek cruiser Lonchi, reported to be under control of the revolutionists, slipped out of the harbor bound for either Crete or Salonika.
